

EDUCATION
To know the laws of God in nature and revelation, and then to fashion the affections and will into harmony with those laws—this is education. —Seavel.

Assistant Pastor

William N. Bolton, who has been assistant pastor of the Church of the Messiah, Episcopal in Murphy for the past several months and recently in addition to his work here, was made assistant pastor of the Chapel of the Holy Comforter, in Andrews.

Services Begun At Chapel Of Holy Comforter

The Andrews Episcopal Church, "The Chapel of the Holy Comforter", began the first of its regular services, Sunday morning, with a baptismal service and the celebration of the Holy Communion. The Rev. A. Rufus Morgan from Franklin, who is Director of Missions in this area, conducted the service, with Wm. N. Bolton assisting. Services will be on the following schedule: 2nd Sunday each month—7:30 P. M., 4th Sunday each month—9:00 A. M. (Holy Communion). At the Church of the Messiah in Murphy, Sunday School is at 9:45 A. M., Morning Prayer service at 11:00 (Holy Communion—4th Sunday). Mr. Bolton attended a Church conference at Calvary Church, Fletcher, Wednesday. The plan of the conference was to present three phases of the Church's work—Religious Education and the Sunday School curriculum; Rev. R. J. Lee, St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Lenoir; Laymen's Activities; A. B. Stoney, Diocesan Key-man from Morganton; Every Member Canvass; Rev. John W. Tuton, Trinity Parish, Asheville; Bishop R. George Henry presented his summary and commentary at the close of the conference.

West Liberty Leaders To Meet

Representatives of churches in the West Liberty Baptist Association, including pastors and Sunday School superintendents, will meet at Friendship Baptist Church Sunday at 2 o'clock to work out plans for an associational missions program. The Rev. George Stuart of Wolf Creek, who is now attending college at Tennessee Temple, Chattanooga, has been elected associational missionary. He is working with the churches on week-ends, and when the present school term expires he will give full time to the work. The Rev. Fred Stiles, moderator, will preside over the meeting Sunday.

Carnival Planned At Hiwassee Dam

The annual Carnival, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Association of Hiwassee Dam School, will start at 7 P. M., Thursday, November 2nd, in the gymnasium of the High School. Everyone is invited to come out for a gay evening of good fun. Supper will be served at 5:00 P. M.

MEET MONDAY NIGHT

A business meeting has been called for all Episcopalians in Andrews on Monday night, October 31, at 7:30. The meeting will be held in "The Chapel of the Holy Comforter".

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Helder of Canton were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Case.

CROP Is Organized In Cherokee County

Last Thursday, the Rev. D. D. Gross of Canton, District Supervisor of CROP, held a meeting in the Cherokee County Court House to explain about CROP and to help get Cherokee County organized. In addition to explaining about the Christian Rural Overseas Program Mr. Gross presented a motion picture.

The Rev. R. Delbert Byrum made a motion that the County be organized. As a result the following officers were set up: Chairman—the Rev. J. Alton Morris, First Baptist Church, Murphy; co-chairmen—Mr. Byrum, First Methodist Church, Murphy and the Rev. J. C. Lime, Presbyterian Church, Andrews; sec. treas.—the Rev. James R. Crook, Presbyterian Church, Murphy; commodity chairman—the Rev. Alfred Smith, Methodist Circuit, Murphy; Publicity chairman—William N. Bolton, Episcopal Churches, Murphy and Andrews. In addition to the officers elected, the following attended the meeting: Miss Edna Bishop, A. Q. Ketner, M. S. Patton, H. Bueck, Lloyd Hendrix and I. B. Hudson.

On Tuesday morning, November 1, at 10 o'clock in the Courtroom of the Cherokee County Court House there will be a meeting to talk over further and organize more the program of CROP in this County. This meeting is open to all persons interested in the welfare of their neighbors across the sea. CROP wishes each county or section working together to decide on one particular food to send and it is suggested that corn is the best possibility for this county. The particular food and the amount will be decided upon at the meeting on Tuesday. North Carolina has an objective of 150 railroad carloads.

Although a person may not be a farmer and may not have the particular food which will be set up to be sent from this County, he can give cash which can be used to purchase the food to be sent. Also certain foods which can be sold can be collected and sold and the money used to buy the food designated.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) is a program through which commodities are solicited from farm people on a community-wide basis and turned over to established church relief agencies of the individual donor's choice and distributed overseas to orphanages, institutions for the aged and ill, refugees and the hungry in Europe and Asia. Over 2,392 carloads of food were collected last year. To date contributions totaling $6,596,674.00 have been made. CROP is sponsored by a number of Churches including the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Lutheran and many others. It is the first united Church program of its kind in the history of our civilization.

Elected Editor

J. Marse Grant, now on the staff of Morganton News-Herald, who has been elected editor of Charity and Children, weekly publication of the Baptist Orphanage of North Carolina, Thomasville and Kinston, with his headquarters at Mills Home, Thomasville.

Church Is 112 Years Of Age

The Centennial and Homecoming at Peachtree Baptist Church Sunday will cover a period of 112 years.

Peachtree Baptist Church was constituted June 27, 1837, with ten charter members: Jacob Baker, Mary Baker, John Hughes, Mary Dalrymple, Elizabeth Cook, Sr., Elizabeth Cook, Jr., Elizabeth Young, Elizabeth Hughes, John Timpson and Lucy Timpson. The two last named charter members were Cherokee Indians.

The minutes and history of Peachtree Baptist Church for the period covering the first 50 years have been lost and very little information is available. The first building was a log house which stood above the highway from where the new church now stands. The next building was a frame structure at about the same place as the old log house. These two buildings stood and served the people as a place of worship until the present new stone building was begun in 1948. The log building was torn down, and the frame building was erected in 1880.

Two churches have gone out from Peachtree Baptist Church during the years, both constituted in 1912, Upper Peachtree and Mt. Zion within a radius of six miles. These two offsprings have a special invitation to the Centennial of the mother church.

The possibility of naming all the pastors for this period of 112 years is somewhat difficult. If some are left out it will be for the reason of lost records and not intentionally. Mentioned first are the pastors that have passed on to their reward. The first pastor

J. Marse Grant Is New Editor Orphanage Paper

J. Marse Grant, a native of High Point and an experienced newspaper man, Monday was named editor of Charity and Children, weekly publication of the Baptist Orphanage of North Carolina, Thomasville.

The choice of the 29-year old Baptist layman was given unanimous approval by the board of trustees which met in Kinston to name a successor to the late John Arch McMillan, who died last January. A new cottage here at Kennedy Home was also dedicated Monday in a special program in which the trustees participated.

Since the former editor died, his daughter, Miss Louise McMillan, has been acting editor, and has carried on in a splendid way, officials said. She will remain as a contributor to Charity and Children, a weekly paper which goes into more than 36,000 Baptist homes in North Carolina. Mr. McMillan was editor for 17 years.

The new editor is now associated with Miss Beatrice Cobb in the publication of the Morganton News-Herald and the Valdese News. Prior to coming to Morganton, he was editor of the employees magazine at Eucata Paper Corporation near Brevard.

He is a graduate of High Point College where he was editor of the college weekly newspaper and publicity director. He is married to the former Marian Gibbs of Greensboro, and they have two children, Susan, four years of age, and Marcia, one year old. They will move into their home on the campus of Mills Home in Thomasville on or about November 15.

In addition to his editorial duties, he will be called upon frequently to speak throughout the state in behalf of the Orphanage and Charity and Children.

Robt. Chapman, Shirley Carver County Winners

Robert Chapman of Martins Creek and Shirley Carver of Andrews have been selected as County Winners of the 4-H Club Better Methods Project.

As winners, the Clubsters will receive a free trip to Raleigh to attend the Electric Better Methods Congress in November. Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Chapman, won on his plans for installing an automatic electric water system. Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Carver of Andrews, won the girls' prize with her plans for using an electric floor waxer and polisher.

This contest is sponsored locally by Nantahala Power and Light Company, which bears the expense of the trips to Raleigh and also awards first and second district prizes of two $100 college scholarships and two gold watches. The object of the project is to encourage the 4-H Club members to find better and easier ways of doing the jobs that they have to do.

Clubs To Observe Achievement Day

Cherokee County Home Demonstration Achievement Day will be held Monday, October 31, beginning at 10 o'clock, at First Methodist Church. Mrs. Clyde McNabb, county Home Demonstration council president, will preside. Bellview and Martin's Creek clubs will serve as hostesses. The speaker of the day will be Hobart McKeever. Features will include achievement reports by the 12 Home Demonstration Club presidents. Special musical selections will be rendered, and a pot luck dinner will be served. New officers for the council will be elected for the coming year.

Dorothy Hensley, telephone operator, has been sick several weeks. She was admitted to Rodda-Van Gorder Hospital Tuesday.

Two Visiting Pastors To Help In Revival

Prayer services at 10 o'clock in the morning have been held every day for several weeks by members of First Baptist Church, in preparation for revival services which will begin Sunday evening. The pastor, the Rev. J. Alton Morris, will be assisted in the revival by: The Rev. W. H. Heard, pastor of McCaysville Baptist Church, Copperhill, Tenn., evangelist, and the Rev. M. C. Ferguson, pastor of Cross Roads Baptist Church, Hartwell, Ga., song leader.

The revival will be held from October 30 through November 9. The evening services will be at 7:30 o'clock, and the morning services at 7:45 o'clock. The early morning hour was voted on by the church, in order for business and professional people to have an opportunity to attend. The services will last 45 minutes, allowing those attending to get to their work by 8:30.

Proposes Tonsil Clinic, Asks Clothes For Needy

Murphy Junior Woman's Club met Thursday, October 20, at 6 P. M. in the auditorium of the primary school building. Mrs. Bob White, president, presided.

Mrs. White appointed a committee composed of Mrs. Boyd Davis, chairman, Mrs. Mary Catherine Atkinson, and Mrs. Merle Davis to meet with local doctors and see what arrangements might be made for a tonsil clinic to take care of school children.

A clothing drive for children of school age will be sponsored by the club within the next few weeks. Clothing will be collected and put in usable condition by club members. Mrs. Cloe Moore is chairman of the drive and Mrs. Harold Wells will work with her as co-chairman.
