CONVICT IS SHOT TRYING TO FLEE ANDREWS CAMP

Two Others Wounded By Shotgun Blast As They Lie In Bunks

Sighted as he attempted a jail break from his cage at the Andrews Prison camp shortly after midnight last Wednesday morning, Marshal Jordan a prisoner sent to the roads from Graham county was shot in the arm and back by Prison Guard Oscar Duckworth, and had to be hurried to Petrie hospital, in Murphy. Though painfully wounded, attending physicians said he probably would recover.
 Gibson was struck by a charge of buckshot fired from a shot gun. Lead pellets either from the same, or second blast also wounded the other two prisoners who were lying in their bunks in the same cage from which Jordan attempted his getaway. "Batwing" Gibson, of Graham was slightly wounded in the back, and Porter Williams, also of Graham, was wounded in the hand. They, too, were taken to Petrie hospital, but after their wounds had been dressed, they were returned to the prison camp.

According to one of the prisoners, the shooting occurred about one o'clock Wednesday morning. Jordan, somehow, had gotten possession of a hacksaw which he hid until the night of his attempted break. Then, after the other inmates of his cage were all asleep he sawed through the slender iron lattice work of the cage, about two feet from the ground.

It is believed he also had secreted a piece of fat meat with which he greased his saw frequently to prevent it from squeaking. At any rate, working so quietly that none of his fellow prisoners awakened, he managed to cut a hole barely large enough to crawl through. Then, getting on his stomach he squirmed through to the outside.

Prison Guard Duckworth not only was on his alert, but happened to be facing the cage when the prisoner crawled through. As the latter rose to his feet, the Guard is reported to have ordered him to halt.

Whether Jordan was too startled to obey instantly or whether he chose to make a break for it is not known. An instant later there were two blasts from the shot gun. According to Jordan's fellow prisoner, who told of the frustrated break, Guard Duckworth also fired from his revolver, but he is believed to have fired either into the air, or into the ground, largely as a warning to other prisoners, because he did not know how a big hole had been sawed in the cage, or whether any others might try to escape. None of the revolver shots came even close to hitting anyone;—and Duckworth, reputedly is a dead shot.

Whether the first or second shot gun blast struck Jordan also is not known. According to a fellow prisoner, he did not fall. Instead he straightened up, clasped his right arm with his left hand and called:

"Don't shoot any more, Cap—you've already shot my hand off."

Actually the buckshot had penetrated his back—though not deeply enough to make a mortal wound—and his arm near the elbow. The numbness from the latter wound, probably made him think his hand was gone.

The Prisoner is said then to have raised his hands above his head, and stood motionless while Guard Duckworth walked up to him. Never once, it is said, did he either cry out, or even moan.

The other two prisoners, who had been wounded while lying in their bunks, did cry for help, however, and the cage was unlocked, and they were brought out.

All three wounded men were placed in the patrol wagon and rushed to the hospital. All three, including Jordan walked to the wagon and climbed in without assistance.

An investigation is said to be under way seeking to learn where Jordan secured his hacksaw.

ALL DAY SINGING

An all-day Singing will be held at Martin's Creek school house, Sunday, July 23. There will be both quartet and group singing in the School house on the Blairsville highway. There will be a lunch stand on the grounds.

THREE COUNTIES PLAN PICNIC AT MARTINS CREEK

Choir Singing, Jug Band and free Watermelon is Promised

The annual Farmers Federation Picnic for Cherokee, Clay and Graham counties will be held Saturday July 15 at Martins Creek schoolhouse.

An outstanding event of the day according to Max Roberts, Federation Field man in charge of arrangements, will be a singing convention in the afternoon. Already nine choirs and six quartets have indicated they will participate. And in addition there will be five or six special features, including music by Lewis Sherrill's Jug Band from Bryson City.

The program will open at 10:00 in the morning with D. Witherspoon of Murphy presiding. Brief addresses will be made by James G. K. McClure, Federation president, and S. C. Clapp head of the cooperative's seed department. There will be numerous contests during the morning with prizes offered for the largest family present, the largest truck load of persons attending, the oldest married couple, the youngest married couple, the baldest head, the longest beard, and the best tall story.

Dinner will be at noon and the Federation will supply free lemonade and watermelon. In the early afternoon there will be various athletic contests followed by a singing convention, with prizes offered in all events.

Following is a list of choirs and quartets which have signified their intention of taking part in the singing convention.

Choirs, Bellevue, (Jr. and Sr.), Murphy; Buffalo, Robbinsville; Upper Peachtree, Peachtree; Valleytown, Andrews; Hayesville Church, Hayesville; Downings Creek, Hayesville; Elf, Hayesville; Mt. Pisgah, Warren; Old Shooting Creek, Shooting Creek; Quartets: Peachtree, Peachtree; Bear Creek, Robbinsville; Sweet

FARMS GET POWER VIA NEW STATION FOR ONLY 3 CENTS

Mountain farms on both sides of the Georgia state line are being lighted with electricity this week, at a rate of only three cents per kilowatt hour it was learned from Mr. C. L. Alverson, power representative of the department of Operation of the TVA. The new electrification system has been completed, and immediate supervision turned over to the Blue Ridge Electrical Membership Corporation, with a directorate of business men and farmers. This corporation was originated and financed under the direction of the R. E. A.

Power will be furnished from a new sub-station just completed at Mission Dam. There are approximately 100 miles of rural lines, which eventually will serve about 500 customers. Power was first turned on June 20, and although all the farmhouses have not yet been wired, it is expected that the work will be completed by July 15, at the latest.

In addition to the farms serviced, current will be applied to the towns Hiwassee and Young Harris, Ga., and to the section around Blairsville, Ga. The lines run through Blairsville, but none there can benefit, because the latter is served by a small company which belongs to the recent owner of the Southern States Company.

Residents living less than a mile outside Blairsville will be able to get electric lights at three cent per kilowatt hour. Residents of Blairsville proper, served by a less modern plant, must pay fifteen cents.

There is talk in Blairsville of a town-wide boycott of the privately owned system.

Water, Japan, N. C.; Valley River, Andrews; John Donley, Murphy and Valley Town of Andrews. Any other musicians are invited to participate.

Although it is sponsored by the Federation, the picnic is a public event open to all farmers and others desiring to attend.
