FOLK SCHOOL

July 22nd, Saturday, marked the first Carvers Convention, at the John C. Campbell Folk School. Carvers of the animals, for which the Folk School is so well known, started arriving with their families early in the morning. All inspected the farm, especially the pastures, hybrid corn experiments, and poultry, under the guidance of Oscar Cantrell and Gwen Cornwell.

One of the most interesting sights was the herd of registered Jerseys almost buried in green as they fed on soy-beans and Sudan grass.

In the main hall and the living room of Keith House stimulating exhibits had been arranged. In one an unusual display of carvings from all over the world; in the other were collected examples of the Folk School carvers' work, from the first awkward attempts of nine years ago, up through the most recent developments. Immense interest was shown in both exhibits.

Guests came and went all day, but at noon some 80 ate lunch out-doors in the woods by the Museum. In the afternoon Mrs. Campbell opened the program by explaining how she had happened to call a Carvers Convention; the first of the kind, as far as she knew. She then introduced the principal speaker, Miss Margaret Ambrose, Assistant Director in charge of Home Demonstration Work of the Agricultural Extension of the University of Tennessee.

Miss Ambrose spoke on some of her experiences in her 27 years of work in the Extension Division, and on the need for "Goals," if we expect to accomplish anything.

Louise L. Pitman, in charge of handicrafts at the Folk School, told something of the history of the carving begun in the winter of 1930 at the school. Miss Helen Cullins, District Agent of the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Tennessee, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Loeffler of the Allanstand Cottage Industries in Asheville spoke briefly. Russell Miller of Gum Log, Georgia, and W. T. Massey, of Warne spoke on what carving had meant to this whole section. The program closed with songs led by Wallace Massey of Warne.

Carvers, most of them with their families, were well represented at the Convention. They included A. B. Hall, C. R. Kimsey, W. T. Massey, Charles Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Massey, Marion Mann, Ruth Hawkins, John H. Hall, Clinton McLeaymore, Kenneth L. West, Glenn Brown Haden Hensley, Frank Lee, James Sutton, George Hall, Medford Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Martin, Jack Hall, Troy Bradley, Fred Messer, Russell Miller, Jay Morris, Charles Miller, Howard Mann, Clarence Fleming, Jess Cable, Everette Hall, Wayne Holland, Fred Smith, W. J. Martin, Jr., Mrs. A. B. Martin, George Fleming, Leon Deschamps, Oscar Cantrell, Norma Carringer, Bee Clayton, Floyd Clayton, Henry Clayton, Weaver Hogan, Grant West, Ray West, Clarence West, W. J. Martin, Avery Beavers, Mrs. Polly Beavers, Earl Beavers, Frieda May Beavers, Carmen Fleming, and Nolan Beavers.

Among the invited guest present were Miss Helen Cullins of Nashville, Miss Margaret Ambrose and Mrs. Maynard Firmin of Knoxville, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Loeffler of Asheville, Miss Aline Richardson, Home Demonstration Agent for Cherokee County, Mrs. Jennie Rohn of Monticello, Iowa, mother of Mrs. Gwen Cornwell.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD
 Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Ice-cream

The stomach should digest the particles of food that you eat. When you eat hard to digest, heavy, rich foods or when you eat too much, hurried or stale food—your stomach's own power to digest these foods fails. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over. Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called He-Lax for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package works it. Ask for He-Lax for Indigestion.
