MOTHER OF VIBUTTI DIES AT BAINBRIDGE

Word was received here last week of the death of Mrs. T. J. Butt, of Bainbridge, Ga. She was the mother of V. I. Butt, secretary of the Cherokee Hardware Company, of Murphy, and the late Mrs. W. S. McCombs, of Murphy.

Mrs. Butt was 85 years old and had been in feeble health for some time. Besides Mr. Butt, she is survived by another son, Dr. T. J. Butt, of Cairo, Ga., and two other daughters, Mrs. J. L. Haralson, of Donaldsonville, Ga., and Mrs. T. M. Watkins, of Cairo, Ga.

R. B. M'IVER IS LAID TO REST HERE ON WED.

World War Veteran Died At Sanitarium In Dawson Springs, Ky., May Twelfth

Lieut. Roderick Bryan McIver, 31 years and ten months old, veteran of the World War, better known to his friends and associates as "Hawk-haw," died at a sanitarium in Dawson Springs, Ky., on May 12th, and Tuesday was brought to Murphy for funeral and interment.

Lieut. McIver was gassed at Ponceaux, France, October 9, 1918, during the Saint Quentin Drive, and spent several months in the hospital in France. The weakened condition of his lungs from being gassed was aggravated with a complication of tuberculosis. After returning to the United States, he was under government care and spent practically the past ten years of his life in the hospital seeking to regain his health without avail.

He volunteered for service on the Mexican border in 1916, and served under Captain D. W. Lillard, Pershing's Command, from September 1916 to March 1917, when his regiment was mobilized into the A. E. F. for service overseas. He was with the first units of the American Army to land in France, serving as a sergeant in Company "L" 117th Infantry, 30th Division from August 5, 1917 to April 16, 1919. At the close of the World War he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Officers Reserve Corps.

Lieutenant McIver served his country well, and gave his life in the cause of the Allies. He was with the famous 30th Division in the drive that broke the Hindenberg line, and his company was in the thick of the battle. His Company was cited and decorated by France and England for heroic service and bravery in action.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist Church, by the pastor, Rev. Howard P. Powell, assisted by Rev. J. P. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. J. Leroy Steele, pastor of the Baptist church.

As a fitting list tribute to their comrade in arms, the local post of the American Legion organized an escort of honor, composed of members representing the Army, Navy and Marines, and Lieutenant McIver was buried with full military honors.

The escort of honor was composed of standard bearer, color guards, and firing squad. The flag draped casket was mounted on a wagon drawn by two horses, which acted as the caisson. At the cemetery a salute of three volleys was paid the dead, and the bugler sounded taps for the last time.

The following acted as pallbearers: Neil Sneed, Toby Fain, Lowry Gentry, Porter Fain, George Leatherwood and Efton Christopher. Composing the military escort of honor were Lieutenant-Colonel Harry P. Cooper, commander; Lieutenant T. J. Mauney, standard bearer; Homer Ricks and Elbert Mallonee, color guards; Jim Franklin, caisson driver; Jim Duckworth, bugler, with the following as members of the firing squad: Vick Hubbard, Sheridan Heighway, Herman Elliott, John Odell, Fred Christopher, Harve Elkins and C. W. Bailey. C. B. Hill, local undertaker, was in charge.

Lieutenant McIver was born at Jonesboro, N. C. July 14, 1897, and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward McIver. He is survived by two brothers, Alexander McIver, of Johnson City, Tenn., and Robert Davidson McIver, of Stamford, Conn. The large number of sorrowing friends attending the funeral and beautiful floral offerings were a tribute to the high esteem in which he was held.

POUNDRING DOWN HOME STRETCH AS END NEARS

Big Prize Ballot Offer Stirs Drive Members To Special Activity This Week—Close Finishes For Main Prizes Now Seems Certain

Counting the days that remain of the big Circulation Drive and making every day mean results, Drive members seeking to share in the gigantic gift distribution are rushing through the "home stretch" at an unprecedented pace. The result of this week's activity will mean thousands of votes being added to the earnest one's vote totals as one and all are determined to build up a reserve vote with which to offset competition in the final count.

The last special offer of the entire campaign ends next Saturday night, and after then only six more working days remain of the campaign. As an extra prize, a prize ballot good for one half million votes will be awarded the drive member who is successful in having turned in the largest amount of money for subscription payments from the beginning of the campaign up until next Saturday night May 18. It is useless to stress the importance of supreme efforts this week, as each member realizes the importance of winning the big ballot.

The real aim of the Circulation Drive as announced at the outset is to reward those who want to work and win. Therefore in making the present offer to the candidates the campaign department feels that it has done everything possible, and has given every incentive imaginable to aid the real workers in getting votes. The great prize ballot offer ends Saturday night and just a few hours remain before this Prize Ballot will be earned. "Do it now or not at all" must be the slogan now.

The big Circulation Drive comes to a definite conclusion Saturday night May 25. After this week just six days separate the victors from their rewards.

If you are reading this article and have promised your favorite drive member a subscription, be sure to give it to them this week and aid them over the winning line. The judges will be announced next week, also the closing hour and rules.

F. C. Hall Transferred To Duty At Canton

F. C. Hall, popular employee of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company for the past nine years, has been transferred to Canton, N. C., where he will have charge of the company's service at Canton. Mrs. Hall will remain at Murphy until after school closes, when she and the children will join Mr. Hall.

Mr. Hall, "Telephone Hall" as he was known to his many friends in Murphy, in going to Canton goes to a field of larger responsibilities, and his many friends here regret that he leaves Murphy but are glad to see him get a deserved promotion, and wish him the best of success. Mr. J. P. Francis, of Waynesville, will take Mr. Hall's place.

WOMANS CLUB STATE OFFICER TO HAS INTERESTING ADDRESS LEGION MEETING WED. HERE ON MAY 21

County Hospital Plan Presented, Welfare Work Discussed, and Committees Named

One of the most interesting meetings of the Murphy Woman's Club was held Wednesday afternoon in the club rooms with Mrs. W. M. Axley, president, presiding.

The Club this year has been studying "Know Your Own State—North Carolina," and at this, the last meeting of the present Club year, some of the needs of North Carolina were discussed. An interesting paper by Mrs. R. C. Mattox told of the need for new homes for delinquent girls and women and pointed out that, at this time, there are only two homes of this kind in the state.

The needs for a county hospital in Cherokee county were presented by Mrs. Edward Adams in a most forceful way and Mr. Ralph Moody, who had been asked to explain the plans for establishing a county hospital in Cherokee county, under the Duke Foundation, was present and explained, most clearly, the plans and other details of this project. These talks were of special interest at this time since it is hoped that the plans now being advocated for establishing such a hospital in Cherokee Announcement was made this week by Commander Harry P. Cooper that C. A. Pennington, of Gastonia, 10th District Commander of the American Legion, Department of North Carolina, would address the local post of the American Legion at the court house next Tuesday night, May 21st.

All veterans of the World War in Cherokee and adjoining counties and their friends are cordially invited to hear Mr. Pennington. The local post of the American Legion has been very active in the past, although at present it is not functioning regularly, and an effort is being made by the ex-service men of this section to revive it. It is hoped that all of the boys will come out Tuesday night and hear of the work the Legion is doing as presented by Mr. Pennington.

J. W. S. DAVIS FINDS WAYNESVILLE HOSPITAL PAYING INSTITUTION

The following telegram was received from J. W. S. Davis, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners, relative to the hospital at Waynesville, which was built by Haywood county under the same plan which Cherokee will decide in the election June 11th:

At the request of members of the county board of health and county commissioners and for my own satisfaction I have looked into the administration of the Haywood County Hospital and find that the first year was operated at a profit of sixteen hundred dollars to Haywood county. This hospital is aided by the Duke Foundation Fund in the same manner that the Cherokee County Hospital will be, provided the election for the hospital carries next month. I feel the hospital in Cherokee with the aid of the Duke Fund can be operated with but very little expense if any from the county. I do know that a large sum that is now being spent for hospitalization and treatment of charity cases and subjects of the county could be reduced if treated in our own hospital. Eventually every county in the state will own its own hospital and to defeat it now will only be an added expense as it would only be a short time until the County Commissioners would be forced to call another election which would cost Cherokee county approximately fifteen hundred dollars.

J. W. S. DAVIS,
Chm. Board Co. Commissioners.
