400-Pound Bear Adds Interest To Field Trip

A recent field trip taken by Mrs. Joe Sursavage and her eighth grade class to the Andrews Watershed turned out to be more than was expected as the group came upon the climax of a bear hunt that caused much excitement and resulted in quite a discussion of the finer points of bear hunting.

The group were making an on-the-spot survey of water facilities when they met the hunters with the 400-pound bruin.

The hunters from Andrews, Murphy and Tennessee told the students about the hunt and the kill.

The bear was killed a few hundred yards from the water shed reservoir about 3 1/2 miles from Andrews.

Methodists Hear Negro Teacher

Week of Prayer and Self-Denial services were held at Andrews Methodist Church Friday afternoon.

Mrs. E. L. Kirk had charge of the worship service using the topic "Thy Will Be Done". The program opened with scripture reading followed by hymns and prayers, and a talk on the topic.

Mrs. John H. Christy presented Mrs. Lillie D. Love, teacher in the Andrews Negro school, who told the group of her experiences in Allen High School in Asheville an expressed her appreciation to Methodism for making such a school possible, and for giving Negro children an opportunity for an education. She told of the spiritual atmosphere that prevails in the school and said that the students receive training there that will remain with them through life.

A part of the contributions made at this meeting go to this school to help build a badly needed dormitory.

The meeting was closed with prayer.

Howard Kester Guest Speaker At Junior Club

The Junior Woman's Club of Andrews met Tuesday evening at the Junaluska Terrace Hotel. Miss Trilby Glenn, president, presided. The club will collect clothing for the needy families of the community, participate in a drive for the Children's Home Society, send Care packages to Korea, help with Bloodmobile drives, and other projects in the community. There was discussion concerning a tonsil clinic and giving lunches to underprivileged children.

Mrs. Wm. E. Hall, arts and crafts chairman, who had charge of the program, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kester from the John C. Campbell Folk School at Brass-town. Mr. Kester talked on the School, telling the group that the Folk School is an effort in adult education in view of helping men and women help themselves. A cordial invitation was given by Mr. Kester to visit the school anytime. He had a display of carvings, wooden bowls carved with hand lathes, and metal display; he told of the many more things that could be learned at the school.

After the program the hostesses, Mrs. Emogene Ledford and Mrs. Alice Hogsd served refreshments to the following: Mrs. Jan Burnette, Mrs. Lill Love, Mrs. Virginia Hulls, Mrs. Betty Sue Wood, Mrs. Katzaman, Mrs. Mary Beth Hall, Mrs. Anna Deyermond, Mrs. Ruby Barnett, Mrs. Dot Pullum, Mrs. Louise Whitehouse, Mrs. Jane Shaver, Mrs. Mary Willie Gentry, Mrs. Hazel Elliott, Miss LaVonne Davis, and Miss Trilby Glenn.
