

Plum Pudding for Christmas

"SUGAR and spice and everything nice" is what both little girls and plum puddings are made of. Also Jack Horner is reputed to have exulted mightily when he succeeded in pulling a plum out of his Christmas pudding. But the modern housewife can exult equally because she no longer has to spend weary hours preparing all the ingredients and then steaming to perfection a plum pudding that will make your mouth water.

They Come in Cans

Not only plum puddings in which Jack Horner could make a great reputation as a fisherman, but the puddings, rich and savory and named, both with and without meat, are now available, ready prepared, in cans. All the housewife has to do is to heat the can thoroughly in boiling water, twist the attached key for less than a minute, and there before her is an appetizing plum pudding, steaming hot. Every precaution has been taken by the canners not only to make the best plum pudding possible, but to make them easy for the housewife to open and serve. A herringbone scoring around the can guides the attached key where it ought to go and prevents it from breaking the tin strip when the top is twisted off.

Ready in a Trice

Thus the pudding comes out whole. Topped with whipped cream and docted with a sprig of holly, it is ready in a trice for the Christmas table, and the housewife has saved many hours of her time. These puddings are not only popular over here, but quantities of them are exported every Christmas to England, the plum pudding's native habitat.

REV. A. B. SMITH DIED ON FRIDAY

Rev. A. B. Smith, pastor of Hayesville Baptist church for a period of eight years, died at his home at Marble Friday morning, December 7th, after a short illness. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the Whitaker church near Andrews and interment was in the Whitaker cemetery by his wife who died last February.

The utilities of a city are combined in your motor car

YOUR automobile is something like a miniature city. There is an electric light and power system, a water system, a fuel system.

In the new Ford, you will find each of these systems of the latest design and best materials. Every part has been made to serve you faithfully and well at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Take, for example, the generator—one of the most important parts of the electrical system which supplies the current for lighting and for engine ignition.

In the new Ford, the generator is of the power-house type and is distinctive in many features. It has been specially designed to prevent most forms of trouble. Oiling is necessary only once a year. About the only thing you need do is to have the charging rate changed as the seasons change.

Closely allied to the electrical system is the ignition system. It, too, is of new mechanical design in the new Ford. There is but one high tension cable and that connects the coil with the distributor. Even cables from the distributor to the spark plugs have been eliminated. Special care has also been taken to make the distributor water-proof, thus preventing short circuits from rain, etc.

The entire electrical and ignition systems of the new Ford are so simple in design and so carefully made that they will give you surprisingly little trouble. Yet that doesn't mean they should be neglected. Certain little attentions are needed from time to time.

The storage battery should be given water and the connections kept clean. The generator charging rate should be changed as indicated. Spark plugs should be cleaned at regular intervals. Distributor points should also be kept clean and the distributor cam given a light film of vaseline every 2000 miles.

These are just little things, but they mean a great deal to your car. You can have them looked after at very small cost by the Ford dealer when you take the car in for oiling and greasing.

A thorough checking-up at regular intervals will lengthen the life of your car and give you many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

E. T. STRONG
President and General Manager
BUICK MOTOR CO.

DETROIT, Nov. 10.—Praising Detroit newspapers and officials of the city for the safety campaign which recently has been waged against speeders and reckless drivers here, E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motor Co., has expressed the hope that a similar program might be carried out in every city, town and hamlet in the nation.

Messages are being sent to the more than 4,000 Buick dealers throughout the country, each of whom will be urged to get behind such a movement in his district.

"The fact that some communities have accomplished so much in the humanitarian work of avoiding traffic casualties is conclusive proof that the campaign can be carried to a successful conclusion everywhere," Strong declared, "and the Buick Motor Co. pledges the fullest co-operation of its giant resources in working to this end."

"The automobile no longer is a luxury—it is a necessity, and much of its immense value to the world is being periled by those who use the streets as speedways and those who drive without due care in the crowded traffic of the present era."

That the problem is a big one, Strong is certain, but he is equally certain that with the proper co-operation of all concerned the streets and highways can be made safe and the value of the automobile for business and pleasure consequently increased.

Rev. Mr. Smith is survived by five children, three boys and two girls, Miss Osie and Mr. Richard, the youngest children, are well known to Hayesville citizens. Mr. Richard Smith having married Miss Christine Davis, of Hayesville.

Rev. Mr. Smith served the Hayesville Baptist church for seven years prior to 1922. He was absent from Hayesville for one year and then returned for one year in 1923. He and his entire family were held in high esteem by Clay County citizens.—Clay County News.

DR. SHARP RETURNS TO YOUNG HARRIS

The day for which all the students and citizens of Young Harris have been waiting arrived Wednesday, November 28th. Dr. Sharp has been in the hospital at Gainesville and in the Wesley Memorial Hospital in Atlanta since the beginning of school. Although his condition has not been serious much of the time his physicians deemed it advisable for him to stay in the hospital long enough to avoid a possible future attack and to recover completely.

To the great delight of the students Dr. Sharp returns with his former vigor and determination. Arriving at Young Harris just as the chapel bell rang, Dr. Sharp walked briskly up the aisle and took his accustomed seat with the faculty. A few pithy and profound statements from his lips gave ample proof that he is the same robust refined leader that all have learned to love.

Miss Marguerite Medlock, the nurse who has been with Dr. Sharp since early September and who has had much to do with his recovery, returned to Young Harris with him. Miss Medlock graduated from Young Harris College in 1917 and since that time has become proficient in her chosen vocation.

With Dr. Sharp back at Young Harris in a much improved state of health and in high spirits everything points to a great and successful year at Young Harris College.

SOME INFORMATION EVERYONE SHOULD HAVE CONCERNING TUBERCULOSIS

Every man and woman should know the symptoms of tuberculosis so well that as soon as one or all of them appear in any individual they may be recognized as symptoms of the disease. After recognizing a symptom or symptoms of the disease one should know that the proper thing to do is to go at once to a competent physician for a thorough physical examination, including the chest. If the doctor finds the patient tuberculous, the patient should immediately accept the doctor's advice and take the proper treatment either in his own home, or in a sanatorium, county, state, or private. It is advisable that every patient spend at least six months in a sanatorium.

If the doctor tells you that you have the disease, don't try to sidestep his diagnosis, taking the advice of relatives, or friends, who know the symptoms of tuberculosis only as they appear in hopeless stage cases. Terminal cases of tuberculosis are not curable. Tuberculosis is one of the most able of all the major diseases.

The symptoms of tuberculosis are: 1. Loss of weight, strength, energy. (These are often the first symptoms.) 2. Loss of appetite, indigestion. (These are early symptoms.) 3. Fever, afternoon or evening with a normal or sub-normal temperature in the morning. (An early symptom.) 4. A hemorrhage from the lungs, or an early symptom, but is an indication of more advanced disease, but not necessarily a terminal case.) 5. Pleurisy. (Appears in all stages, and always indicates tuberculosis unless it follows pneumonia.) 6. A cough that lasts more than three weeks. (Appears in all stages.) 7. An anal fistula, which appears in all stages.
