Murphy Plans New Mercury Street Lighting

Tri-County Reforestation Program Gets Underway Here

Lights Will Be On In 3 Months

The Town of Murphy is headed for a new look after the Power Board and Town Council decided to start installation of mercury vapor lamps in the downtown areas. Frank Forsyth, Power Board chairman, said this week.

The work is expected to be completed and the lights turned on in approximately three months, the Power Board said.

The new lights are considered the most modern system in use today and each lamp will have a light output of 30,000 lumens. That compares with the present white-way lamp rating of 1,000 to 2,500 lumens.

The new type system will throw all the light downward on the street surface where it is most needed, the three-man Power Board stated. The reduction in glare and increased efficiency of the new system will increase visibility on the streets in a ratio of 40 to one as compared to the old white way, the Board asserted.

STAGGERED SPACING

The new lights will be mounted on rim-looking steel standards on both sides of the street in a staggered arrangement with spacing of approximately 125 feet to insure an even distribution of light all along the street.

The Board said the new lighting system is expected to be tremendous help in cutting down traffic accidents and crime on the town's streets.

"This street lighting system is a big step ahead for Murphy," the Board asserted. Listing the advantages of the new system the Board said, "Good street lighting is a sign of a progressive community. Other communities have found out that improved street lighting always pays off and leads to general improvement, modern store fronts, more tourist traffic and a better city in many other ways."

Miss Perry To Leave Church Post

Miss Sarah Perry this week announced her resignation as educational director at the First Baptist Church Murphy. She will become educational director of the Wynton Baptist Church, Columbus, Ga., Sept. 1. Her duties in Murphy will end around the middle of August, when she will go to her home at Wingate for a rest of two weeks. Miss Perry, a graduate of Wingate Junior College, Meredith College and the Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas, has served the Murphy Church for the past 14 months.

Art, Hobby Show To Be In Andrews

An Art and Hobby Show will be held in the building between Dorsey's and Lay's Dry Good Stores in Andrews Friday and Saturday from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m.

The event will be a tri-county affair participated in by anyone who wishes to enter his exhibits.

The show will be sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrews Evangelical Lutheran Church with proceeds going to the District Memorial Hospital fund. Funds will be raised by donations received from persons viewing the exhibits.

Cloer Dies Suddenly Here

Edward Judson Cloer, 69, died of a heart attack Monday at 9:11 p. m. in Petrie Hospital.

He had been fishing in Hiwassee Lake for about two hours when he became ill.

Sam Oliver, sexton at the First Baptist Church had gone to the lake to look after a boat belonging to the Rev. J. Alton Morris when Cloer told him he was ill and asked him to get help.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Craig and son, Winston, Jr. neighbors of Cloer, were passing in a truck about 5 p. m. when Oliver hailed them.

Craig and Oliver brought Cloer to Petrie Hospital. Dr. Helen Wells reported that he had a second attack and died at 9:11.

A native of Macon County, Cloer had lived in Franklin and had been employed by Ritter Lumber Company at Rainbow Springs for 10 years and at Hayesville for six years.

He moved to Murphy in February, 1944 and was employed by Murphy Box and Flooring Company for six years, retiring in 1950.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church of which he was a member at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Pallbearers were Winston Craig, Hayes Dockery, Cloe Moore, Ross and Bob Cloer, and Hoover Anderson.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Teenie Price Cloer; the father, James N. Cloer of Franklin; two sisters, Mrs. Otto Brown of Franklin, and Mrs. Will Greenwood of Savannah, Ga.

Ivie Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Dickey Awaiting Chattanooga Franchise

Wilson Palmer, of the Dickey Freight Lines, this week was in Washington, D. C. to check on his company's application for franchise to enter Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dickey Freight applied for the franchise last January, and the franchise is still pending, Palmer said.

Mr. Palmer said he feels confident the franchise will be awarded by I. C. C. with only a matter of time to overcome.

Mr. Palmer spent two days in Washington checking on the progress of his application. He said he has had constant calls and letters from prospective customers for Chattanooga.

Cherokee Marble Approved By Army

Cherokee County marble will be used in Arlington National Cemetery for the first time soon after approval of the marble was obtained last week through Congressman George A. Shuford.

Shuford this week announced the approval after he had made application to the quartermaster general, Department of the Army to have the local marble approved for use in Arlington.

Roscoe Wilkins, manager of Columbia Marble Co. at Marble, explained that the Army Department's approval was necessary for all marble used in monuments at the national cemetery. He said it was the first time Columbia had sought approval from the Army.

The approval was made on "sterling gray" marble, native to Cherokee County. The orders for the local marble will made for privately purchased monuments to be placed in Arlington.

Mr. Wilkins said the sterling gray will be as good or better than most of the other domestic marbles used in Arlington. He said the first of the Cherokee County marble Arlington monuments has already been sold and will be shipped within 30 days.

Five Precinct Changes Will Cut Election Expenses Here

The Cherokee County Elections Board this week took steps to cut election costs here, after a request was made by the County Board of Commissioners.

After the voted changes are put in effect some $600 will be saved the county in the general election, the board said.

The board, which includes R. A. Dewar and John Carringer in addition to Stalcup, Monday voted the following precinct consolidations and moves:

1. Tipton to North Ward Andrews.
2. Andrews South Ward to School house.
3. Consolidation of Ebenezer and Boiling Springs and moving to Hanging Dog Schoolhouse.
4. Upper Beaverdam to Unaka.
5. Consolidation of Walker Schoolhouse and Culberson and moving to new Culberson Schoolhouse on Highway 64.

Judy Sneed On YF Council

Miss Judy Sneed, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Sneed, and a rising sophomore at Murphy High School, recently was awarded a bid to sit on the Asheville Presbytery Youth Fellowship Council.

She is the first Murphy young person to receive this honor.

Miss Sneed's appointment to the council came as a result of a worship service which she presented at Montreat Assembly on "Thy Will Be Done In Earth As It Is In Heaven."

After her appointment to the council, she remained for another week at Montreat—with all expenses paid—for a study course.

Next week she will attend another week of study at Nacome, Tenn., where a Four-State Youth Fellowship Conference will be held.

Dr. Sisk Leads Andrews Revival

A series of revival services began last night at the First Baptist Church of Andrews, with Dr. W. K. Sisk of Belton, Texas, preaching.

The series will continue through Sunday, August 1, with services each evening at 7:30. Beginning Monday, July 28, services will also be held at 10 each morning.

J. C. Boone, Jr., summer assistant in Andrews, is leading the singing. The Rev. John C. Corbitt is pastor.

Dr. Sisk is head of the Bible Department at Mary Hardin-Baylor College in Belton, Texas.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Trees Offered Free By TVA

Representatives from Cherokee, Graham and Clay Counties met in Murphy Tuesday to put down the first roots of a reforestation program in the three counties.

At a luncheon in the Regal Hotel men from the three counties heard plans for reforestation in this area.

TVA will furnish trees for the project which is sponsored by the Citizens Bank and Trust Co., the State Extension Service and the Lions Club.

During the meeting it was pointed out that:

Lumber is an important source of income to the three counties.

The three counties are depleting their forests under the present cutting system.

And that Champion Fibre Co. paid some $250,000 into Cherokee County last year for pulp wood. That amount can not continue to come into the county if the present cutting system continues.

Approximate area still in need of tree planting in Cherokee County was totaled at 10,000 acres; Clay 900 acres, and Graham 1,300 acres.

The trees will be furnished free of charge by the Tennessee Valley Authority, and are valued at approximately $5 per 1,000. Applications for less than 500 trees cannot be accepted, according to TVA. The applications can be turned into the state district.

During the organizational meeting, Frank Forsyth, executive vice president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co., was elected chairman of the three county committee.

County committees will be formed in each of the three counties and a committee will be appointed to select a name for the project.

Mrs. Frazier's Rites Held Sat.

Mrs. Lucy Margaret Frazier, age 84, died at her home in Andrews at 6:00 p. m. Saturday.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the Andrews Free Methodist Church with the Rev. M. W. Williams and the Rev. John Corbitt officiating. Interment was in Valleytown cemetery.

A native of Rappahannock County, Virginia, the deceased married James Frazier in 1890 and moved to Andrews in 1900. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Surviving are three daughters: Mrs. Idi Bell Holland of Andrews, Mrs. Ora Murphy and Mrs. Louise West of Youngstown, Ohio, three sons, Joseph C. of Telford, Tenn. and Jack and Charlie of Andrews; also one sister, Mrs. Dora Frazier, 23 grandchildren, 41 great grandchildren and eight-great-great-grandchildren.

Ivie Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.
