Employment Is Indicated Here

Average monthly employment in North Carolina for the first quarter of 1951 was 10 percent above that of a year before, but slightly under the everage for the last quarter of 1950, it is revealed by Chairman Henry E. Kendall, chairman of the Employment Security Commission of North Carolina. This is employment covered by the Employment Security Law.

Total average monthly employment in January, February and March amounted to 690,022, pulled down some by low employment in January. Average monthly employment in March reached the highest point recorded since October 1950. Due to high inventories reached in prove Our Collections" written by later months, employment probably shows a decline in months since.

Payrolls in covered employment in the first quarter of this year amounted to $441,201,318. This gives an average weekly wage of $49.18, which is above the first quarter average for several years, but below the last quarter of 1950. This is due to the fact that bonuses, commissions and contingent or incentive pay are frequently distributed at the end of the year.

In major divisions of employment, the figures on average employment, total wages, and average weekly wages for the two principal classifications, are as follows: construction: average em-428,354; total wages, $227,265,203; weekly wages, $49.79-transportation and communication: average employment, 35,096: total wages, $25,153,478-trade: average employment, 123,044; total wages, $68,706,853-finance, Insurance and real estate: average employment, 16,430; total wages, $12,-961.055-service and other: average employment, 39,757; total wages. $19,117,450.

Cherokee County, in the first quarter of 1951, had average employment of 864 covered workers, which was a gain of 19.34 percent, as compared with the last quarter of 1950. Total wages paid in this county during the quarter reached $374,736 with an average weekly wage of $33.36.
