

MANY EXPECTED TO VIEW SCOUT'S COOKING SCHOOL

Novel Motion Picture Exhibition To Be Held 3 Days, June 8-10

It's the talk of the town! Women throughout the community are planning to attend the friendly class for home-makers, the Motion Picture Cooking School, scheduled to open at the Henn theater Wednesday, June 8.

A welcome invitation to the wise and sufficient, and the only invitation needed for this novel cooking school is that extended to every woman by The Cherokee Scout. There is no charge to see any of the showings of "Star in My Kitchen".

Because this newspaper stands ready to sponsor all progressive developments, particularly when they affect the homes of the community, it is presenting this motion picture romance of home-making entirely free.

"If I could only see exactly how she mixes and handles her pie-crust." That comment has been heard from beginners and from more experienced cooks at many cooking schools. Craning necks and anxious eyes, trained on the state from the sides and back of the demonstration hall, have failed to catch all of the important steps in pastry-making and other culinary arts. Only the early birds in the very front row have had a close-up of the stage in the past, and even they couldn't peer directly into the mixing bowl.

Now the wizardry of the camera has solved the problem, making it possible for every person in the Henn theater to share each fascinating stage of the planning, measuring, blending, and baking in practical, up-to-the-minute kitchens.

Keeping pace with the baking, roasting and frying, a series of salads and frozen delicacies will parade in and out of the adaptable electric refrigerator, which will reveal its host of possibilities for simplifying labor and marketing, and contributing to good health and good food.

Advises Farmers To Preserve Pastures

Pastures that are seeded this spring should not be grazed too closely until young plants get a good start, R. B. Wooten, assistant Cherokee county agent, advises local farmers.

"In fact it is better not to graze newly-seeded pastures at all this spring. I advise going over both new and old pastures and cutting out all unnecessary growths of weeds, and if they are very heavy to go over them with a mowing machine. This applies also to lespedeza which was seeded before May 1", Mr. Wooten stated.

He said it was advisable "after small grain is cut that land seeded to lespedeza should be clipped with a mowing machine to give the lespedeza a good start."

Mr. Mitchell said his office had received vaccine for 100 dogs and that it would be used immediately. There is a charge of 50 cents for the vaccination which is required once a year, he added.
