Merchants Asked To Fill Out Organization Blank

In a concentrated effort to establish a Chamber of Commerce in Murphy, the Scout has written several editorials attempting to set out in clear language the advantages of such an organization.

Several local business men have commented on the editorials; all asserting the idea is a good one and should be carried out.

Everyday it becomes more apparent that both the customers and the merchants in Murphy would fare better if we had a Chamber of Commerce with a full time secretary.

In an attempt to carry out the wishes expressed by the several business men, the Scout is running a questionnaire at the end of this editorial. We request every business establishment to fill out this blank and mail to the Scout office.

- NAME OF FIRM _____
- SIGNATURE OF PERSON FILLING BLANK _____

Andrews C Of C Shows How Cooperation Pays

The Andrews Chamber of Commerce once more proved how much can be done for a town through cooperation. Over 2,000 people were in Andrews Saturday and Sunday to participate in the Fourth of July celebration and to watch the Air Show at Andrews-Murphy Air Park.

The Andrews Chamber of Commerce and its members are to be congratulated for their excellent work on the project.

It was no mean endeavor to set up and carry out the many-sided Fourth of July activities that occurred in Andrews this past week end.

And the celebration brought people from neighboring towns and communities. Any time a project can bring visitors to the town, that project has more than served its purpose.

Andrews is a friendly, up-to-date town that believes in letting folks know it nestles in the Western North Carolina mountains.

New Business Answers Big Need In Murphy

A type of business entirely new to Murphy has been established just off the square and it is a distinct sign that Murphy is growing.

The Hilton Business Equipment Company answers a definite need in Murphy not only as a retail store but in a community economic sense.

Before the new company opened here, good Murphy money poured out of this town each month to business equipment companies in Asheville, Atlanta, Knoxville and other nearby large cities.

Business men here in Murphy do not need to be told that it is plain good business to deal with a local firm whenever possible. The companies that send agents into our town are interested solely in how much cash they can take out.

But a firm established in our town is interested in Murphy. It must pay taxes and will trade with local merchants.

For a time, these large, impersonal equipment companies that have enjoyed a field day in Murphy for so long a time will cut prices in an attempt to close out this new company.

But good business men will remember the prices are being cut so that after our local store is forced out the out-of-towners can go back to their regular prices.

And they can go back to carrying out money out of town.

Christian's Code

Lesson for July 12, 1953

THE Christian is not "under law," as Paul says, but "under grace." This does not mean that a Christian can live as he pleases, any old way good or bad. There is a code of behavior for Christians. Only the Christian's code is not like a city's laws or the rules of a game. The nearest thing we have to a code is certain great principles of behavior, the foundation-lines for our house of life. One of the most familiar chapters of the whole Bible is Romans 12, where Paul sets down in pretty plain words what kind of behavior may be expected of a Christian. The passage is so familiar, in fact, that it can too easily be read with the eyes only and not with the mind. So this column will depart from its usual method, and simply present, for the most part, some of the important sentences or phrases from this classic chapter, first in the old King James translation and then in various other more recent ones in English. They will be numbered as follows:

- 1 King James translation (1611 A. D.)
 - 2 Revised Standard Version (1946)
 - 3 Moffatt's translation (1922)
 - 4 American Translation (1930)
 - 5 Weymouth's (1930)
 - 6 Phillips's (1947) ("Letters to Young Churches")
- (Where a number does not appear, it is because that version is not notably different from some of the others.) These translations will perhaps suggest to the thoughtful reader that there is more in Scripture than any one translation can fully bring out.
1. Present your bodies a living sacrifice . . . your reasonable service. 2.—your spiritual worship. 4.—your rational worship. 6.—an act of intelligent worship. (verse 1)
 1. Be not conformed to this world. 4. You must not adopt the customs of this world. 6. Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mould. (verse 2)
 1. Let love be without dissimulation. 2. Let love be genuine. 3. Let your love be a real thing. 4. Let your love be sincere. 6. Let us have no imitation Christian love. (verse 9)
 1. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. 2. Hate what is evil; hold fast to what is good. 3.—with a loathing for evil and a bent for what is good. 4. You must hate what is wrong, and hold to what is right. 5. Regard evil with horror; cling to the right. 6. Let us have a genuine break with evil and a real devotion to good. (verse 9.)
 1. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another 2. Love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor. 3. Put affection into your love for the brotherhood . . . 5. Let your love of the brethren be true mutual affection. 6. Let us have real warm affection for one another as between brothers, and a willingness to let the other man have the credit. (verse 10)
 1. Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit . . . 2. Never flag in zeal, be aglow with the Spirit. 3. Never let your zeal flag; maintain the spiritual glow . . . 4. Not wanting in devotion, but on fire with the Spirit. 6. Let us not allow slackness to spoil our work and let us keep the fires of the spirit burning. (verse 11)
 1. Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer. 2.—be constant in prayer. 3. Let your hope be a joy to you; be steadfast in trouble, attend to prayer. 4. Be happy in your hope . . . 5.—full of joyful hope, patient under affliction, persistent in prayer. 6. Base your happiness on your hope in Christ. When trials come endure them patiently; steadfastly maintain the habit of prayer. (verse 12)
 1. Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath. 2. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God. 4. Do not take your revenge, dear friends, but leave room for God's anger. 6. Never take vengeance into your own hands, my dear friends; stand back and let God punish if he will. (verse 19)
- You can see that the "code of the Christian" simply is the way Jesus lived!
