Sylva Hands 34-7 Defeat To Andrews

Boling On Team At Gardner Webb

BOILING SPRINGS—James Robert Boling, freshman of Murphy, is the only student enrolled at Gardner-Webb Junior College for the fall semester from Cherokee County. Cherokee County is one of 49 North Carolina counties, ten states, and one foreign country responsible for the 401 pupils attending the Cleveland County institution. The enrollment figure presents an increase of 48 students over the previous year.

Boling, whose address is Box 23, Murphy, N. C., is also a member of the football team.

The mighty Golden Hurricane of Sylva handed a 34-7 defeat to the Andrews Wildcats at the local field Friday night. However, the Wildcats were not without glory for they scored the first touchdown to be made against the 1952 Hurricane in conference play.

The game was a great show of passing skill, with Ed Sutton hurling touchdown passes for the visitors and with Cecil Rogers countering for the losers. Jerry Gilbert also tossed a beauty to Cooper to set up the Rogers to Leroy Gilbert touchdown pass. Walter Raxter kicked the extra point.

This week the Wildcats travel to Hayesville to meet the Hayesville Yellowjackets. The Andrews team lost a previous encounter with the will be the Andrews Homecoming Jackets. Game. The Wildcats will meet Next week, Friday, October 31, Robbinsville.
