Mrs. Chason And Mr. Bearden Wed

The First Baptist Church of Cairo, Ga., was the setting for the beautiful wedding of Miss Merle Katherine Chason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Chason and James Hollis Bearden, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Bearden which took place at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, July 22. The Rev. Wilburn S. Smith, of Starkville, Miss., officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. R. C. Perry, Jr., in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends.

Three baskets of white gladioli and five floor candelabra against a solid background of ferns and similar combined to form the altar before which the bridal party stood.

Mrs. Olen Dekle, of Thomasville, Ga., organist, played the nuptial music. George Mitchell of Macon, Ga., sang Because (D'Hardelot). The Sweetest Story Ever Told (Stults) and The Lord's Prayer (Mallotte).

The usher-groomsmen were Billy Carr, Billy J. Van Landingham, Alto Cain, Jr., and Walter Sawyer. The groom's best man was his brother, Robert Bearden.

Mrs. Billy J. Van Landingham, matron of honor, wore a gown of orchid taffeta made with a fitted bodice and net yoke; the hooped skirt was caught in the hemline with bows of taffeta ribbons. Yellow mums adorned her hair. She carried a shower bouquet of purple asters.

The maids, Miss Mary Ann Bearden, Miss Margaret Higdon, and Mrs. Dan Harris were dressed in gowns of orchid taffeta fashioned like the matron's of honor with matching bandeaux in their hair. They carried bouquets of asters.

The bride, given in marriage by her only brother, Mercer Chason, wore a gown of white mouseline de soie styled with a fitted waist and full skirt which extended into a train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to her hair with a coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Chason, wore a model of Florida green crepe with pink flowered hat and black accessories. A purple orchid formed her corsage.

Mrs. Bearden, the groom's mother, chose a dress of print shew. A purple orchid formed her corsage.

The bride's parents entertained at a reception at the Woman's Club house following the ceremony.

The pink and white motif was used in the decorations and refreshments. Bowls of pink asters and white gladioli were placed on mantel, table and book cases. The bride's table, overlaid with an imported lace cloth, was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake with delicate embossings and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The ice course consisting of brick cream, individual cakes and punch further emphasized the color-note.

Mrs. Bearden is a graduate of Cairo high school and received her B. S. in Education from Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville, Ga. During the past year she was employed as a teacher in Murphy.

Mr. Bearden is a graduate of Cairo high school and has served three years in the navy. For the past year he has attended the School of Mortuary Science in Nashville, Tenn.

In September he will resume his studies in Tennessee where the couple will make their new home.

Mrs. Elsie McDonald Whiteheart is visiting relatives and friends in Murphy.
