Wofford-Terrell Co. Destroyed By Fire Thursday Night

Late Thursday night about 11 o'clock, the building of the Wofford-Terrell Company, local wholesale merchants, was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin. The fire damage is estimated at about $50,000.00, which was about 60 per cent covered by insurance.

When the fire was discovered it had already burned through the rear end of the building and spread toward the front so far that little goods could be saved. By the time the town was aroused and the firemen got on the scene, the fire had gained such headway that saving the building was an impossibility.

For awhile, it looked like the W. Kee Hardware Co., other wholesale M. Fain Grocery Co., and the Cherokee establishments on either side, would be burned also.

The Andrews fire department was called to the scene, and asked to hold their fire truck in readiness to be brought down also if needed. All of the Andrews boys, except about three who were left to bring the truck if called for, answered the call and assisted in keeping the flames under control.

Plans are being made by officers of the company to replace the building. In the meantime, offices and quarters have been opened up in the old roller mill building belonging to the company next to J. W. King's store, where business is being transacted as usual.

A meeting of directors was held Wednesday morning, and a meeting of stockholders is scheduled to be held on next Tuesday, May 9th. Following the meeting of the stockholders, work on replacing the building is expected to begin.

The Wofford-Terrell Company was incorporated in 1912. It had been in business here many years prior to its incorporation, and has been an asset to the people of the town and section. During its existence it has built up an enviable reputation as wholesalers, and is perhaps the largest single business establishment in this entire section. Many of the people of the town have expressed a desire to see the building put back and the company continue in business, and this paper joins with others in hoping that this will be done.

Officers of the company are: W. G. Owenby, president; George C. Mauney, secretary-treasurer; J. W. King, vice-president; who, with the following, make up the board of directors: E. C. Moors, T. A. Terrell Jr., C. M. Wofford, J. W. Walker, and J. H. Reagan.

NICK GETS HIS WORDS MIXED

The following is taken from "Dusting Off The Solons" Column of The Raleigh Times, and is self explanatory:

Nick Posey, ten-year-old House page, calls it "Dusting Off the Saloons" and refused to believe Representative Laurie McEachern, of Hoke, and Robert Grady Johnson, of Pender, when they told him the word is "solons" and not "saloons. Nick who has visions of becoming a newspaper reporter, is reading the papers avidly these days and coming across an item about the Hoke lawmaker in the "Dusting off the Solons" column he thought Mr. McEachern should know about it. Said Nick: "I saw it in the 'Dusting off the Saloons' place in The Raleigh Times."

Newspaper reporters in the House of Representatives had better look to their laurels. They have a strong rival in the person of Nick Posey, pint-six page, who has appointed himself reporter-at-large

Relief Projects In State Suspended To Farm Residents

Raleigh, April 7.—Relief work projects throughout North Carolina involving residents on farms will be suspended, effective Saturday, April 8, according to an announcement made today by the Governor's Office of Relief.

This step is being taken in order to enable all farm families to more effectively devote their energies to gardening and farming, the announcement said. The suspension is said to be a logical development of the plan to require all persons living on the land to cultivate their own food and feedstuffs as a prerequisite to further relief.

Memoranda to county relief directors explaining the details of the suspension program have already been sent by Dr. Roy M. Brown, technical supervisor in the relief office. The step was regarded as necessary in order to emphasize to the rural residents the fact that they must forsake their present public projects and resume the work of providing themselves with food.

The memorandum pointed out that whenever it is found necessary direct relief will be provided these farm residents until their farms and gardens begin to produce their food.

Meanwhile highway maintenance and other essential public works will be carried on uninterrupted by employing non-farming people.

BEER WELCOMED TO MURPHY BY SMALL CROWD

Anticipated throngs dwindled to less than three dozen persons here Monday morning at 12:01 o'clock to welcome the return of legalized beer, absent from the town and State for the past 25 years, and sales were less than a hundred bottles. However, when business got under way in the morning sales during the day reached a total of 490 bottles in town for the first day, despite the fact that the only two places in town selling beer retailed it at 25c and 35c. Later in the day one place secured it at a price to retail for 20c.

Only one cafe in town and one grocery store so far has been licensed to sell. The cafe was open at the hour it became legal, and it was here that the few who were waiting to welcome the return of beer were gathered. Many of those who planned to wait up until after midnight became tired of waiting, went out and bought something with a real kick in it and went home. Bootleg liquor was said to be selling in town at 25c a pint, the price being lowered to meet the competition brought about by legalized beer. No disorderly conduct of any kind was noted.

Reb Phillips, who claims he bought the last bottle of legalized beer sold here 25 years ago, bought the first bottle of the new 3.2. For the most part, those who were on hand at the strike of 12:01 o'clock were curious waiting for the "first drink" many of whom were disappointed in the taste and kick.

Five places in the county have been licensed so far, two at Murphy and three at Andrews. The license for retailing is high and unusually strict.

Two kinds of retail license are available. Off premises, $10; on premises, $15. This is the municipal license. Either kind of county license is $25.00, and state license is $5.00, while the federal license is $20.00, making off premises license $60.00, and on premises $65.00.

The license for the state and municipality have a progressive increase clause, increasing by 10 percent of the base with each additional license granted. That is, the first license from the state for on premises would be $5, and the municipality $15. The next license for another selling place under the same management would be $5.50 state, and $16.50 for municipality.

The state assesses other licenses as follows: Manufacturing, $500; Bottling, $250; Wholesale, $150.

Camps Located In Nantahala Forest

Four camps employing citizens from the ranks of the country's unemployed will be located in the Nantahala Forest, according to information given out recently by John B. Brynes, supervisor, with offices located at Franklin.

One of the camps are to be located at Aquone, above Andrews, in Macon county, and work on the camps was expected to begin this week.

During construction of the camps, which will last from two to four weeks, there will be places open for temporary labor. Residents of the section will be employed on this construction work in all cases foremen will do the hiring on the jobs, Mr. Brynes said.

Foremen have been named for four of these camps, Z. B. Byrd, camp at Aquone; Henry Baty, camp at Highlands; William T. Wright, camp near Clayton, Ga.; and W. Neville Sloan, camp near Mount Rest postoffice, 12 miles west of Walhalla, S. C. These men will receive applications for labor jobs.

The information of this paper is that the first enlistments will be of single men between the ages of 18 and 25 and who have parents or others in their families dependent on them for support.

Those recruited we understand must assigns from $22.50 to $25 of their monthly salary to their dependents. We also understand that the first contingents will be recruited from the cities and recruiting will not begin until after a nationwide conference of relief directors is held in Washington on April 18th.

Driving Idea Home

Affirmation, pure and simple, kept free of all reasoning and all proof, is one of the surest means of making an idea enter the minds of crowds.
