By EMILY COSTELLO

Everybody and his brother was eating lunch out Sunday. And I think half of them must have been at the Regal Hotel as we were—on occasion of the opening of the new dining room. (And of course we were attracted by the special bargain of two lunches for the price of one.)

The dining room is mighty pretty with its dark green walls—brightened with a framed patch of dogwood wallpaper with light green background on three walls. There were fresh flowers (yellow asters or mums) on all the tables and over the doorways there are green plants in a lighted border. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seamon have done a wonderful job of decorating the place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hampton were among the dining guests—and were among the few not eating turkey. Now, isn't that a comeoff! Mr. Hampton raises the prettiest and best turkeys and then doesn't even eat them when he goes out. But, Mrs. H. confided to me that they like turkey, but when they go out to eat they like a change. (If I'm not sadly mistaken, the Regal served some of Mr. Hampton's Nebraskans Sunday.)

Some others I saw lunching were H. A. and Rosemond Mattox and son; Frank and Ruth Forsyth, accompanied by little daughter of Jim Gibbs; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hamilton, Kenneth and Carrie Davis and little Kenny Jane and Samuel; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jennett; Mr. and Mrs. H. Bueck and H. C.; Mrs. C. W. Savage; Mr. and Mrs. Harve Elkins and daughter, Mrs. Wayne Genrty; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kay and daughter and Adear Aronson.

The gifts were given as a reward for an art contest, which was held in complete darkness (lights off) when everyone drew a picture of what the baby would look like.

Of course there were eggs a plenty.

COMPANY AT DINNER
We enjoyed the company at dinner round at the H. Buecks' Friday night. Guests were MR. AND MRS. TOM A. CASE and their houseguest for the week end, MRS. BONNER RAY, and REV. AND MRS. R. DELBERT BYRUM. At the time, Mr. Bueck was sniffing and sneezing with a new cold, which I hope he has whipped by this time.

FOR FATHER-TO-BE
DALE SCROGGS was feted at a stork shower Tuesday night (Yes, you understood—Dale, not Mrs.) Now, that's something new under the sun in showers, and it sounds to me like a good idea for the expectant father to learn the facts of the baby world, and I hear Dale is a adept pupil in quick diaper change overs.

MILUS AND DORIS WRIGHT spent last week end in Clemson and this week end Milus will attend a meeting in Charlotte and Doris will go on to her home near Wilmington for a visit.

MRS. BOB EASLEY was by Tuesday, and was talking about the bazaar the women of the Episcopal Church are planning. Count me in, I love a bazaar.

Also, I expect to be one of the first customers at the bake sale

MRS. HOMER J. STILES

The former Miss Beulah Mae Smith

Miss Beulah Mae Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith, of Marble, became the bride of Homer J. Stiles of Pasadena, Texas, at the First Baptist Church in Blairsville, Ga., Nov. 1. The Rev. Claud C. Boynton officiating.

Mr. Stiles is employed by the Champion Paper and Fibre Co. at the Houston Division. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stiles, formerly of Marble.

The couple will be at home in Pasadena, Texas.

the women of the Presbyterian Church are planning Saturday morning at Evans Auto Co.

COLD BUT FUN
I loved every minute of the Andrews-Murphy game Tuesday. It was awfully cold, but I stayed in the warm car, and didn't feel it. The Andrews benchmen were huddled in a long pink blanket, and in the last quarter, some fans finally built a little fire to warm freezing hands.

Andrews has awfully good cheerleaders. I especially liked their cartwheeling.

BARBARA RHOADS, Murphy's homecoming queen, is certainly a pretty girl. And while I'm on the subject, I think Murphy's teenage crowd is a fine group.

They are cute and full of life, but not destructive, as is the case in many towns.

At the football game we were parked next to Coach Ike Olson's parents, MR. AND MRS. H. M. OLSON of Luray, Kansas. And

Around Andrews

BY RUTH SURSAVAGE

Election day and night was an exciting time for some of the Andrews townspeople. For instance, those persons who owned television sets entertained a considerable assembly of guests until the wee hours of the morning.

I personally believe that the spontaneous comments of MISS FRANCES McPHERSON as she listened to the returns would top the evening's entertainment.

MR. AND MRS. WILL ASHE have been sacrificing some trees around their place for more yard space. The neighbor youngsters watched the downing of a walnut tree with doleful expressions. However, they were pleased that the tempting red berry trees were spared.

Do you know, Monday afternoon I heard grown-up people complaining about the rain? I took notice, however, that none of them had on a forest ranger's identification.

I am told that NED STEWART is the champion corn grower in Cherokee County. I hope to have more information on Ned's corn crop soon.

If your chickens get out, and one gets too stubborn to be put back in the lot, there's always the solution that JIMMIE BAER used—just shoot it.

I find genial BAXTER LAY'S off the record comments on nothing in particular quite refreshing. RUTHIE BRISTOL went to the

PERSONALS

BY MRS. C. W. SAVAGE

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Olson of Luray, Kansas, and Mrs. May Erber of Salina, Kansas, left Wednesday for their homes after a three weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Olson here. Mr. and Mrs. Olson are the parents, and Mrs. Erber is an aunt of C. K. Olson.

Mrs. Omar Green, Miss Thomasine Slayton, Mrs. Virginia Townsend, and Mrs. Deillah Chambers of Washington, D. C., spent last week end here with relatives and friends. Miss Leta Harbin who is employed with Mauney Drug Company, flew from Knoxville to Memphis, Tenn. and brought the baby, Omar Green, Jr., who has been there with his grandmother, to Murphy to meet his mother and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mauney. The baby returned to Washington with his mother.

Mrs. Bueck Fetes Mrs. Olson At Tea

Mrs. H. Bueck entertained a few friends at tea last Wednesday afternoon, honoring Mrs. H. M. Olson of Luray, Kansas, who has been visiting her son, C. K. Olson and Mrs. Olson for some time.

Mrs. Edwina Hagaman assisted the hostess in serving the usual dainty refreshments she is noted for serving.

Tea guests included Mrs. Olson, Mrs. R. C. Mattox, Mrs. J. H. McCall, Mrs. Peyton G. Ivie, Mrs. H. G. Elkins, Mrs. Wayne H. Gentry of Charleston, S. C., Mrs. C. K. Olson, Mrs. Hagaman and Mrs. C. W. Savage.

Georgia Tech-Army game with no ticket. EDWIN AND BLAIN BLEVINS had their ducoats proudly in hand. However, I notice that the men sat on the temporary bleachers in the end zone, while Ruthie sat with the Fort Mac band where she was hilariously entertained.

I think all football fans in Andrews feel a lot of pride in the great Tech team and a bit of a claim to it due to the wonderful performance of BILL TEAS JR.

ELIZABETH BELL is finding that housebreaking a pup requires a lot of endurance.

The new CHEROKEE SCOUT is making friends fast. I appreciate all the nice things said about the paper and the subscriptions, both new and renewals that are coming in. The new SCOUT hopes to keep old friends and make new ones.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Coward of Murphy announce the birth of twin boys in Woman's Hospital in Chattanooga, Saturday, November 8.
