

SUMMER CAMP ENROLLMENTS ARE COMING IN

James M. Little, Colonel of Infantry, United States Army, Winston-Salem, N. C., who has charge of Citizens' Military Training Camp Enrollments for this state announces that since the opening of the C. M. T. C. Campaign on March 1st, his office is daily becoming a busier place.

It is asserted that strenuous efforts are being made to familiarize every young man in the state with the opportunities offered by these camps that all may have an equal chance to apply. President Coolidge's son, and the sons of thirty-two state governors have attended these camps with the sons of men from every walk of life. They all have had an equal chance and as in the past when they come together again next summer they will eat, drill, play and bunk side by side.

Origin and Mission

These camps were inaugurated by President Roosevelt and are the direct descendants of the pre-war Plattsburg Camp originated by the late General Wood. They have been sponsored and endorsed by our last four Presidents, by leading churchmen and educators, by the American Federation of Labor and by many other prominent citizens and organizations. Physical examinations during the war indicated that nearly half the young men of the country were physically unfit for active military service. This alarming situation was partially met by Congress in 1920 by creating the Citizens' Military Training Camps, which now annually provide about forty thousand young men with proper diet and exercise amidst healthful outdoor surroundings. These men return to their homes ardent exponents of the American principles of physical health and fitness.

The mission of these Training Camps is to bring together for a month's training, under healthful surroundings, young men from all walks of life on a common basis of equality and by supervised athletics, military drill and instructions in citizenship to develop them physically and morally, to promote a wholesome respect for discipline to teach the value of team work, fit them for leadership in peace or war and impress upon them their obligations and responsibilities.

Military training is not the primary objective of the camps and they are placed under the War Department by Congress only because it is the one existing agency with the necessary personnel and because military training is the most effective means with which to accomplish the mission for which the camps exist.

You can go to one of these camps if government expense provided you get your request in early enough. Enrollments began a month later this year so you'll not have as much time to think the matter as was the case last year.
