FUNDS FOR TVA DAM ASSURED IN OFFICE BILL

County May Get 5 Per Cent Of Power Sale Returns

An appropriation of $6,222,000 for completion of the TVA's Hiwassee dam in Cherokeo county was virtually assured Wednesday when the house voted to adopt the conference report on the independent offices bill which carried an appropriation of $39,003,-000 for TVA construction. The vote was 184 to 176 in favor of the report and the North Carolina delegation voted solidly in favor of it.

The action of the lower house reversed previous action in which the house eliminated part of the TVA appropriation, only to see it restored by the senate.

Meanwhile, Rep. Weaver, (D., N. C.), introduced in the house a bill to amend the TVA act which would pay the state of North Carolina five per cent of the receipts from the power sales of the Hiwassee dam and the Fontana dam, if and when constructed.

Administration leaders won a vital victory in obtaining adoption of the report and preventing a blow to a major New Deal agency. Few Demo-crats voted with the Republican bloc in opposing the conference report, al-though a large number refrained from voting. Rep. Doughton, (D., N. C.), veteran Tar Heel member of the house, was prevented from voting

The TVA, if the senate votes for The TVA, if the senate votes for the conference reports as expected, will be able to continue work on the Gilberstville dam an dto help be-gin construction on a dam at or near Watts Bar. A total amount of $17,-206,000 is provided in the bill for these projects.

Senator Bailey, (D., N. C.), voted for the Adams amendment which would have eliminated the TVA items from appropriations bill. Senator Reynolds, D., N. C.), voted against it.

Weaver explained today that the states of Alabama and Tennessee each receives five per cent of the receipts from TVA operations within

MANY FOREST FIRES ARE CAUSED BY CARELESSNESS, WARDEN SAYS

According to County Forest Warden S. S. Birchfield of Murphy, approximately 800 forest fires burned in North Carolina during 1938 as a result of brokh with the country of sult of brush burning. These 800 for-est fires cost the State of North Carolina thousands of dollars damage to timber and wild life to say nothing of the effect the fires have on such as soil erosion and the aesthetic value of our woodland.

Every single one of those 800 fires represents a case where someone was careless with fire. Therefore, County Warden Birchfield takes this opportunity to remind all, who intend to burn brush, sedge, or debris of any kind in connection with this kind in connection with their Spring farming and clearing, to familiarize themselves fully with the North Carolina Forest Fire Laws.

Before burning debris of any kind, secure from your County Forest War-den, or one of his authorized representatives, a burning permit, Burning permits can be secured from County Forest Warden Birch field at Murphy, N. C., and the fol-lowing District Wardens: Charlie Me-Donald, Grandview; Earl Payne, Cul-berson, and U. S. Ranger office, An-

After securing a burning permit, notify your adjoining landowners that you intend to do such burning. Maintain careful and competent watch over your fire and, by all means, never leave your fire until it is completely out.

completely out. Even after you have above provisions, never go ahead and burn while there is a high wind blowing and the woods are dangerously dry. Burn following a rain, in the afternoon or at night when the air is damp and the fire is easily controlled. Never set fire to anything in the morning since you have the entire day ahead of you when wind conditions are likely to become such that it is impossible to control your fire or con-fine it to the area which you had planned to burn.

When burning brush, make your brush piles small and burn them one at a time. Never set a large number of brush piles on fire at one time. To so may cause the fire to get out of control.

The State Forest Service Laws are going to be enforced and those fail-ing to comply with these laws will be prosecuted. We hope that through your cooperation this will not be ne-

WPA SEWING ROOM PROJECT HERE

PRODUCES MANY FINE GARMENTS

By Kathleen Roberts

One of the most interesting projects, but the least known about, is the WPA Sewing Project.

The Sewing room has been remodeled and now consists of two rooms, the stitching room and the finishing room. The stitching room consists of the sewing machines, arranged in a neat row, a large cabinet containing the person in charge of the contest in which they are interested.

Plans were made for a hot lunch to be served at the school the day the program is held.

Means Nantahala Power And Light Co. Will Serve Town

The house committee on counties, cities and towns Wednesday reported unfavorably Representative Clyde H. Jarrett's bill to exempt the town of Murphy from certain provisions of the 1938 re-venue bond act relating to estab-lishment of a municipal power

The committee's action, taken up-

The committee's action, taken upon recommendations of Utilities Commissioner Stanley Winborne, was interpreted as killing the town's prospects of a municipal power plant with aid of the Tennessee Valley authority.

In view of the committee's action, it is anticipated that the Nantahala Power and Light company will exercise its option to purachse the Southern States Power company's distribution plant for the Murphy area. The Nantahala officials agreed with Winborne to give Murphy consumers a rate much Murphy consumers a rate much lower than the present Southern States Power company's schedule but about ten per cent higher than TVA scale. Winborne told the committiee that Murphy could not provide power, amortize its indebtedness and provide for depreciation at the TVA rate.

the TVA rate.
The Jarrett bill introduced at request of town officials, sought to exempt Murphy from provisions of the act which would require the town to obtain a certificate of convenience and necessity from the utilities commission before acquir-ing or erecting a distribution plant.

The purpose of the proposed exemption, sponsors said Tuesday, was to permit the town to acquire or construct an electrical distribution system without first obtaining a certificate of convenience and neces-sity from the public utilities commis-

Utilities Commissioner Winborne opposed the measure, de-claring that it struck at the state policy of prohibiting a municipality or power company from invading the territory already served by another municipal or private power com-

Mayor Favors Measure
