REYNOLDS AND EHRINGHAUS WIN IN STATE RACES

Morrison, Defeated By Reynolds, Expected to Demand Run-Off in Senate Race

Nearly Complete Returns from Saturday's voting showed that Robert R. Reynolds, Asheville attorney who made his appeal for votes on a prohibition repeal platform, was leading Senator Cameron Morrison by more than 11,000 votes Wednesday with only 16 precincts to be heard from.

With 16 precincts missing from 1,823 in the State, the vote stood: Reynolds 150,049. Morrison 138,605. Bowie 37,6800. Grist, state commissioner of labor, 28,550.

Arthur Simmons, Burlington poultryman, 3,875.

Ehringhaus Far Ahead

In the race for governor, J. C. B. Ehringhaus attorney of Elizabeth City, continued to hold a lead of more than 50,000 with 1,808 of the State's precincts reported. The vote stood:

Ehringhaus 165,942. Fountain 113,112. Maxwell 100,875.

The total vote in the race for governor, broke all previous North Carolina vote records for any office by almost 20,000.

Whether or not Mr. Fountain will call for a second primary in face of the commanding lead of Mr. Ehringhaus, is not known, but he said he would make an announcement as soon as he had heard from the official canvass.

Morrison to Demand Run-Over

Although Senator Morrison had not formally announced Wednesday that we would call for a second primary, it was regarded as certain that he would do so. He is expected to open state headquarters in Raleigh within a few days.

Reynolds forces will mobilize in Raleigh next week, possibly Wednesday, for a caucus of county and sectional managers. Following this conference, Mr. Reynolds is expected to start another whirlwind speaking campaign throughout the state.

Spectacular Race Seen

In their run-off primary, Mr. Reynolds and Senator Morrison will have the eyes of the country upon them, according to reports of the daily papers. In many respects, it is bound to be a spectacular race; in some of its phases the contest has already at-

"OUR BOB" LEADING

Robert R. Reynolds, Asheville attorney who made his appeal for votes on a repeal of the prohibition law, was leading Senator Cameron Morrison for the United States Senate from North Carolina by more than 11,000 votes, with only 16 of the State's 1,823 precincts to be heard from, according to dispatches in the daily press. Morrison is understood to be preparing to demand a run-off to decide the winner, since Mr. Reynolds did not obtain the necessary two-thirds majority.

MANY FISH LOST AS DAM BREAKS

WAS ON PRESERVE OF E. C. MOORE, OF MURPHY

The dam, forming the private fishing preserve of E. C. Moore, prominent business man, burst at the base some time last Friday night or early Saturday morning and drained, carrying all the fish into the Valley and Hiwassee rivers.

The foundation rock, upon which the dam was built, was a soft mica formation. Shortly after it was built it began to leak and it is thought that the continual seepage of water into the rock weakened it to such an extent that the pressure forced the rock from underneath the dam which was of concrete and rock construction.

Mr. Moore built the dam about two years ago and it was stocked with bass, breams and blue catfish. It is estimated that more than half a million fish were in the lake including small fish that had recently been hatched and those hatched during the past two spawning seasons. There were more than 2,500 catfish of one pound or more and thousands of breams and bass weighing up to two pounds or more. Two small breeding ponds, which Mr. Moore had built below the dam, were also swept away with thousands of small fish. Next year the lake would have been open to the public for fishing.

The fish were carried down the creek into Valley river and into Hiwassee into which Valley river empties a few hundred yards below. The pumping plant for Wade's swimming pool, which had been erected a short distance below the dam by Wade Massey and just completed last week, was also washed away. With reference to his loss Mr. Moore stated that he wouldn't have taken $5,000 for the fish he had in the lake. Plans are already being made to repair the dam and restock the lake.

at the time of her departure. She suffered with intestinal flu for about three weeks, then God called her from her pain.

Interment was in the Peachtree cemetery and services were conducted by Rev. Algy West.

Put away her little play-things, wet by a mother and fathers' tears. How, they loved her, how, they will miss her. All the weary coming years.

God took her to Heaven. Away from all care. In the arms of our Savior. She is waiting us there.

Infant of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zimmerman Dies

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zimmerman last Friday, June 3rd, as the shades of night were falling, and carried away their baby and only daughter. Gladys was twenty-seven months old
