

112 Pints Of Blood Given In Murphy

Rev. B. Reid Wall To Preach Sunday Methodist Church

The Rev. R. Delbert Byrum, pastor of First Methodist Church, has announced the Rev. B. Reid Wall as guest preacher for Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m. Mr. Wall is superintendent and minister of the Methodist Home in Charlotte. The Methodist Home is an institution of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church. It provides security, care and abundant life for older men and women. At the present time 85 persons are members of the Home family. Expansion programs include a new hall for a chapel, hospital facilities, residents quarters, apartments and administrative offices. The rapidly growing number of members indicates the pressing need to build this hall as soon as possible.

Another expansion project is a group of efficiency apartments to be built by persons who will live in them. Persons living in apartments will have all the freedom of their own home while they enjoy all the benefits of the Methodist Home.

The Methodist Home in Charlotte has received high recognition on both state and national levels, for the quality of its program and service.

Sunday School begins at the Methodist Church at 9:45 a. m. Evening Youth meeting is at 6 p. m. At 7:30 p. m. the pastor will preach on "The Dawning Church."

Midweek service will be held on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor will speak on "Some Other Characteristics of the Early Church."

The Board of Education of the Church will meet on Thursday evening, October 19, at 7:30 o'clock in the Ladies' parlor.

Frank Alexander On Vol Eleven

Frank Alexander of Murphy, student at University of Tennessee, Knoxville, was moved to first string offensive end Tuesday replacing Vince Kaseta, injured in the Duke game Saturday, as Tennessee went through a two-hour offensive and defensive scrimmage.

Alexander, a 190-pounder, will probably team with another sophomore, George Carter, when the offensive unit takes the field.

Head Coach Bob Neyland had his squad working against Chattanooga's running and passing plays performed by the Vol freshmen.

The Moccasins meet U-T this Saturday.
