Mrs. Miller Hostess To Presbyterian Auxiliary

The Presbyterian Auxiliary met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Miller.

Mrs. J. H. Wilson was in charge of the program entitled "Every Woman Enlisted For Christ." After the devotion, conducted by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. L. Patsy discussed the program. Mrs. J. N. Hill told the story of Martin Luther, a Christian leader, who is imprisoned in a concentration camp in Sachsenhausen, Germany because of his religious beliefs and conscience.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Miller served a salad course with tea to Mesdames H. L. Patsy, J. W. Bailey, J. N. Hill, Paul Smith, John H. Dillard, T. T. Lindsey, J. H. Wilson, M. W. Bell, Don Witherspoon, C. W. Savage, and R. S. Parker.

ST. PATRICK DANCE HELD AT LIBRARY SATURDAY NIGHT ATTENDED BY MANY

Mr. and Mrs. John Hollinshead, Mr. and Mrs. J. Burgess Bailey, and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sayre entertained with a delightful Saint Patrick Dance Saturday evening in the Woman's Club Room.

The guests were greeted at the Club room entrance, which was artistically decorated to carry out the Saint Patrick motif by the host who presented them with favors for the evening.

The ceiling of the room was so decorated to form an immense wheel of green and white streamers with sham rocks hanging from each spoke. Forming a lovely centerpiece for the table covered with a lace cloth was a large punch bowl surrounded by petite shamrocks, and slender green and white tapers burning unshaded in silver holders.

Guest invited for the evening were:
