William L. Austin, director of the Bureau of the Census, took his first job with the bureau in 1900 and his 40 years since then have been devoted to census work. He is a native of Scott county, Mississippi, and is 69 years old. He will have charge of about 16,000 workers while the present enumeration is being made.

The Duke of Paducah Sez:

WHY does a chicken cross th' road? Ask any feller that's had a garden he can tell you. I know my garden wuz a success last year cause my neighbors chickens tuck first prize at th' poultry show. My neighbor sez he's goin' t' start a truck farm this year. He can't kid me! ain't that green, you don't raise trucks, they come from a factory. Had a letter from Ma yesterday an' she sez Pa aint started th' spring plowin' yit cause th' bad weather's putt him three weeks behind with his spring fishin'. Talkin' about gardens, many a little boy has been spanked while tryin' t' help Pa plant a garden, an' a few years later that same boy could use a dern good thrashin' while sewin' his wild oats. Lots o' fathers have said, "It takes a lot o' son light ever day t' raise a garden." But they forgot t' tell th' son they used a lot o' lectric light after dark t' cultivate ther crop o' wild oats. I'm goin' to the wagon boys—these shoes are killin' me.

"THE MAN" IS DUE SOON TO CHECK YOUR AAA WORK

Annual Visits to Every Farm in State Have Now Been Started

"The man" will come around almost any day now to check your farm for compliance with the 1940 AAA program, announces E. Y. Floyd, Triple-A executive officer of State College, and he urges growers to cooperate fully with the compliance supervisors. Training schools have been held for compliance checkers, and the annual visits to every farm in the State have started.

Floyd asked that farmers immediately notify their county AAA office when they have planted tobacco or cotton, or both. Every farmer who signed a Farm Plan indicating his intention to participate in the 1940 program will have his fields completely checked. Other farms also will be checked if they have a tobacco or cotton allotment, or both.

"If the compliance supervisor finds that tobacco and cotton have been planted within acreage allotments," Floyd said, "then the grower will be given a card allowing him to sell without penalty the entire production of the two crops for which marketing quotas were approved in referendum last fall."

If either one or both of the crops is overplanted, then the grower will be given a reasonable time to plow under enough to comply with the allotment, or face a penalty on excess marketings and loss of Agricultural Conservation payments.

Aerial photographs will speed the compliance check in the 80 counties where they are available.

Traffic violators in Tampa, Fla. have been made to serve their jail sentences on Sundays, so that they can continue to hold their regular jobs.

John Kaczmarek of Chicago started to ride a motor-powered scooter without learning how to step the thing, and crashed into a building. At the hospital he declared that he would try it again after taking a lesson or two on stopping.

under the escort of a policeman.

Arrested for kicking his wife on the street in Seattle, Herbert Hayes explained: "You see, judge, it was my wife, and she didn't mind." But the judge did mind and sent Herbert to jail for 10 days.

Henry Walsh, 62, became impatient with traffic which delayed his crossing a busy New York street. Drawing a pistol, he quickly cleared the way and crossed in triumph—only to recess a moment later ever.
