Milk Grades Are Announced By Health Department

The grades of all milk supplies in Cherokee, Clay, and Graham Counties have been determined by the District Health Department in accordance with the grade specifications of the United States Public Health Service Milk Ordinance and Code which has been adopted and made the law in this district. D. H. Moody, senior sanitarian, says, "When buying milk be sure to protect the health of your family and yourself by buying the highest grade available. The grades of milk appear on every bottle cap and are posted in all the restaurants and soda fountains. The safest grade of milk is Grade A pasteurized. However, Grade A raw milk is as safe as milk can be made short of pasteurization. If you live where Grade A pasteurized milk is not available then use the highest grade raw milk which has been boiled or pasteurized at home. For a home pasteurization booklet write to the U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., or "What Every Person Should Know About Milk".

Milk Distributors in this district and their grades are: Halls Dairy of Murphy, Grade A pasteurized, delivering in Cherokee and Graham Counties; Mountain Valley Coop of Brasstown, Grade A pasteurized, delivering in Cherokee, Clay, and Graham Counties; Pet Dairy Company of Knoxville, Tennessee, Grade A pasteurized, delivering in Graham County; and Southern Dairies of Asheville, Grade A pasteurized, delivering in Graham County. These scholarships include free tuition, room and board and all necessary fees required of students and furnished by the state educational institution at which such student has matriculated.

Anyone who knows of students who may be entitled to these scholarships is requested to notify John A. Davidson, Assistant District Officer, N. C. Veterans Commission, at the Veteran Information Center located in the Cherokee County Court House, and he will assist in the preparation of these applications.

J. H. Wilson Says He Welcomes New Orleans Suit

An Associated Dispatch of August 17 announced that J. H. Wilson of Murphy had been indicted by the New Orleans Federal Grand Jury for violation of the Jenkins Acts, which was designed to require sellers of cigarettes in interstate commerce to make reports to State Officials.

Mr. Wilson, proprietor of Co-operative Buying Service here, states that his organization welcomes this suit. He says they have been endeavoring for the past ten months, through the association of which they are members, to have some such action brought so that the constitutionality of this law can be brought to a test before the higher courts.

He states further: "We are confident not only that the Jenkins Law itself is in direct violation of the Constitution of the United States, but are further convinced that all of these State tobacco laws are unconstitutional in that they attempt to assess discriminatory taxes on a common necessity up to as much as 400 per cent of the first sales value. Some forty States are now exacting upwards of 450 million dollars of illegal taxes from the public under such laws. In the process of determining the validity of the Jenkins law, these State laws will have to be examined and ruled upon by the Highest Court, something that we have long wished might be possible. It is true that we are making no reports of any client to any State authorities, nor ever will, because there is no Federal Law whatsoever existing that in any way attempts to make our activities criminal in any sense of the word."

"I am not the least bit disconcerted about this move. As a matter of fact, I am proud to be the 'guinea pig' when it comes to the question of any challenge to the liberties and fundamental rights guaranteed to the American Citizen by the United States Constitution."

In closing we reiterate that this most recent action was designed for no other purpose than to intimidate, brow-beat, and mislead the public.

ANDREWS—The third annual air show will be held at Andrews-Murphy Airpark on Sunday, September 3, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

The show is again sponsored by the Leslie Stillman Post of the Andrews American Legion, which has booked a show consisting of both air and ground acts that bids fair to surpass in thrills and chills of the previous years.

This time more emphasis will be placed on the spectacular rather than on routine precision acts. In past years the "crazy Cub" act has been widely acclaimed, so much so that there will now be two "crazy flying" pilots in action. Scheduled also are a bat-wing parachute jump, an auto crashing through a flaming wall, a crop-dusting exhibition, an auto rolling over at 60 miles an hour, and aerobatic.

Two unusual features will be wing-walking while a plane is being looped and the exceedingly hazardous snap-roll on take-off executed in a BT-13A as the pilot begins his performance. In another act a stunt man will fall to the ground from a low flying plane without benefit of special equipment.

A certificate of waiver has been secured from the Civil Aeronautics Authority, Nashville District, since practically all of the flying in the show will involve violations of CAA rules and regulations. Adequate plans have been drafted to streamline the expected heavy flow of auto traffic to and from the show area. Plans are also being made by the Legion and local flyers to play host to a considerable number of visiting planes expected from surrounding fields in this state area. The field will be closed to arriving air traffic at 2:15 p. m.

Advance ticket sales will be conducted by Andrews Chamber of Commerce members and representatives. Net proceeds realized by the Andrews Chamber of Commerce will be applied toward retirement of the lighting fund debt on the Andrews Athletic Field.

The usual agreement has been made with air show personnel to declare September 3 a "weather date." If the weather is unfavorable, the show will be held Labor Day, September 4, and tickets will be honored on that date.
