

SCOUT LATE THIS WEEK

The Scout is putting in its appearance late this week due to a press breakdown Tuesday night. A piece of wood furniture about one inch in thickness went through a space between the cylinder and bed, just wide enough for a thin sheet of paper to pass through. As a result the press was thrown out of line and the force worked almost day and night in order to keep up with the job printing and to get the press back in line, but Friday morning found the old press still failing to function properly. Mr. Cliff Barber, special press mechanic, of Atlanta, who rebuilt the press and installed it for us some three years ago, was brought on the scene Saturday morning, and this explanation is being written about 3 o'clock, the old press is merrily grinding along on the Scout and news. It's easy to do, if you know how, says Mr. Barber.

Teacher Training Class Will Sponson American Education Week Soon

Someone in Murphy was talking about Education Week the other day. Others have asked, "What is Education Week?" The primary purpose of American Education Week is to acquaint the public with the work of the schools, with their aims, achievements and needs. This is a national project and it is the week when the public comes to school and the school goes to the public. It should make pupil, teacher, and parent conscious of his obligation to strengthen the school by making it true to the needs of life around it. The school exists to inform, to lift, to guide, to inspire. The Teacher Training Class of Murphy is cooperating with the nation and state officials in promoting this movement in Cherokee county. As this week runs from November 11-17, the Teacher Training Class will edit, on November 8, a special educational number of The Cherokee Scout. The class would appreciate the cooperation of the parents, the teachers and the public in general. They hope everyone will find great pleasure in helping us to put over this project.

AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY SHOWS INCREASE DURIN PAST MONTH

"Production of passenger and commercial cars during September, 1929, totaled 161,395 units, a heavy increase over production during the same month of the preceding year.

An increased production schedule has been set for October, calling for an output of 175,000 Model A cars and Model AA trucks. The program for October anticipates a gain of 47,000 units over the production of October, 1928, when 127,225 units were produced.

Total Ford production for the first nine months of the current year aggregated 1,633,498 units. Advance schedules indicate that production of Model A cars and Model AA trucks for the full year will exceed 2,000,000 units.

The program adopted for October means that the Rouge Plant will continue on a full five-day schedule. Employment in the Ford plants remains at a high level, with 108,138 employees working in the three large plants of the Detroit area on October 2."
