REDSKINS SEEK TO OUTSHOOT PALEFACES

ASHEVILLE—On August 7th Cherokee Indians, from nearby Qualla Indian Reservation, will attempt to "outshoot" the Asheville Archers at a match to be held at Bent Creek Ranch, five miles west of this city. According to Chief Carl Standingdeer, blowgun and arrow artist from the reservation, his tribesmen are "indignant" that the white man should beat them at their own game.

At last year's meet between the Indian and Asheville archers, the local boys carried away the Championship.

Rooms for Farm and Home Week may be reserved by writing Miss Maud Schaub, State College Station, Raleigh. The fee is $1 per night, or $3 for the entire week. Persons who do not reserve a room in advance may obtain one by registering at the State College YMCA after arrival on the campus.

Farmers and homemakers must be registered by noon Thursday, August 11, in order to be eligible for prizes to be given away at Farm and Home Week.

The percentage death loss for the 1948 turkey crop was unusually small, being by far the smallest on record.

Many new and improved varieties of Irish potatoes are being produced each year by State and Federal scientists.

The Beltsville Small White breed is exceptional among turkeys for its relatively quick maturity combined with excellent meat conformation, including plenty of breast meat.

Breeding Ass'n. Has 5,000 Visitors

When Southeastern Artificial Breeding Association of Asheville began operations on January 1, 1948, very little publicity was given to the beginning of a tremendous breeding program, through artificial insemination, designed to revolutionize the dairy industry throughout the southeast within a few short years. However, after several weeks the general public manifested an enthusiastic interest in this program and the stud itself. Mr. Dietrick, Manager of Southeastern, was soon receiving many requests from Veteran-farmer groups, county agents, business clubs, and individuals for appointments to witness the entire operation of the stud, and an opportunity to look over the fine Proved Sires, housed in a modern bar. There have been as many as 200 visitors in certain groups who came from far and near in private cars and chartered buses.

To date approximately 5,000 persons have visited the Asheville stud — representatives from 35 States, District of Columbia, Canada, China, Cuba, Italy, and Venezuela. The stud ships semen to 49 affiliated associations in North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Florida, and to the Indiana Artificial Breeding Association at Carmel.

Murphy Milkshed Artificial Breeders Association, Inc. is one of the 49 Associations that is servicing dairy farmers in this area with semen from these High Index Proved Sires at the regular insemination charge.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son, Clyde Townson, who passed away one year ago, August 6th.

God gave us a wonderful son, One of the world's best And when his work on earth was done

He called him home to rest, His life was unselfish, For others he lived;

Not for what he could get But for what he could give. We only ask to live each day,

So when our work is done, We'll meet him again some day In God's home beyond the sun. Mother and Daddy 3-1tp

British chemists are making notable advances with penicillin in veterinary practice, particularly in the treatment of mastitis.

The commercial early Irish potato crop harvested in North Carolina this year totaled approximately 24,000 acres.

Tobacco exports from Africa in 1948 totaled about 120 million pounds.

Farm production from meat animals in 1948 totaled about 2 per cent less than in 1947 and 17 per cent less than the record production in 1943. Last year was the fifth consecutive year of declining production.
