Mrs. Cover Speaks On N. C. Symphony

ANDREWS — Mrs. Giles W. Cover, twice Cherokee County's representative in the N. C. General Assembly, was guest speaker before the Andrews Rotary club at its meeting on Thursday of last week at the Terrace hotel.

Mrs. Cover began her discourse rather facetiously by way of answer to President Robert Heaton's laudative introduction saying that she was "like the Indian — been here all the time", and therefore not in need of "an introduction".

Mrs. Cover traced the history of the N. C. Symphony so far as its state support is concerned, and related how she gave support to the original legislative act as a member of the General Assembly in 1943. To all intents Mrs. Cover was godmother of the first bill for the Symphony, matching her wits and efforts against the other 119 members of the General Assembly of the opposite sex.

Mrs. Morris introduced Rev. J. C. Lime, guest speaker for the meeting. His topic was "The Responsibility of Parents and Teacher in the School." He stressed the teaching of character which should include industry, honesty, eagerness to learn and a generous spirit. He stated that the parents' training in character building is a great help to the teachers. They should be interested enough to know what their children do in school, consult with teachers, see that their children do their work and cooperate in every way possible.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Ruthie Bristol, hostess chairman, invited those attending to the library where Mrs. C. C. Washam and Mrs. Galusha Pullium, served tea.
