Like ham and eggs, running water and water heaters go together. These twin conveniences do as much as anything to bring urban living conditions to the country. And, when it comes to saving the farmer time and labor, they rate near the top of his electrical helper list. Let's see what each can—and does—do.

IT TAKES hot water—and plenty of it—to clean milking utensils adequately.

Running water pays dividends in several ways. On the production front,

Dr. W. C. Schaeffer Speaks Sunday At Lutheran Church

ANDREWS—The Rev. W. C. Schaeffer, D. D., of Allentown, Pa., President of the Board of American and West Indies Missions of the United Lutheran Church, will deliver the message at the 11 o'clock service at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church, Andrews, on August 14. Dr. and Mrs. Schaeffer are well-known in this area, having visited friends here each summer for many years. They will arrive on Friday of this week and remain through the week-end before returning to their summer home at Hendersonville.

Dr. Schaeffer is remembered and loved by the members of St. Andrew's Lutheran Church for the part that he played in organizing the original Sunday School before the first World War. At that time he was serving as pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Atlanta, but he found time to travel to Andrews and organize a small group of children and adults who held services in the basement of the Library building. He also at intervals held services for the workmen at the Tannery while they were resting at the noon hour. His work in Atlanta was given up to enter the service during the first World War, but his faithful efforts in Andrews continued to bear fruit. Much of the progress of the church today can be traced to those early years.

Following the armistice of the first World War, Dr. Schaeffer settled in Allentown, Pa., to become the pastor of a small congregation. With his careful guidance, St. John's Lutheran Church, Allentown, has grown into one of the largest congregations of the entire Lutheran Church. During the past decade the congregation has built a magnificent church, many parts being patterned after the cathedrals in Europe which Dr. Schaeffer studied while traveling there. With his very strenuous program in Allentown, Dr. Schaeffer has also served on many national committees of the United Lutheran Church.

The public is invited to the service.

Word was received from the Commandant of the Sixth Naval District this week authorizing the establishment of a Volunteer Naval Reserve Unit in Murphy. Lieut. Commander C. E. Hyde has been designated as Commanding Officer and Lieutenant Hobart L. McKeever as Executive Officer.

This unit, like many others throughout the United States, was formed two months ago by veterans who served in the Navy during the recent war. All navy veterans who wish to maintain their rank or rate, and who wish to qualify for retirement with pay at age 60, should join this group. The unit will also be authorized to receive enlistment of non-veterans to the Naval Reserve.

Both officers and enlisted men are eligible, and the meeting times are the first and third Wednesdays in every month at 7:30 P. M. at the recreation room in the Murphy Library Building.

The next meeting will be August 17, at which time there will be shown a 30 minutes sound movie of the Allied Invasion of Normandy. Also on the program will be LtCMDR E. H. Forrest, Inspector-Instructor of the Asheville, N. C. US Naval Training Unit. He will outline and explain all of the many advantages to be received from membership in this organization.

Members to date include Hobart L. McKeever, Conrad Pettengill, Glen T. Raper, Dave Sigmon, Buel Adams, C. D. Stiles, Frank Crawford, Paul Ledford, Ted Ploeger, and Paul Padgett.

Being a member of the unit and attending its meetings twice a month will keep all men qualified for their retirement at 60 years of age, where otherwise they could not possibly acquire enough points per year to stay thus qualified while in an inactive status.

The group plans to take two weeks' active duty each year with pay, and to show movies each meeting. Movies planned for the future and already on order are: The Army-Navy football game, 1947; Bombing of Nagasaki, Gun Camera film over the Pacific, Operations Crossroads (Bikini and the Atom Bomb), and many others which are available to the unit.

Navy veterans and others interested are urged to attend the next meeting.
