NEW CHEVROLET GOES ON DISPLAY HERE SATURDAY

Heralded As "Great American Value For 1932," Car Boasts Many Changes

Chevrolet's new car for 1932 goes on display tomorrow at Dickey Chevrolet Company, Murphey, and other dealer showrooms throughout the nation.

Embodying silent synchro-mesh transmission in combination with selective free-wheeling, a twenty percent increase in power, top speed of 65 to 70 miles an hour, streamlined bodies and a wealth of other new features, the new car remains in the price range of the current series, the lowest at which a Chevrolet has ever sold.

Heralded as "The Great American Value for 1932", the car boasts more extensive changes than any annual Chevrolet model since the change-over to a six in 1928. Yet changes are mostly refinements over the basic designs of the 1931 car which, from the standpoint of public acceptance, was the most successful in the history of the company, and brought Chevrolet first place in the industry during the highly competitive market of the past twelve months.

Practically every proven automotive feature of recent years is incorporated in the new 1932 Chevrolet, as well as a new "established" front end construction embodied for the first time on any car. Outstanding improvements in the '32 line over last year's models are down-draft carburetion, counter balanced crankshaft, smaller wheels and larger tires, radically changed front end appearance, "finger touch" front seat adjustment, cowl ventilator on all models, hood doors instead of louvers, improved clutch and an additional cross member in the frame.

The 21 domestic plants are now busy producing the new line. The stimulus to employment in the Chevrolet organization, in affiliated Fisher Body plants and among independent suppliers made possible by the introduction of the car, it is conservatively estimated, will add to the earnings of 200,000 people.

Twelve standard body styles are in the line this year—three open and nine closed Fisher bodies—all in new Duco color combinations and all with smart new features. In addition, eight models also are available with deluxe equipment, making possible individuality of ownership and providing selection from twenty different types.

Of the mechanical changes, the outstanding one is the new transmission unit, which is entirely Chevrolet-built and is to combine for the first time in any car the combination of synchro-mesh with simplified free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost. Free wheeling is provided by an over-running clutch, engaged at the discretion of the driver by a control button on the instrument panel. This optional feature enables the driver to utilize the full braking power of the engine if he desires, and to use the free wheeling feature only when traffic conditions make it desirable.

While the wheelbase remains at 109-inches, the car looks longer than last year, lower, speedier and more powerful—promise borne out by the greatly improved power plant.

The most striking change in exterior appearance is the new front end, which has been completely redesigned this year.

The new "established" front end mounting is an important feature of the new car. In conventional mounting the radiator, fenders and headlamps are supported from the sides of the frame, and in driving over rough roads the front end weaves and vibrates. This is annoying to occupants of the car and frequently results in the origin of squeaks and rattles at points of stress.

In the new Chevrolet, the fenders, radiator and headlamps are carried on a single fender support unit, which is anchored to the center of the front cross-member of the frame. This pivotal anchorage enables the front end to sway with the body as a unit, thus reducing the annoying weaves as well as the possibility of squeaks and rattles developing at points of stress.

The sum-total of changes in the new car make it not only a distinctive addition to its price class, but a "big car" in appointments and mechanical improvements. From the enthusiastic comment of those who have had a preview of the new car, it is expected to prove a worthy successor to the highly successful lines of the past few years.

Brasstown Woman's Club Entertained By Mrs. Virge Ledford

Mrs. Virge Ledford entertained the Woman's Club of Brasstown at her home on Wednesday, the 25th. There was a discussion about handicrafts. Then plans were made, and committees appointed, for the Christmas tree celebration, which is to be held, as usual at the school on December 24th. After this business was attended to, the women went out doors to a few singing games, and then came in for refreshments. The next meeting is to be held at the Folk School on Tuesday, December 22nd.

Corn Increases By 450 Per Cent In Co.

Last spring County Agent R. W. Gray gave Allen Craig, farmer of the Ranger section and tenant on the Carl Dickey farm, an ear of corn of Holcombe's Prolific, which is a two-eared variety.

The other day Mr. Craig was in Murphey and told Mr. Gray that he had planted the corn separately, and he gathered it recently he got approximately four and a half bushels of corn, all from the seed of one ear.

Figured at general count of 100 ears of corn to the bushel, this represents an increase of 450 percent. It might be of news to the farmers of this section to know that this variety of corn, Holcombe's prolific, has carried off first place in nearly every fair held in the county since its introduction in the county. Very few farmers are growing this corn in the county, but considerable showing has been made in the past few years.

This increase of 450 per cent was made in the regular course of farming, with nothing extra in the way of work or fertilizer.

Lions Roared Last Tuesday Night Nov 24

The Murphey Lions Club held their regular fourth Tuesday night meeting on November 24th, enjoying a most excellently prepared and served oyster supper at the library with the Junior Woman's Club. After this a short business session was held.

At this meeting a damper was placed upon the usual joyous spirit of the meetings by the necessity of saying good-bye to Lion and Lioness H. P. Powell. Lion Powell has been a member of the club since soon after his arrival here, and has always made his influence felt as a spiritual leader and promoter of good fellowship. Lion Powell did excellent work for the Lions as chairman of the boys work committee. The club regretted losing Lion and Lioness Powell, but wished them much happiness and continued success in their work.

Lion President Fain told of an invitation extended through Mr. Fred O. Scroggs of Brasstown by the Brasstown Community Club to the Lions and Lionesses of the local club to attend a joint meeting at 6 P. M. on the evening of December 12th, at the Community Club House at the John C. Campbell Folk School. This invitation was unanimously accepted and the secretary asked to notify Mr. Scroggs to that effect. Lions and Lionesses will keep this date in mind and plan to attend.

Lion Fain also announced that Mr. McKnight, district engineer of North Carolina Highways, had informed him that engineers had been ordered to begin work on Highway No. 28 from Murphey to the Clay County line, and that in all probability work would start on this road in the very near future. This is something that the Lions Club, working with other organizations and individuals, has kept before the attention of the highway officials for two years and more, and it was with pleasure that the club heard that the work would not be delayed on this specific project much longer.

FARM PROGRAM COMMITTEE FOR COUNTY NAMED

Ten Things Listed For Cherokee County To Do In Program Of Minnesota Plan

Farmers, farm agents, merchants, bankers, editors, and civic leaders from all over Western North Carolina will hold a meeting in Asheville at the Plaza theatre Monday evening December 14th, to hear Frederic R. Murphy, publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, and Charles F. Collier, its agricultural editor, explain how the world-famous "Minnesota Plan" can bring a new era of agricultural prosperity to this mountain region.

Western North Carolina has been tentatively organized for the purpose of carrying this Minnesota plan into effect in this mountain section. Committees have been named from the different counties, and the committee named from Cherokee county follows:

Mrs. D. H. Rillitt, president of the Andrews Woman's Club.
Clyde H. Jarrett, president of the Andrews Rotary Club.

The committee was named after careful consideration along the same plan as that used several years ago in Minnesota, and it is hoped that every member named, and as men of the county as can will at many other farmers and business tend this meeting in Asheville on Monday, December 14th. It is urged and requested that as many as have cars who contemplate going carry every friend he or she can get in the car, and that as far as possible, the party from Cherokee form a motorcade and go together. R. W. Gray, county agent, will be glad to give any one the details and further information concerning the meeting and its purpose.

10 Mile Posts For Cherokee
In connection with farm program known as the Minnesota plan, County Agent Gray has briefly named ten things which citizens of Cherokee county need to do and which are included in the proposed plan, as follows:

1. Grow sufficient food and feed crops to supply our needs.
2. Standardization of breeds of hogs, cattle, poultry and sheep.
3. An increase in poultry, cattle, hogs and sheep.
4. Make more permanent pastures.
5. Soil improvement.
6. Grow more vegetables for outside sale and consumption.
7. An educational and co-operative campaign to urge our people to use more home-grown products.
8. Get the farmer and merchant in closer touch with each other so each will know what one can do for the other.
9. Better protection of our forests by re-forestation and fire protection.
10. Improved farm home conditions.
