Mr. Russ, who was introduced by Miss Addie Mae Cooke, editor of the Cherokee Scout, stated that newspapers are writing today's history and that they are more than a business or profession, they are a trusteeship made possible by the Bill of Rights in assuring freedom of the Press.

A newspaper should be a financial success, receiving the support of the people it serves, he pointed out. A paper publishes in its news columns the facts as they are found, and only in the editorial columns does the paper give its opinions.

"A newspaper is a mirror of a community, and through its pages a picture of the community is presented regularly to its readers," the speaker stated.

Speaking of the value of a free press, he told of the controlled and partly controlled press in various countries of the world. ### Andrews Rotarians Thump Murphy Lions Club 21 - 8

Are you suffering from muscular aches, strains, agonies of rheumatism and all that goes with softball for men over forty? Well, so are the greater part of the Murphy Lions members after being trounced by the Andrews Rotary Club 21 to 8 last Wednesday night under the lights at the Murphy Athletic Field. The Andrews assault was so terrific that the scorekeeper was compelled to press an adding machine into service for accurate tabulation.

Luke Ellis' batsmen rattled the Lion pitching staff for four runs in the first and kept pounding all of the reserves that Coach Yow could muster. The Andrews clouters continued to twist the Lion's tail until twenty-one breathless runners had stumbled across the plate, while only eight Lions managed to hobble home.

"Improper training," was the only alibi issued from the Lions' den after the lop-sided defeat.

Willard Moore Retraxit

In the July 31, 1947, edition of the Scout in an article setting out cases to be tried at the August Term of Court, it was erroneously stated that Willard Moore had a case on the docket of "Attempt rape, breaking and entering, threat and assault with deadly weapon". This statement was an error in that the charge against Mr. Moore should have been driving an automobile while intoxicated and driving after licensed had been revoked and not as there reported.

Upon discovering the error the Scout in its next issue corrected the same. We have been called upon again to correct the error and gladly again publish our correction, apology and retraction. We are genuinely sorry when errors creep into our publication, particularly so when they may have a tendency toward bringing a person in disrepute. Our most sincere apology is herewith tendered.
