Outdoor Writers Visitors In County

Cherokee county was included in the tour which 150 members of the Outdoor Writers Association of America made in connection with a convention held at Chattanooga, Tenn., last week. The motorcade came through Cherokee county Saturday about noon, en route to the Smoky Mountains National park. The party stopped at Cherokee Indian Reservation where a barbecue lunch was served with the State Board of Conservation and Development and Bryson City Chamber of Commerce as hosts.

The visitors, who came from practically every state in the Union, were met at the Tennessee-North Carolina line near Ducktown, by State Highway Sergeant Sandlin and Sheriff Rice of Bryson City; Mayor Neil Sneed, Patrolmen Gallaway, Chief of Police Frank Crawford, J. C. English, E. J. Darnell, and Miss Addie Mae Cooke of Murphy; and Percy B. Ferebee and John Tatham of Andrews.

Mr. Ferebee represented the State Board of Conservation and Development at the barbecue dinner at Cherokee and welcomed the visitors during a short program this county attending the dinner following the meal. Others from here were: John Tatham and J. C. Echolls, Jr., of Andrews, Miss Addie Mae Cooke and Frank Crawford of Murphy.

Brown Working On Control Of Bubonic Plague, Cholera In China

(Hickory Daily Record) WASHINGTON — A former North Carolina school teacher-football coach-sanitary engineer is helping the Chinese people battle a deadlier enemy than the Japs — epidemics of diseases arising in the aftermath of war.

Captain Alton M. Brown, a commissioned officer in the U. S. Public Health Service, recently was transferred to the Shanghai office of UNRRA from Cairo to work on control measures for bubonic plague, cholera and other deadly diseases threatening the lives of China's millions, friends in Washington were informed today.

He spent the past year at the Middle East office of UNRRA in Egypt as sanitary engineer for UNRRA camps. Prior to entering military service in 1944, Captain Brown was assigned by the North Carolina State Board of Health to the Cherokee-Clay-Graham county health unit at Murphy, N. C., and worked with the TVA on sanitary problems in the construction of the Fontana Dam, the fourth largest dam of its kind in the United States.

Captain Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Brown, Sr., 382 Church street, Spartanburg, S. C. formerly of Play, N. C. He was graduated in 1938 from Lenoir Rhyne college, Hickory, N. C., where he edited the yearbook and was president of his class. After completing educational courses at Appalachian college, Boone, he taught at Harshville high school in Union county, N. C., for two years.

Also coaching athletics. He taught at Ellenboro in Rutherford county for four months before entering the School of Public Health at the University of North Carolina in January, 1942.

Drafted in April, 1944, at Fort Bragg, he was transferred to the USPHS and served in the typhus control unit in Atlanta until he was loaned to UNRRA in October of that year. He went overseas March 3, 1945.

Students Fascinated With Handicrafts

Fascinated with the products of their own hands, keepsakes for themselves or gifts for their friends, nineteen Cherokee Countians for the past three days have applied themselves to the making of handicrafts, at a school held at the home economics building in Murphy. The school was arranged through Miss Mary Cornwell, home agent, and Mrs. Ben E. Warner, who has been in handicraft business for the past few years.

Leather work, including billfolds, key cases, wrist coin cases, other coin cases, book marks, comb cases, and various other items; and metal work of pewter and copper, including ash trays, card trays, buttons, and jewelry have been done by many of those attending. Miss Ruth Harris, craftsman from Southern Highlands Handicraft Guild, Knoxville, is teaching leather and metal work.

Classes in weaving are being taught by Mrs. Warner. Miss Winogene Redding, who was supposed to come, was ill and unable to teach.

Those taking the courses are: Mesdames Ernest Hughes, Clyde McNabb, H. S. Webster, Paul Suddreth, Lawson Crawford, Bonnie Hawkins, Jeff Dalrymple, and Guy Hill, Misses Dale Suddreth, Mildred Hendrix, Addie Mae Cooke, Betsy Webster, Leila Hayes, Mary Hayes Farmer, Vonah Lunsford, Martha Caldwell, Carolyn Smith, Jen Mackey, and Ronald Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dudley of Raleigh, and Miss Sarah Witherspoon of Washington, D. C. came for the funeral of E. B. Norvell Sunday.

REV. JACOB GARTENHAUS

Jacob Gartenhaus Preaches Murphy And Andrews Next Sunday

Rev. Jacob Gartenhaus, of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Atlanta, Georgia, has for the past twenty-four years been in charge of the department of Jewish Evangelism as field secretary. In this capacity he has visited and spoken in forty different states and a number of foreign countries. He will speak at First Baptist Church, Murphy, at the 11 o'clock service, Sunday, June 9, and at Andrews Baptist Church, Andrews, Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Gartenhaus was born in Austria, in an orthodox Jewish home of wealth and culture, and was educated in the strictest Jewish schools of learning — the cherished hope of his parents being that he become a rabbi.

He came to this country in his youth seeking more wealth, but this world with its charms failed to satisfy this young Hebrew's search for peace of heart, until he found Jesus of Nazareth. During 1913, in a Baptist mission, he made the complete surrender. He was compelled to give up his business and he turned to his Christian friends for help. After completing his studies at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and the Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, he came to his present position. City-wide meetings have been conducted by him in many of the larger cities, among them: New Orleans, Atlanta, Louisville, Knoxville, Kansas City, St. Louis, Richmond, Baltimore, Oklahoma City and Washington, D. C.

In an interview Mr. Gartenhaus stated he is not what some people term "a converted Jew", but rather "a completed Jew". There is a general impression that when a Jew embraces the principles as proclaimed by Jesus of Nazareth, he thus ceases to be a Jew, but the Apostle Paul spoke of himself as "a Hebrew among Hebrews." This Christian Jew holds a responsible place among Southern Baptists in the life of the denomination, and is rendering a great and lasting service in promoting better relations and understanding between Jews and Gentiles. Quoting the president of the Home Mission Board, "He has done more than any other man to impress upon the minds of southern Baptists the great debt of gratitude they owe the Jewish people. His appeal for fellowship and brotherhood is not alone for Jew and Gentile in America, but for all peoples everywhere."

Gets Citation From American Red Cross

Miss Addie Mae Cooke, chairman of the Cherokee county chapter of the American Red Cross, has received a citation from the American Red Cross, signed by President Truman and Red Cross Chairman Basil O'Connor, with the following comment by John C. Wilson, Southeastern Area manager:

"I am delighted to transmit to you the attached certificate in recognition of your leadership and service with the American National Red Cross during World War II.

"It is recognized that the many hours you have given and the sacrifices you have made in many other ways were not motivated by the thought of reward. We know too that much of your time was given at the expense of your personal and business affairs. The American National Red Cross, however, has had this special certificate prepared in recognition of your service to others.

"Please accept this citation from the American National Red Cross as recognition of the valuable contribution you have made to the war effort through your leadership as chapter chairman. It is being extended as a symbol of appreciation for your loyal and faithful service."

Boarding Home For The Aged Is Needed

One or more boarding homes for homeless old people are greatly needed in Cherokee County, according to statement of Mrs. Laura Freeman, superintendent of public welfare.

The county has two licensed boarding homes for children, but none for the aged.

From time to time the welfare department is confronted with the problem of finding a home for an old age assistance recipient who has no home. These persons are not sick and are able to wait on themselves, but are in need of comfortable home surroundings. A boarding home for the aged must conform to the county sanitation laws, must provide adequate sleeping quarters and proper diet, and should be accessible to a church.

There are in the county today several elderly men and women who have no homes, but who are able, through Old Age Assistance, to pay for their board and care. If these persons are placed at the County Home, their Old Age Assistance grants must be terminated, as required by federal regulations. In that case their board must be paid entirely from county funds, whereas if they are living in a private home the State and Federal Government will pay three-fourths of their Old Age Assistance grants.

Persons who are interested in giving boarding home care to these old age assistance recipients may communicate with the County Welfare Department.

Deadline Set On Army Allowances

June 30, is the last date on which men may enlist in the regular army and retain the privilege of applying for the family allowances which have been paid to all military personnel since 1942. After June 30, no more new applications for this allowance will be accepted by the office of dependency benefits, Sgt. F. C. Mathieu of the local recruiting station in the Regal hotel building announced this week.

All men who enlist before the deadline date, are eligible to apply for allowances for their dependents. Class "A" dependents are wives and children of military personnel. Class "B" dependents are parents and brothers and sisters who are dependent on the soldier for a substantial portion of their support, and class "B-1" dependents are the same as class "B" dependents, except that they are dependent on the soldier for a chief portion of their support, or about 50% of the total amount. A soldier may have allowances paid to both class "A" and "B" or "B-1" dependents at the same time. Class "A" dependents receive amounts as follows: $50 for a wife, and $30 for the first child and $20 for each additional child. Class "B" dependents receive $37, providing no payments are made to class B-1 parents. Class "B-1" dependents receive $50 for one parent, $68 for two parents, and $11 for each brother or sister, or $63 for one parent, and $11 for each brother or sister, or $42 for one brother or sister and $11 for each additional brother and sister.

Mrs. Morris To Give Book Review

On Thursday, June 13, at 9 o'clock Mrs. J. Alton Morris will review some outstanding religious books. Among those to be mentioned will be "David the King", by Schmitt; "Behold the Man", by Woods; "Pathfinders of the World Missionary Crusade", by Eddy; and "Pilgrim's Progress", by Bunyan.

Mrs. W. E. Patterson of Detroit is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Hill and family.

According to an announcement by the pastor, Rev. Ralph Taylor, there is marked interest in the series of services being held in first Methodist Church this week by the Rev. John Carper of Matthews.

Mr. Carper has announced the following sermon topics for the services through Sunday evening: Friday, "The Christian's Walk"; Saturday, "What Must I do to be Lost"; Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, "Life's Greatest Discovery", and Sunday evening "Another Chance".

Lane Killed In Plant Accident

Ed Lane, 30, of Robbinsville, reported to have been injured in an accident at the plant of the Bemis Hardwood Lumber Company at Robbinsville Tuesday afternoon, was pronounced dead on his arrival at a Murphy hospital about 3:45 o'clock.

According to information received here, Mr. Lane was assisting in changing a belt at the time of the accident. He was brought to Murphy in an Ivie funeral home ambulance.

A veteran of World War II, he was discharged last October after three years in service, much of which was spent in the European theater of operation.

He was married five weeks ago to Miss Bonnie Gates of Robbinsville. Surviving in addition to the widow is one brother, Harry Lane of Lenoir City, Tenn.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at the Robbinsville Baptist church at 3:00 o'clock. Burial will follow in the Robbinsville cemetery with military honors.

ON METHODIST HOUR — Bishop Costen J. Harrell, resident bishop of the Birmingham Area of The Methodist Church and former pastor of West End Church in Nashville, Tenn., who will be the speaker over an independent network of thirty-eight stations on The Methodist Hour Sunday morning, June 9.

He will use as his sermon subject "The Question Supreme." Bishop Harrell is the author of a number of best seller books in the religious field, prominent among these titles are "The Bible — Its Origin and Growth", "Walking With God in the School of Prayer", "Prophets of Israel", and "The Radiant Heart". He was elected to the episcopacy of The Methodist Church by the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference on June 22, 1944 and since that time has been serving as bishop of the Alabama, the North Alabama and the Cuba Conferences of his church.

The Methodist Hour is sponsored by the Southeastern and the South Central Jurisdictional Councils of which Dr. William F. Quillian, Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Paul Womeldorf, Tulsa, Okla., are executive secretaries and is presented in cooperation with the Southern Religious Radio Conference.

The program, which is on the air every week in June, is heard in section over: WNCN, Asheville; WPTF, Raleigh; WSJS, Winston-Salem; WSB, Atlanta; WNOX, Knoxville; and WRVA, Richmond, at 8:30 a. m.
