4-H Poultry Show Sale Be Thursday

The 4-H Pullet Show and Sale will be held at the Fair grounds at 2 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 23. Page 25 of the Fair catalog erroneously states the sale will be held on Friday.

There will be 10 groups of pullets, with 12 in each group, sold at auction. Each boy or girl in the 4-H Poultry Chain will select 12 of their best pullets from a flock of 100 which they have raised from baby chicks.

The Farmers Federation, sponsors of the pullet chain, again are offering $100 in prizes to the 4-H'ers showing pullets. These chicks will be judged by poultry extension specialists from State college and placed into blue, red and white groups according to quality.

Anyone who is interested in obtaining top quality pullets ready for fall and winter production, cannot go wrong in coming out to the sale and bidding on them, it was said.

Mrs. Dallas McKown, of Oak Park, kept records on the 12 pullets which she purchased from the chain last year and her average production was 369 eggs per bird for 11 months. She said she supplied her family and two other families with eggs from her flock.

Murphy Takes Sylva In Home Thriller

Murphy's Bulldogs, showing steady improvements since the start of the season last week played their best game thus far downing Sylva 13-7. Sylva traveled to Murphy with a record of three wins for the past three tilts with the Bulldogs.

At the beginning of the game Sylva won the toss and received the kick. Sylva ran the ball three times and kicked to Murphy. During the local's first period with the ball in the first minute and three quarters of the game—Burke Moore, on a pitchout from Sammy White, ran the ball 35 yards to a touchdown. The kick for the extra point was blocked.

Moore would have scored again in the first quarter, but he ran into an official, which slowed him and he was caught.

Later in the first quarter Sylva put on a 50 yard drive and made their only score of the game with Charles Reed carrying the ball over from the one yard line for the TD. The extra points were made good and Sylva led by one point.

The second quarter was scored with both teams holding well

Fire Takes Toll On Lover's Leap

An early season forest fire took its toll in some two and a half acres of woodland on Lover's Leap here Saturday.

District Ranger W. E. Howell said the fire started soon after dark Saturday and was battled by Forest Service and state crews from 9:30 p. m. through Sunday when it was brought under control.

The rocky and hilly terrain made fire-fighting difficult and the woods were "powder dry", Howell said. The fire was finally controlled by Sunday, when it was cut off at the old road on top of the mountain.

Howell said the fire started from carelessness probably by fishermen. The ranger said the rains early this week were a relief to the forest fire situation made grave by the extreme drought.

ASC Elections Method Is Told

The method of holding community ASC farmer-committee elections was announced today by H. B. McNabb chairman of the Cherokee County ASC Committee.

Community meetings will be held in the county's 11 designated agricultural communities on Sept. 27 through Oct. 2.

At these meetings farmers will be asked to nominate from among their friends and neighbors at least ten eligible persons to serve as Community Committeemen and alternates.

After nominating meetings, have been held, ballots will be mailed to eligible voters in the county on October 7. Any farmer who as owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper is participating in a program administered by the County ASC Committee, is eligible to vote and should receive a ballot from his County ASC Office. If no ballot is received, one may be obtained from the County ASC Office after October 7.

Ballots may be mailed back to the County Office providing they are postmarked not later than October 15. They may be delivered to the County Office not later than noon, October 18.

Announcements will be made of the Community Committeemen elected as soon as the ballots are counted on the afternoon of the 18th. Delegates elected by the farmers will meet on October 19 to elect County Committeemen. ASC County and Community Committeemen elected will take office November 1.

School Bond Meets Are Set In County

The second mass meeting on the $500,000 school bond will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the Murphy High School auditorium. Frank Forsyth, chairman of the Citizens Committee for the bond, will be in charge.

The first meeting was held at Peachtree School Tuesday night. The meeting followed a luncheon meeting at the Regal Hotel when the committee was formed and Mr. Forsyth elected chairman.

Some 27 farmers and businessmen attended the luncheon from all over the county. And several men gave their views of the coming bond election.

C. E. Hyde pointed out that some schools in the county were inferior to most of the grade A cattle barns in this section.

H. A. Mattox asserted that he believes taxes will not go up if the bond is voted in. If there is ever any increase in taxes, he said, it will not be because of the school bond. The county can pay off the bond because it is getting more money than is needed to run the county budget, he said.

If the public can understand that the county does have enough money to pay off the bond without an increase in taxes, the bond will pass, he said.

Noah Lovingood asked that the county look for some other way to build the schools and if no other way is found, then the bond should be voted in. Mr. Mattox pointed out that all the county school boards searched every plan before they asked for the bond issuance. It was pointed out at the meeting that the county has already spent some $340,000 of unbudgeted money on schools in the county.

Noah Hembree said that a new school is needed at Hiwassee Dam five rooms at Wolf Creek, four rooms at Martins Creek, an auditorium at Ranger and an auditorium at White Church.

L. W. Hendrix said that sites for new schools at Hiwassee Dam and Marble have already been obtained.

H. Bueck pointed out that in many cases cows in Cherokee County have better buildings than some of the school children attend.

C. E. Hyde said we need to do more than we are now doing. Some sections of the county, he said, are still using school buildings over 60 years old. We should not have homes or barns better than our school buildings, he asserted.

L. L. Mason county attorney, answered questions concerning the county's debts and Mr. Forsyth pointed out that bonds would be retired all along.

H. Duncan asserted that the state will not help Cherokee County if it does not help itself. He called for the passage of the bond so that this county can figure in the distribution of the second half of the state money.

The county now has $167,000 it can call for in the state bond money as soon as enough money is raised in the county to go with it.

H-Plant Worker Dies By Scalding

James Russell Chambers, 39-year-old maintenance mechanic at the Savannah River Plant of the Atomic Energy Commission, last week was fatally scalded in an accident at the plant.

A second worker, identified as Clyde Barter Sistare, 31, was in serious condition at a hospital as a result of the scalding.

Both men suffered third-degree burns. Chambers, of Kathwood Lake, died shortly after the mishap. He had a number of friends in this county.

Officials of the company said the accident occurred when the two men attempted to remove a flange from process equipment. The action released a large quantity of scalding water over them.

Chambers is survived by his father, James Chambers of Providence, R. I., and a son, David, 6.
