NEGRO FOUND GUILTY SECOND DEGREE MURDER

Judge Wm. S. Harding Presiding Over Two Weeks Term Superior Court Here

A verdict of second degree murder was returned by the jury against Daniel Perry, colored, in the shooting of Allen Brannon in the Texanna section of Murphy the latter part of October. Colcher Perry, another colored youth, tried for the same offense, was exonerated.

Sentence had not been imposed upon Perry early Thursday morning. Second degree murder carries a sentence of from two to thirty years.

Hon Wm. F. Harding is presiding over this term of Cherokee Superior Court. The criminal docket occupied the greater part of the first two days, the most important cases being those against the two Perrys, colored and W. G. Garrett, the defendants in both cases being charged with murder.

Garrett was tried at the last term of court on a sanity plea, the case at that time resulting in a mistrial. Garrett entered a plea of guilty of manslaughter at this term and drew sentence of fifteen years, with recommendation that he be assigned to the department for the criminal insane. He was charged with killing Gus McCurry.

CULLOWHEE ON ASH HIGHWAY

Cullowhee, November 3.—Cullowhee State Normal is on the Appalachian Scenic Highway. Although technically speaking the school is eight miles south of where the road passes through Sylva it is nevertheless taking membership in the great highway association and will, therefore, hereafter be recognized as identified with the highway movement. The name "Cullowhee" will be printed on maps as a point on the scenic route, and in front of the administration building of the school will soon be placed the regulation ASH Highway marker. Tourists desiring information concerning highways will find literature and maps at the school.

Last Thursday three representatives of the ASH, the head photographer, the field secretary, and the publicity director, spent several hours at Cullowhee and took over one hundred feet of movie film of the school, to be used as part of the great picture that is being prepared of important and interesting places along the highway. The pictures taken at Cullowhee include views of the students body in outdoor physical activities and in door scenes of the new Moore Dormitory for young women.

CULBERSON

Although we have a very small enrollment of boys from which to choose players for our basket ball team we believe that Culberson school will soon turn out the best bunch of players in the county. Last Friday afternoon a very interesting game was played by our boys against the bigger lads in the community. The school team carried off a wonderful victory with the score of 28 to 2. This week the boys are doing some intensive practice so we shall soon be ready to challenge any team in the county.

Miss Edna Hampton, of Snowhill, was a week-end visitor of Miss Leila Mason.

Mood Mull is back from Akron, Ohio.

Mr. J. W. Kilpatrick of Ranger was in Culberson on business last Saturday.

Hon. Thos. King visited Mr. August Davis Monday

Guy and Grace Hyatt who are attending school at Epworth, Ga., were at home for the week-end.

The followin gchildren have made a perfect record in attendance and punctuality and an average of 90 per cent on all subjects during the month

Bascom Lamar Lunsford, an attorney and entertainer from Asheville was in Murphy on Monday, and Mr. Bates, of the Bonita Theatre states that he is fortunate in making arrangement with Mr. Lunsford to appear before the Murphy people on the evening of November 16. Mr. Lunsford has been interested in the literary life of our Southern Appalachians for many years. His reputation as an entertainer is well known. Many will recall his stories entitled "Songs and Stories of the Appalachians," which appeared in several of the state papers. It is said that he has quite a large collection of folk songs and folk material.

BABE RUTH WINS NEW CHEVROLET

Babe Ruth not only won everlasting base ball renown with his trio of home run swats in the fourth game of the World Series played in St. Louis but he also won a Chevrolet.

One of the circuit crashed through the plate glass window of an automobile salesroom near the Cardinal park and bounded off the side of a Chevrolet coupe on display inside. In acknowledgement of his feat the Bambino was presented with the coupe. "Times have changed," said Ruth with a grin. "Some years ago it would have been a serious offense for any of us to break a window with a base ball. Now it brings a new automobile."

IN MEMORY OF THOS. PAYNE

How sad indeed it was to give up our dear father, although he had lived to the ripe old age of 81 years, 10 months and 20 days. We miss his presence so much. He was always cheerful and kind. The community has lost a man of great influence for good and the family, a kind and affectionate husband and father but we know our loss is Heaven's eternal gain and we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well. One who is too wise to err and too loving to be unkind.

"Blessed are they who die in the Lord for henceforth there is laid up for them a crown of righteousness, where there is no pain nor sorrow neither sickness nor death."

The funeral of dear father was held in the yard of his home among a host of relatives and friend who was saddened by his passing. Rev. W. A. Revis of Copper Hill, Tenn., conducted the funeral by paying high tribute to the deceased, speaking of his noble Christian character, his loyalty to his church and his fellowmen, then the remains were turned over to the Masonic Fraternity of which he was a loyal member. These services were conducted by Col. M. W. Bell, of Murphy, who paid loyal tribute to him a brother mason by saying many consoling things for the bereaved. Interment was in the family grave yard.

Thos. Payne was born and reared in Cherokee County, North Carolina. He was born October 17, 1844, died September 8, 1926. He went to Indiana when a about 18 years of age and remained there for a few years and there he met his wife, Margaret Gay and they were united in holy bonds of matrimony and lived together happily for 60 years, and there was born to their union eleven children, three of which preceded him to the great beyond, leaving a wife and three children and a number of grand and great grand children to mourn his death.

Just after his marriage he returned to his home in this county and remained here the rest of his life. Thou art gone, our precious father, Never more canst thou return Thou shalt sleep in peaceful slumber, Till the resurrection morn. Where we hope to be reunited once again, There to be with Jesus who for sinners came. Farewell dear father, we are coming to that Eternal home, where there will be no parting and where sorrow never comes.

Seventy Head of Fine Registered Jersey Cattle in Dairy Show

The competition was hard in all these classes and it upset the opinion of the owners very much ever about their own cattle.

The outstanding thing about the judging was this; in the mature cow class the two cows that stood at the head of the list was this, they were not four gallon cows or five gallon cows or three gallon cows, but they were Register of Merit cows. These cows had given seven thousand pounds of milk and over four hundred and fifty pounds of butter fat in one year, this is practically three gallons of milk for three hundred days in one year not five gallons per month, three gallons per month, two gallons per month and a gallon and one-half the rest of the milking period. They were consistent high producers. And in the herd class the Blue Ribbon Herd had the Mature Blue Ribbon Cow and under three year old Blue Ribbon cow, and the second in the Junior Yearling.

In the sixteen cows that were entered in the mature class they were the very best, eight of these were lined up as hard competition, any cow in this eight was a wonderful cow and worthy of praise. In line they were as follows: First to eighth, B. Neal Haigler, Andrew Padgett, Ed Mease, G. R. Ford, Andrew Padgett, Carmen Anderson, G. R. Ford and Ed Mease. All of these cows might have been changed under different milking periods as they would have shown up better under better conditions.

In loving memory of our dear husband and daddy W. D. Benderman, who died in Tampa, Florida, October 4, 1925.

"Oh for the touch of a vanished hand. For the sound of a voice that is still."
