THE SOUTHERN SERVES THE SOUTH

Making a freight car do a bigger day's work keeps rates down

Freight rates are much lower today in comparison with the prices of goods than before the war.

The large sums we have spent for improvements enable us, with the loyal cooperation of our employees, to haul heavier trains, with a larger load per car, and at a greater rate of speed.*

With the assistance of our shippers, we have also reduced delays in loading and unloading our freight cars.

All of these things help us to reduce our costs per unit of traffic, and this greater efficiency directly benefits our shippers through better service and moderate rates.

*The average freight trainload on the South ern in 1924 was 45% greater than in 1914.
