WOODMEN HAVE GOOD MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

After the supper given by the Woodmen Tuesday night a musical program was rendered by a local string band.

Talks on wood craft were made by V. M. Johnson, Ralph Moody and K. V. Weaver.

The musical program was under the direction of Mack Sievers, who is connected with the TVA and who was formerly connected with WNOX and the Tennessee Ramblers. Playing with him were Austin, Arrant Carl Hensley, and Lawrence Bryson.

Others present at the meeting were: Felix Palmer, Hayner Rogers, Clyde McNabb, Fred Swain, Fred Pass, of Hayesville, Arnold Derreberry, Robert Weaver and F. L. Fisher.

Official Opening Of Buildings Postponed

Postponement of the official opening of four bunk houses and the cafeteria at the Hiwassee dam town site was announced Thursday by Lex G. Phifer superintendent of construction on the project.

It was originally planned to open the buildings last Friday morning but officials said lack of complete facilities for serving the public in the cafeteria would delay the formal invitation to the public about two weeks.

Workers at the dam site have taken up residence in the dormitories and employees are eating at the cafeteria. Although the public will be served in the cafeteria at regular rates at present, official opening will be observed later.

Edna Mae Hall, 17, Popular High School Girl, Dies

Funeral services for Miss Edna Mae Hall, 17-year-old high school daughter of Mr. and Mr. V. D. Hall, of the Peachtree community, were conducted from the old Brasstown Baptist church near Warne Sunday morning with the Rev. C. M. Martin the Rev. H. A. O'Kelley and the Rev. Henry Brown officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. W. D. Townson was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Edna Mae, one of the most popular members of the ninth grade of the Murphy high school, died Friday afternoon of pneumonia. She had been sick only one week.

Pallbearers and flower girls were her school-mates. One of the largest groups ever in attendance at a funeral in this county was present at Miss Hall's last rites.

Pallbearers were: Junior Johnson, Edie and Jerry Mallonee, Warren McDonald, Richard McIver and William Townson.

Flower girls were: Lucille Birchfield, Delthea Barnes, Betty and Pearl Purcell, Marcelle Hall, Dorothy Carroll, Dorothy Sneed, Nelma Simonds, and Ruby Townson.

Surviving besides her parents are three sisters, Evelyn, Mae Bell and Geneva.

MARRIED, SINGLE LADIES WILL PLAY INTERESTING TILT ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Whether or not a representative group of the married ladies of Murphy can still outcast their single friends ("figuratively" speaking) in the art of expertly and adroitly handling a basketball will be brought to light in the gymnasium here Friday night.

Dressed nattily in the latest (and briefest) of court toggery, the married ladies while their astonished spouses sit by, will seek to impress upon their unmarried sisters that it takes more than time and married life to cut a womans vim, vigor and vitality.

The married ladies team which is being coached by Neil Sneed will be represented by Mrs. Dr. Holt, Mrs. H. A. Mattox, Mrs. Burt Savage, Mrs. Walt Mauney, Mrs. R. G. Carter Mrs. Maude Duncan, Mrs. Ruth Nichols Mrs. Catherine Fain and many others.

Mr. Sneed is not finding it very difficult to get these ladies whipped into shape - that is, a shape that would fit a modern basketball court. And being a policeman, his heart is stout, his nerve is irrepresible and his perseverance is unsurmountable.

Although Mr. Sneed has not contacted all the ladies he hopes to have playing for him Friday night, he is lining up at least three good teams, so that any one of the forerunners can run out, fall out, drop out or pass out and the married element will carry bravely on.

The unmarried contingent of this basketball classic is being handled expertly by none other than Coach Ollie Wade Deaton who has had much experience in handling women - and particularly basketball players.

He has contracted to play for him such delightful pulchritude as Bruce Speight, that blond Carson beauty with the TVA, Miss Grace West, Toots Baker, Miss Harriet Brickly,

LIONS TO SELL EASTER SEALS FOR CRIPPLES

Fifty Dollars Will Be Raised By Penny Sales In Murphy

The disposition of $50 worth of Crippled Childrens Easter seals in Murphy was arranged by members of the local Lions club at their regular meeting here Tuesday night.

Following a plan outlined by H. Bueck, superintendent of the Murphy schools who was in charge of the sale of seals here, each member agreed to sell 200 seals valued at $2 to business and professional men in the town.

It was pointed out by Dr. E. E. Adams, secretary of the club, that only would this be the most plausible solution of dispensing the Murphy club's quota of the seals, but by so doing one half of the proceeds from the sale, which would amount to $25, would be retained by the club to aid in its work for the crippled children of the Murphy area.

Sale of seals in the county is in charge of Bill Whitaker of the Andrews Rotary club. At Andrews a committee of Mr. Whitaker, the Rev. E. F. Troutman, and I. B. Hudson are disposing of $100 worth of seals through the Andrews school.

At the meeting, which was presided over by W. M. Fain, vice-president, in the absence of President G. W. Ellis, who is ill, R. G. Carter, owner of the Ideal cleaning establishment here, was elected to membership in the club.

Members also decided to provide treatment for three local children who have recently been found to have defective sight, and to aid another in being enrolled in a state institution for the blind.

Dave Carringer and E. R. Thompson were appointed as a committee by Mr. Fain to raise more funds for the establishment of a mattress factory here which will employ several blind men.

A. Q. Ketner announced that the club would sponsor a speaker from the extension department of Raleigh at a future meeting, and Mr. Bueck extended an invitation for the speaker to appear before the local student body.

HARRY COOPER TAKES A DRINK AND WINS PRAISES BY RALEIGH WRITERS

HARRY COOPER, ... water, believe it or not.

MARRIES ANOTHER 70 HOURS AFTER HER HUSBAND DIES

Somekind of an unusual record was set here last week when Mrs. Jim Moore, less than 70 hours after the death of her husband, became Mrs. Mauldin Carter.

Mr. Moore, about 60, was buried in a local cemetery Tuesday, March 2. Thursday at midnight his widow had suddenly become the blushing, beaming bride of Mr. Carter.

Mrs. Moore gave her age as 35 to the ordinary at Blairsville, Ga., who performed the perfunctory marriage rites in his shirt sleeves and with the aid of a kerosene lamp.

Mr. Moore's burial clothes and Mrs. Carter's wedding gown were bought from the same merchant here within a few hours of each other.

Mr. Carter awoke a local justice of peace in the middle of the night, and asked him to marry him. The justice explained that the ceremony could not be performed until a license had been obtained from the register of deeds, who by this time was fast asleep.

It was also explained that total marriage fees amount to something like six or seven dollars here which was more than Mr. Carter had in pocket at that time.

So, Mr. Carter, sensing a marriage within 52 cents of his total assets, which amounted to a little more than $3, hied him away with his bride-to-be through the crisp night air to the Georgia matrimonial pier-and his wife's second honeymoon.

Carson Tuesday was arraigned before Mayor J. B. Gray on a charge of disturbance of the peace. The mayor gave him his choice of two months on the road at Andrews or leaving the county for good.

Tuesday night Carson was gone—and his new bride is apparently a widow again.

SOCIAL AGENCIES WILL REORGANIZE IN MURPHY MAR. 27

There will be a meeting Saturday Morning in the Woman's Club Room of the Murphy library building for the purpose of reorganizing the County Council of Social Agencies and elect officers and place the work of the council for the coming year.

Every civic, social and religious club or organization in the county is invited to send delegates to this meeting and it is hoped that every person who is interested in welfare work in the county who possibly can do so will attend this meeting. Attendance may be either on an invitation basis or club membership basis.

REPEALER—Having achieved what no Representative from a far western county, traditionally the land of moonshine liquor and fervent Drys ever has, Representative Harry (Light-horse) Cooper of Cherokee could go home with his slate of "must" legislation closed but the Representative from the furthest west county doesn't intend to until he goes for good.

Last week end saw the last of Cooper's bills to legalize Sunday baseball and movies in Cherokee enacted. Another Cooper law legalized pool rooms in his county. That makes Cherokee the only small county west of the Blue Ridge not under rigid "blue laws."

Frequently the target of Speaker Cherry's darts, The Gentleman from Cherokee seldom loses his ability to "take it", and he has contributed to some of the lighter moments in the House, of which he has been one of the most faithful attendants. The reason: He lives more than 400 miles from Raleigh and can't get to his home in Murphy and back in a single week-end without considerable inconvenience. Only once since the session began has he gone home and that was when he went on over into Tennessee to appear as counsel in the McFadden-Gaddis murder trial. He was absent a week that time. FOUR CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING WANTED BY FBI

One Man, Three Women, Of Atlanta, Being Held Without Bond

The Federal Bureau of Investigation Sunday notified Murphy police to hold three girls and one man charged with the kidnaping of Dave Ellison, 30, Atlanta, Ga., automobile salesman, last Wednesday night, until they could take them into custody.

Chief of police Fred Johnson, who arrested the group Thursday, said they were now being held without bond.

Those charged with the kidnaping are: Bill Wilson and his three female companions, Jerry Golden, Marie Wilson and Odel Thrasher. All gave their residence as Atlanta.

The quartet was placed under $500 bond each Thursday morning and bound over to Superior court by Mayor J. B. Gray after trial in mayor's court. Ellison was also placed under $500 and held as a material witness. Hadley Dickey, of the Dickey Chevrolet company, went his bond Friday, and Ellison returned to his home in Atlanta.

Later the bond on Bill Ellison and Miss Golden was raised to $1000 each, but bond on all four was lifted when (Continued on back page)

SERVICES HELD SATURDAY FOR REV. C. DICKEY

Widely-Known Minister And Writer Died At Hampton, Va.

Funeral services for the Rev. Charles Hadley Dickey, 48, of Raleigh were held at the Baptist church in Murphy Saturday morning at 11 o'clock with the Rev. J. C. Ammons, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Murphy cemetery. W. D. Townson was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Dickey, a well know Baptist minister and writer, died in the Veterans' hospital at Hampton, Va., on Wednesday of a heart ailment. He had been ill about one month.

The active pallbearers were: Hadley, Sheridan, and Charles Dickey, Tom Evans, E. O. Christopher, and Tom Axley.

Amid banks of floral offerings, a musical program was rendered under the direction of Mrs. Emily Davidson.

Mr. Dickey was typically "the local boy who made good." He was born in Murphy on December 16, 1888, the son of A. K. Dickey and Mrs. Mary McLeod Dickey. He attended Carson-Newman college, Jefferson City, Tenn., and the Southern Baptist seminary at Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Dickey served as chaplain in the American expeditionary forces during the World War. He held pastorates in Paragould, Ark., Aroma, Ind., LaGrange, Ga., and Williamston. He was well known for his magazine and newspaper writings and was a contributor to practically every publication in the state. His journalistic work among religious circles was outstanding.

Prior to his death he was offered a trip through the continents to gather material for an international magazine. He was to have been conductor of a tour for a large party of students and religious leaders. In his extensive travels, Mr. Dickey had interviewed such notables as Dr. Stanley Jones, Martha Berry, Cora Harris, Dr. George Truett, and Thomas Dixon.

He was a member of the Masonic order, the Kiwanis club, and the American Legion.

Surviving are his widow; two sons Charlie Dickey, Jr., and David Dale Dickey; his father, Allen K. Dickey, former state senator, and five sisters Mrs. F. O. Christopher and Mrs. Neil Sneed, both of Murphy, Mrs. W. T. Smalley, of Macon, Ga., Mrs. William A. Weeks, of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. G. Montroy, of Anniston, Ala.
