Citizens Are Reminded Of Chicken Ordinance

Officials of the Town of Murphy are impressing upon citizens this week a statute which prohibits them permitting chickens to run at large in the corporate limits.

The action followed complaints which were carried to councilmen.

The statute reads: "It shall be unlawful for any firm, person or corporation to allow his hers or its chickens or other fowls to run upon any of the streets, alleys, or other lots, or upon the premises of any per-son other than the owner of said fowls with the Town of Murphy.

"Any person, firm or corporation violating this provision shall be guilty of a msdeamanor and fined $10 for each offense."

Chattanooga Road Will Be Improved Soon

A four-mile paving project on Water Level highway, beginning at the North Carolina line and connecting with the Ducktown highway, will be included in the 1938 budget of the state highway department, Commis-sioner M. O. Allen, of the Tennessee state highway department, said Sa. turday, according to the Copper City Advance after inspecting the road.

The river road, which is too narrow in places for paving, will probably be widened and treated to settle the dust before the summer stated the commissioner. There are more than 20 miles of the unpaved road and the dust in the summer time is almost unbearable, it was pointed out Commissioner Allen.

The road from Parksville to the new river bridge, near Ocoee, will also be paved the year, it is thought, which will give a paved road all the way from Parksville to Cleveland.

Increasing demands of road traffic Commissioner Allen declared, are requiring bigger, better, wider and | stronger highways. There will be $8.000,000 spent on Tennessee highthis year, the commissioner

Operations At, Talc

The Carolina Tale company which was partially raized by flames at Kimsay near here two weeks ago imperilling the lives of eight mine workers, is being rebuilt and operations are expected to be resumed within the next "10 days or two weeks", according to J. All your favorite end men will be jokes a la Hall Cobb. The pseudoline-up consists of such old favorites Mr. Cobb, K. C. Wright, the interlocutor, and some not-so.well-knowns such as Peyton G. Ivie, Frank Smith and ye ed.

This comedy sketch of the progra is under the direction of Mr. Cobb while Miss Martha Nell Well's has charge of one portion of the musical program, and Park W. Fisher has charge of another.

Unlike most old-fashioned minstrels, the directors are making an attempt to stream-line this one-that is, if dusky end-men can be streamlined. Instead of building the songs and jokes around the 'Shade of the Old Apple Tree", the leaders are building its theme up around "The Big Apple", which incidentally is the theme song of the show.

From the end-men and rank and file of pulchritude which will grace the stage from start to finish there will come a large number of new voices-some voices you would never suspect were there, (and some which

TESTIMONY IN STILES' DEATH IS HEARD HERE

Two Bound Over to Superior Court: Two Held As Material Witnesses

Grady Carringer, 19, and Dorothy Barnes, 16, both of Murphy, were bound over to Cherokee County Superior court on charges growing out of the death of Glen Stiles, 28, who was found dead two miles from Murphy on the Blairsville highway the night of January 23.

Lewis King, 19. and Frances Head, 17, are being held as material wit-

Action followed a preliminary hearing in the Murphy court house Tuesday before a capacity audience. Justice of the Peace George A. Hembree, of Cherokee county, presided over the hearing. He was assisted by Justice of the Peace Fred O. Bates, of Murphy.

The boys are being held under $1000 bond each while the girls are under $500 bond anch. Warrants were sworn out ... the four by Pat-ton Stiles, father of the dead man. about three weeks ago.

Following presentation of state's evidence in the case, no evidence was offered by the defense at preliminary hearing, and judgment was passed.

defense was represented by Don Witherspoon and J. D. Mallonee while J. N. Moody represented the prosecution.

Charges Made

Warrants were sworn on the contention that the four defendants, who were riding in a car the night of the fatal accident and who were the first to advise Stiles' family of the accident, were in the car that struck Stiles and dragged him approximately Sheridan Stiles, a brother of the deceased was the first called to the stand. He told of first being called to his door by the defendants, and going from 500 to 600 feet up the highway where his brother lay at the point of death. He testified he helped to place him in the car driven by the defendants. Stiles died en-route to the hospital.

He said the body had evidently been struck and dragged about 75 feet, and he designated officers who had come to the scene and made investigations. Stiles stated the ear the defendants were driving was a maroon Ford V-8 and that the accident occurred between 7 and 7:30 o'clock on a Sunday evening. Misse Barnes, the witness declared, fainted twice after the body had left for the hospital and was quoted as saying she was the cause of him being killed. The giris, he added, stayed at the house while Stiles was taken to town.

Defense attornies went into detail concerning the arrival of the defendants to notify the family of the accident, and showed the car was headed toward Murphy when it stopped the highway. The body, testimeny showed, had been struck on the right hand side of the road going toward Blairsville and hurled to the left of the road with the head and body projecting off the macadam surface and the feet on it.

Stiles said Robbins Robinson, deputy sheriff, also heard Miss Barnes say, "I was the cause of him getting

The witness added that as he left the house with Carringer, King, his father and his brother to go to the body of the victim, another car was seen to pass going toward Blairsville about 35 or 40 miles an hour, apply brakes, come to a stop at the] and quickly drive on again. The e and its occupants were not learned. Stiles said it did not hit the body of his brother.

Deputy Robi Deputy Robinson described bearing Miss Barnes make the statement, " was the cause of him getting killed," but that later she explained she lad
