Seminary Extension To Start Here On January 1st

Ministers Are Enrolling For Three Courses

Ministers of the West Liberty and Western North Carolina Baptist Pastors' Conference voted Monday at a meeting in Murphy to establish a full-fledged seminary extension department in Murphy. The new department is to be an extension of the three largest Southern Baptist Seminaries: Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas; New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, New Orleans, La.; and the Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky. Headquarters of the Extension work is in Jackson, Miss. Dr. Lee Galman, Jackson, Miss., is the director.

The name of the new department will be "Baptist Seminary Extension Center." The Rev. A. G. Brooks, field worker for the Western North Carolina Baptist Association, was chosen as director of the center. The Rev. Floyd B. Clark, missionary in West Liberty Association, was chosen dean of the school. The Rev. Fred B. Lunsford was chosen as registrar and treasurer. Three faculty members were chosen to teach in the school. The Rev. John A. Richardson, Jr., pastor of Andrews Church, will teach Old Testament. The Rev. J. Alton Morris, pastor of Murphy Church, will teach New Testament, and the Rev. Joseph G. Miller of Bryson City will teach a course in preaching. Mr. Brooks will assist these teachers.

Twelve ministers already have enrolled in the school which will begin classes Tuesday night, Jan. 1, 1952, in First Baptist Church of Murphy. Classes will meet every Tuesday at 7 p. m. for the duration of each term. It was decided that laymen and women interested in taking these courses are to be invited. A very low cost of $3 for matriculation and $5 registration fee for each course will be the total expenses of each student, except for text books.

Seminary credit will be given the students for all class work done. If the student holds a college degree the credit will count toward a B. D. degree in the Southern Baptist Seminaries. Credit toward a certificate will be given to students who do not hold a college degree. All interested students regardless of previous education are invited to attend these classes. Application is being made for Director Brooks to get the Seminary Extension Center with its organization and faculty officially approved by the Seminary Extension Department, Jackson, Miss. It is believed that this approval will be received soon.

Fire Damages Building And Destroys Home

Murphy firemen have answered three calls to fires since Saturday. The first fire did about $2,000 damage to a small building covering a hoist at Hitchcock Corporation's tale mine Saturday at 5 a. m.

Earl Van Horn, assistant superintendent, said that the damage was partially covered by insurance. The old Elliott home, located at Peachtree and owned by Mrs. Ruth Carringer, was burned to the ground about 1:30 a. m. Tuesday. An alarm was turned in, but firemen were unable to save the building.

A false alarm was answered in Factory Town Wednesday morning. The fire had been extinguished when firemen arrived.

Pearl Harbor Day Observed Here By Civitan Club

In observance of Pearl Harbor Day, Murphy Civitan Club was shown a film entitled, "The Bombing of Pearl Harbor", at its regular meeting Monday evening.

The club voted to have its regular meeting, which is December 17, at Duke's Lodge. Wives of the members and other guests will be invited, and a good attendance is expected. An excellent program is being planned followed by informal games and dancing. Jack Barlett, George Dyer and Sam Hartog were appointed as a program committee. A. D. Peacock was appointed to head the decoration committee.

The project committee decided to discontinue the waste paper collections until further notice.

"Arts and Music" Is Subject Of P. T. A. Program

Mrs. Martha Adams, program chairman, presented a program on "Arts and Music" at the Murphy P. T. A. meeting Monday evening in the Primary building. Miss Marie Travis prepared for the group some units on art that have been done in the high school, stating that several prizes have been won by her art students. Mrs. Emily Davidson and Frederick Schley were in charge of the music and played several numbers, giving a background of some Christmas Carols. Mrs. Glenn Bates led the group in singing several songs.

Mrs. T. A. Case had the Devotional. Mrs. Ben Palmer reported 88 members in the association.

A group voted to continue treating the school children this year as they have done in the past. This is usually done on the day the school turns out for the Christmas holidays.

Miss Kate Hayes' and Miss Emily Sword's room tied at the last meeting of the P. T. A. in memberships.

Following the program the group adjourned to look at the art display, which the various grades had prepared.
