HAYDEN PATTON FATALLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Son of Clyde Patton On Way From School When Hit by Auto Driven by Alfred Penland, Colored

Hayden Patton, 6 son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Patton, of Murphey was fatally injured shortly after 3 o'clock last Friday afternoon on the highway near the Valley River bridge when struck by an auto said to have been driven by Alfred Penland, colored.

The child was enroute home from school at the time of the accident. Penland told officers after they arrested him, that he was not driving fast. He said he blew his horn and that the child started to step aside, but became confused and stepped in the wrong direction and into the path of the automobile.

The child's left side was crushed, his thigh fractured, and he received cuts on the head. He died at 4:30 o'clock a little more than an hour after the accident.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at Peachtree and interment was in the Peachtree cemetery. The Rev. T. F. Higgins, pastor of the Murphy Methodist church, officiated.

Surviving are the parents, and two small sisters.

A preliminary hearing for Penland, driver of the car, is set for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the court house before C. B. Hill, Justice of the Peace. Penland is being held without bond pending a hearing.

INOCULATION CAMPAIGN IN CO. GIVEN IMPETUS

Seven Cases of Typhoid in One Family and one Death in Hamby Bend Section

The county wide typhoid and diphtheria inoculation campaign in Cherokee was given added impetus here this week when it was brought to light that there are several cases of typhoid in the Hamby bend section of the county.

The Hamby Bend section is said to be the most remote and inaccessible section of the county, 19 miles west of Murphey. Relief workers this week carried medical supplies and provisions to the typhoid stricken families of the section, and all citizens of the community have been inoculated with the typhoid vaccine.

In one family of the Hamby section there developed seven cases of typhoid fever, and death has claimed one member of the family as a result. Another family in the same section has developed one case, and it is believed that with the preventative measures taken, the threatened epidemic in the community can be controlled.

The inoculation campaign, which begins in the county October 1st, is the result of efforts of the county medical society whereby arrangements have been made for offering free inoculation as a protection against typhoid and diphtheria to every man, woman and child in the county, the North Carolina State Board of Health and Cherokee county co-operating.

A similar campaign was conducted in the county last year and hundreds of people availed themselves of the opportunity of receiving this free inoculation. However, the campaign was more successful among children than adults, and Dr. Edw. E. Adams, secretary of the county medical society, said special efforts will be made this year to get more of the adults to take advantage of the typhoid vaccine.

How To Get The NRA Blue Eagle

From time to time numerous business people have asked about the NRA and how to get the blue eagle. Here is how in the NRA's own language: "Sign the certificate of compliance, adding to it the following clause: Except for those interim provisions regarding wages and hours which have been approved by the Trade Association. Deliver this certificate of compliance to your post office. You will receive a Blue Eagle, but before displaying it, you must put a white bar across its breast with the word 'provisional' on it. If your petition is finally approved by N. R. A. you may take the bar down. If your petition is not approved by N. R. A. you must comply with the agreement in full."

ROTARIANS ARE GUESTS OF LIONS TUESDAY

Two Clubs Pledge Closer Co-operation For Interests of Cherokee County

Plugging closer co-operation between the two clubs for the interests of Cherokee county as a whole was a general topic of speakers featuring the joint meeting of the Andrews Rotary Club and the Murphy Lions Club here Tuesday night, at which some twenty visitors from Andrews were guests of the Lions as a picnic outing at Riverside Park. The occasion was ladies night with the two clubs and about fifty were present.

Following the supper and a number of enjoyable games, such as "Grapes" and "Feathers," a short speaking program took place. W. M. Fain, president of the Lions Club, introduced Lion H. Bueck, who made a short address of welcome. W. D. Whitaker, vice president of the Andrews club, responded and said that an invitation for a return visit would be extended in the very near future.

Mr. Fain read two letters, one from the State Department of Conservation and Development, and one from the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, relative to efforts the Lions have made to have one of the E. C. W. Camps located in Cherokee county, and asked the Andrews club to assist in the project. Mr. Whitaker, on behalf of the Rotarians, said his club would co-operate in every way possible to help secure one of the camps.

The letters read by Mr. Fain stated that because Cherokee was not co-operating with the State and Federal governments in forest fire control work, they could not recommend that one of these camps be located in the county. It is the existing policy of the Forestry Department to locate these camps only in the counties which were co-operating in this phase of forest service.

Following the departure of the visitors, the Lions held a short business session, and voted to furnish transportation of the Murphy football team to Bryson City for the opening game Friday afternoon.

A committee, composed of H. Bueck, Harry Lahn and C. W. Bailey, was named to formulate plans for an educational campaign among the farmers of the county this fall and winter to induce them to grow tobacco on a commercial basis. This committee is to work in co-operation with County Agent R. W. Gray, who is also a Lion.

During the discussion, it was brought out that very little tobacco is grown commercially in the county, which is usually sold on the Asheville market. The lands of Cherokee are peculiarly adapted to growing of tobacco, and it is the plan of the Lions to induce every farmer of the county to begin by cultivating not more than one acre of tobacco for market along with his regular crop during the coming year.

The Rotarians and Rotoryans present at the meeting Tuesday night were: P. B. Ferree, president; J. J. Stone, secretary, and Mrs. Stone; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jarrett, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bristol, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patton, the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Prevost, Misses Grace Bryant and Cleo Brendle, and Messrs. Roy Plemmons, W. V. Devitt, Zed Whitaker, W. D. Whitaker and W. W. Ashe.

The letters read by Mr. Fain follow in part:

From Mr. Sipe

Dear Mr. Fain: You never seem to tire of trying to do something for Murphey. I wish I had some of your enthusiasm and persistency.

I have talked with Mr. Holmes, the State Forester, about the possibility of recommending the Murphey area for an E. C. W. camp and he tells me that since Cherokee County has not co-operated with the State in protecting the timber it has that he feels that it would be a waste of money to place one of the private land camps in Cherokee.

He did suggest however that it might be possible to get the U. S. Forest Service to put a camp in the Cherokee National Forest, about 12,000 acres of which lie in Cherokee County. I believe in the Beaver Dam section. You might write the Forest Service Director, or else, take the matter up with Mr. C. F. Evans, District Inspector, 223 Federal Building, Asheville. I wish that there was something

JUDGE SCHENCK RULES SULLIVAN BANK LAW VALID

Commissioner Of Banks Loses In Hearing of Offset Act

Rutherfordton, Sept. 21. (Special)—The provisions of the Sullivan bank offset law, enacted by the last session of the General Assembly, have been declared constitutional by Judge Michael Schenck, of Hendersonville, in a ruling in a Rutherford county case.

Judge Schenck, resident judge of the district, ruled in the case of Columbus where he is holding a term of Superior Court this week.

The case, arising from Rutherford county, was entitled C. E. Morgan versus Gurney P. Hood, State commissioner of banks, and the liquidating agent of the Rutherford County Bank and Trust Company.

Appeal Is Entered

Following Judge Schenck's ruling the defendants entered notice of appeal to the State Supreme Court and the case is expected to be argued before that tribunal in the near future. The people of Rutherford county will watch the outcome of the case with much interest.

The petition, filed in the case with the clerk of the Superior Court here, set forth that all preferred claims of the Rutherford County Bank and Trust Company, which closed here February 4, 1930, have been paid in full and discharged; that there remains about $30,000 in the hands of the liquidator for distribution among the common depositors, and that from the majority of the assets remaining in the hands of the liquidating agent, after expenses have been deducted, not more than a 10 per cent dividend can ever be realized for the common depositors and creditors. Up to the present, no dividend has been paid and declared, although the bank closed February 4, 1930, it was pointed out.

Depositor Sold To Morgan

The petition further stated that Mrs. S. R. Morgan had $310.26 on deposit when the bank closed, while J. H. Efgerton had $473.51, making a total of $783.77, both of which deposits have been sold, transferred, and conveyed to G. E. Morgan, who owed the bank $600 when it closed.

Following the hearing on the petition, Judge Schenck issued the following order: "That the defendant (Gurney P. Hood) credit at their face value the deposits transferred and assigned to G. E. Morgan as aforesaid in the discharge of the indebtedness due by the said G. E. Morgan to the closed Rutherford County Bank and Trust Company. It is further ordered that the petitioners have and recover of the defendants their cost in the action." —Asheville Citizen.

The accident occurred just across the State line in Georgia on the Wayne-Young Harris road.

The men had been to a mill for Ben Harbin, father of Dewey Harbin. They carried a load of wheat to the mill and were returning with a load of flour. While between Wayne, N.
