Veteran Performs Heroic Rescue of Drowning Youth

Saves Life Of Floyd Baker In Hiwassee Lake

Floyd Baker, 16 year-old Factorytown youth, was snatched from a watery grave here Thursday afternoon in a sensational nick-e-time rescue by a crippled world war veteran, who swam 100 yards across Hiwassee lake and pulled the boy to safety after he (Baker) had sunk from sight beneath the waters of the Hiwassee Lake.

The rescurer was Fornie "Crip" Me-Crary, occupant of the local CCC veterans camp.

Baker, who was given medical treatment immediately after being revived was reported Saturday as almost fully recovered.

About 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon Baker and several other young people were swimming in the lake near the Southern railway trestle. which is directly across the lake from the CCC camp where McCrary and a companion were swimming. Baker had swam across the lake several times, according to witnesses, propelling a log before him and using it for a float. On one trip across as he neared the bank he suddenly released his grasp on the log and sank. He rose to the surface and gave a cry for help, and sank again.

His companions on shore apparently became panicked with fear and also began to shout and scream for help. Hearing their cries. McCrary. although hindered by a crippled hip leaped into the water and swam all the way across the lake to the spot where the boy sank.

McCrary said he dived as near the spot as he could and searched the bottom for the boy's body. After almost a minute he discovered Baker thinging to a snag on the bottom of an old ditch which extended out into the lake. After several efforts he managed to break the boy's grip and brought him to the surface.

McCrary towed the boy to shore and administered artificial respiration for approximately ten minutes before bringing him back to consciousness. He described the boy as being very near death with his lungs filled with water and his breathing halted for an sudefinite length of time. As soon as he was revived a volunteer carried Baker to a local hospital where medical treatment internment. was given.

Efforts are being made to secure a Carnegie Medal for McCrary, who in store. Tuesday evening while sitting addition to performing a heroic act | in the lobby of the Regal Hotel, he in saving the boy's life, did so under complained of feeling ill, and was a huge handicap. McCrary's hip was helped on a couch. Failing to rally, crushed in a train wreck several plans were being made to drive him years ago which almost completely back to Sylva when his attack took disabled one leg and his hip.

McCrary was very modest about the whole affair, however, merely stating, "it would be a lot safer for those kids swimming down there if they had life guards and some kind of rules to protect them."
