by WOODY COWAN

PARACHUTE Infantry Sgt. Ray E. Eubanks, La Grange, N. C., awarded a Medal of Honor posthumously, died after clubbing to death 4 Japs with his rifle in a machine gun and mortar nest. Going to the relief of a platoon isolated by the enemy in Dutch New Guinea, he crawled to the Nips' position, was wounded and his rifle crippled, but charged in, swinging. After a shot dropped Eubanks, his squad killed 45 and effected the relief. War Bonds help equip such heroes. U. S. Treasury Department

FSA Farmers Are Cooperating In Establishing Dairy Routes

The Farm Security Administration is cooperating with the County Agents and the personnel of the Coble Dairy Products Co. in building up the dairy industry in Cherokee and Clay counties to the point where the Coble Dairy Products Co. will be justified in establishing the three to four hundred thousand dollar plant they have promised this section when the milk supply justifies, states Ernest F. Arnold, county FSA supervisor.

Thirty farmers on the FSA farm program have already purchased or arranged for the purchase of cows to milk for Coble Dairy Products Company. Six of these farmers have built Grade A barns, two have barns under construction and three have arranged to finance their barn building and cow purchasing program.

The Farm Security Administration is prepared to lend any eligible low-income farmer money with which to buy cows and establish pastures through the purchase of seed and fencing on a five-year basis.

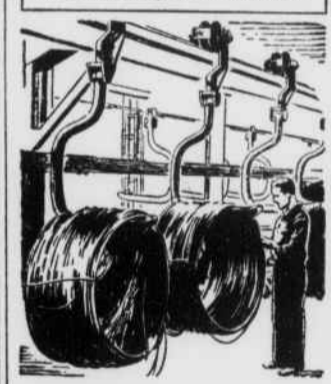

The dairy business offers the small farmer who has land enough to produce feed and pasture an opportunity to have a monthly income, stated the farm supervisor. The milk market through the Coble Dairy Product Co. is one of the safest and soundest markets the farmers of this section can build up, says Mr. Arnold.

REVIVAL SERVICES
The Rev. Varnell Ozment invites the public to attend the revival services at Rogers Chapel church, beginning Sunday night, July 15. Services will be held each night at 8:15 o'clock with the Rev. D. B. Alderman of Shooting Creek in charge.

The United States has produced about 50 percent more food annually during the present war period than in World War I.

Manganese, a material used in small quantities to toughen steel may be needed in the human diet, so tests with rabbits indicate.

Behind Your Bonds
Lies the Might of America

RAILS AND RODS
Very early in the steel industry in this country, mills arose at Joliet, Ill., which produced rods, rails and wire, important to the agricultural West. These items could be efficiently made there because of the city's proximity to soft coal fields. While the great plants near Chicago have since overshadowed the Joliet industry, this steel center stands high as an asset in the might of America, insuring full payment of all War Bonds. U. S. TURPENTINE SERVES Turpentine, taken from Florida trees for decades, contributes to the war effort both as a necessary chemical and as an asset to insure payment of War Bonds. Still it is only one of Florida's varied products that feed and equip service men while adding to financial resources behind your bonds. China, glassware, insulation, cotton goods and vegetables, valued at over 300 million dollars annually are purchased by world markets. After the war the demands will increase. U. S. AMERICAN HEROES
by WOODY COWAN

ALONE, thousands of miles from home, in the face of bursting phosphorous grenades, Sgt. Clifford S. Denslow, Dearborn, Mich., took a flame thrower, that the War Bonds some thoughtful person back home had bought to put into his hand, and advanced through the thick jungle to within a few feet of blazing hostile pillboxes. He was in a tight spot but he kept going. He turned on the flame, completely destroyed the emplacements and their machine guns and killed eight Nips. U. S. Treasury Department

LT. LETSON S. BALLIETT, Reno, Nev., awarded a silver star medal, showed conspicuous gallantry in holding a submarine at bay in the Atlantic. As pilot of a Navy torpedo bomber that War Bonds helped to supply, Lt. Balliett, on routine patrol, sighted the German undersea craft fully surfaced and immediately went into action. He let go depth charges across its stern, bracketing and damaging the ship. In the face of anti-aircraft fire, he returned to strafe the submarine and then kept it constantly under surveillance. U. JAPS threatening a vital position in the Solomon Islands were thwarted largely through the leadership of Staff Sgt. Floyd E. Hill, Marshville, N. C., who has been awarded a Silver Star posthumously. As leader of an antitank section, he was ordered to support a rifle platoon and to have his positions dug and ready when the enemy struck. The big gun that War Bonds helped to provide for those men was ready when the Nips struck. Sgt. Hill, wounded, helped his men to completely rout the enemy. U. S. Treasury Department
