

Take Your Family To Sunday School

By Dr. Grace Sloan Overton, LL.D.

Want to be a good parent?

Of course, there's only one answer. Here's your family. So much with you. Forever "on-the-go" and also "on-the-grow."

And here are you right at the center of it all. Trying to make ends meet, squeezing past one tight place after another. No let up. Don't you ever get tired? If I could pass out orchids—but that's something else. Let's put it this way: you fathers and mothers do a perfectly grand job. Considering the toughness of the times. Considering the rocky time you have keeping up with your youngsters. Considering how everybody feels free to jump on you and blame you for almost anything and everything.

Being good parents isn't easy—not this year!

You have some time felt the restfulness that comes in church? Bowed down when others did? Helped swell the volume of song? Listened to the words from the Book? Felt the jangling nerves go quiet? Forgotten some of the worries? Grown strong? Built up fresh courage? Felt good?

But—just suppose now for a moment that you had never been given that chance!

Not a nice thought. Not true to the facts either. For somebody saw to it in your early years—they gave you this. And now—this week and every week—you can give this to those who belong to you.

Want to be a good parent? Take Your Family to Sunday School.

Suggests Ways To Use Honey

By RUTH CURRENT
State Home Demonstration Agent

For variety in sweetings plus flavors from the flower world, try honey, say food specialists.

Ways to use honey to advantage in summer meals include the following suggested by the food preparation specialist:

Use honey to sweeten cool fruit drinks. Honey also makes a likeable sweetening for iced tea and coffee.

Serve honey fruit cup as a first course or dessert. If fruits in the cup are mild and sweet, mix lemon juice with honey, add to the fruit and then chill before serving. If the fruit includes a tart kind, such as grapefruit, add honey alone.

Use honey with fruit salads - ambrosia fruit salad, for example: Peel and slice oranges and dip the slices in honey, then in shredded coconut. Place the slices on lettuce and top with berries or cherries.

For a quick salad dressing to go over fruit combinations, mix equal parts of honey and lemon juice. Add celery seed, if desired.

When baking apples, add honey and table fat to each cored apple. Baste with honey during baking.

To protect mattresses, purchase or make mattress covers. These covers should preferably cover the entire mattress although many use the type that covers just the top side. Covers are made of cotton cretonne, plastic coated cotton, quilted cottons and plastics. A cover will protect your mattress from dust, soil and tearing. It can easily be removed for washing. Mattress pads also keep your mattress in better condition. Frequent turning of your mattresses from side and end to end gives even wear.

TO ALL INTERESTED PARTIES

The North Carolina Department of Agriculture has been requested to hold a Public Hearing to revise the Official Classification Plan for the purchase of Grade A Milk from dairy farmers on the Asheville Market. This Classification was officially adopted on September 17, 1941.

Therefore, in accordance with Article 28, Chapter 106, General Statutes of North Carolina, The Commissioner of Agriculture hereby designates all counties and markets located in that area of North Carolina West of Avery, Burke and Cleveland Counties, as a natural marketing area for the sale of milk; and, in accordance with the above Law, I hereby give notice that a Public Hearing will be held on Friday, August 12, 1949, at 10:30 A. M. in the Superior Courtroom, Seventh Floor, of the Buncombe County Court House in Asheville, North Carolina for the purpose of receiving evidence and information relative to the adoption of an Official Classification Plan for the purchase of Grade A Milk from producers in the above designated area.

At the above time and place opportunity will be given all interested parties to be heard.
