Bond-A-Month Plan Sponsored By Local Bank

Beginning today, more than 90 per cent of the commercial banks of the nation will offer the new Bond-a-Month Plan for the automatic purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds, according to a Treasury Department statement in Washington.

The Bond-a-Month Plan, as explained by W. Frank Forsyth, Cashier of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co. is simply this: A depositor signs a form authorizing the bank to debit his checking account with the purchase price of a bond or bonds of the denomination he desires issued to him each month. The bank delivers the bonds monthly, free of charge.

The Plan, Mr. Forsyth explained, was originated by bankers and was tested across the nation before the Secretary of the Treasury asked all banks to offer it to depositors with checking accounts. Authorization forms and franked envelopes for mailing bonds are supplied by the Treasury Department to the banks. The executive council of the American Bankers Association pledged the support of member banks to the plan, as a valuable aid in the management of the national debt.

"Heretofore", Mr. Forsyth continued, "only employees in establishments where the Payroll Savings plan is made available have been able to buy Savings Bonds automatically, through allotments from their pay. The Bond-a-Month Plan extends a similar privilege to bank depositors to whom the payroll plan is not available, including owners and employees in small business and industry, professional people, independent business men and women, farmers and others who are self-employed. Since the secret of successful saving is regularity, I know this plan will prove a boon to these citizens, helping them to build security, realize their dreams and build up buying power for the future. Ask your banker about the Bond-a-Month Plan."

Miss Joyce Coleman is visiting her uncle, Joe Dyer and Mrs. Dyer at Fontana Dam this week.

The General Board of the Baptist State convention, which carries on the work of the convention between its annual sessions, meeting in Murphy Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, discovered that there are many assets in this Southwestern North Carolina that many of the members had not known of before. Secretary M. A. Huggins stated in the public meeting Tuesday night at First Baptist church, after the guests had been taken on a tour of the county in afternoon, that he felt the headline of a news story on the trip should be, "Baptists Rediscover Western North Carolina."

Sixty visitors registered for the two-day meeting, many of them coming from far eastern cities, including Wilmington, and Morehead City.

In its business sessions Tuesday morning and Tuesday evening, following a public meeting, the board passed on matters that needed attention at this time. It was decided to place the responsibility for the maintenance of the convention's property, Truett Homestead, in the hands of the Western North Carolina association, requesting the association to appoint a committee of three to work with a representative from the general board, from this section, in making recommendations for improvement of the property to the board.

In January a proposal for the convention to go into the FM radio business in Raleigh was taken into consideration, and since that time the matter has been studied by the executive committee. Following a report on the findings, by Secretary Huggins, as the board worked near midnight Tuesday, it was voted to re-consider former actions, and refer the matter to a special committee for a report at the next meeting of the board.

The board voted to instruct the General secretary and his associates to encourage the tithing campaign this fall in associational meetings and churches, and ask for an increase in the amount given to the Cooperative program, and at the same time cooperate in raising the million and a half for Wake Forest College.

The general secretary and his staff were instructed to study and work out a goal of two and a half million dollars for 1948, this to include both designated and undesignated gifts.

The executive committee was given authority to purchase a lot on Morgan Street in Raleigh, to highly increase the value of property already owned by the convention.

It was voted to recommend to the convention in November that a building now leased on North Tryon Street in Charlotte for a Baptist Book store be purchased by the convention, which would be a saving to the convention according to a report from the secretary.

Dr. Jas. B. Turner, chairman of a special committee, reported on plans for expansion of the Baptist Orphanage, and his report was accepted.

It was voted that the cost of living supplement in effect for the past six months for employees of the convention be continued for another six months.

Because there are many matters that need attention prior to the convention in the fall, the secretary was instructed to call a meeting of the board two or three weeks before the convention to study and pass on recommendations.

The executive committee was authorized to work out a new rent schedule of all departments of the General board, Recorder, W. M. U., and make new rates effective as of July 1. This was necessary because of changes made recently when the general secretary's and W. M. U. offices were moved to a building on Hillsboro street, allowing more space in the Recorder building for other departments.

Tuesday evening a large audience composed of visitors from Murphy and several nearby towns attended a public meeting. Secretary Huggins presented the work of the convention, with special reference to the Cooperative program.
