Blood Donors Sought For Murphy

The bloodmobile will be in Murphy next Wednesday, March 14, to collect blood donations.

The mobile will be at the First Baptist Church from noon until 6 p. m. for donations. Dot Hensley will be in charge of registration and the Presbyterian women will conduct the canteen.

Volunteer doctors assisting will be Drs. Hoover, Size, Whitfield, Wells, Taylor and King.

At least 100 pints are needed and everyone is asked to donate to help build up the blood bank. Collections at the past visits of the bloodmobile have been slack and Cherokee County has received many more pints of blood than it has donated.

Cherokee County is being called upon to contribute $1700 or better in the 75th annual campaign for the American Red Cross for disaster relief and provision of various community and national services.

The drive will start Monday, March 12, according to Mrs. Cloe Moore, chairman of the Red Cross in the county, with the hope that it will be completed by the end of the week. Assisting Mrs. Moore in the 1956 campaign are Mrs. R. C. Fuller, Francis Bourne, Jr., Frank Forsyth, Rev. J. Alton Morris and Robert A. Potter.

Red Cross funds have been depleted by the devastating effects of hurricane-born floods in the northeastern portion of the country last summer and fall. Almost $16,000,000 was expended in six states of the area, helping more than 14,000 families.

Aid was rendered closer home in the case of sufferers in eastern North Carolina hurricane damage. In all but three of the 48 states—the three in the far West—the Red Cross furnished disaster aid within the last six years.

While Cherokee County and immediate area has not had to receive aid because of some dire calamity—a matter for thanksgiving, Mrs. Moore points out—it has profited, along with multitudes of communities for mother services of the Red Cross.

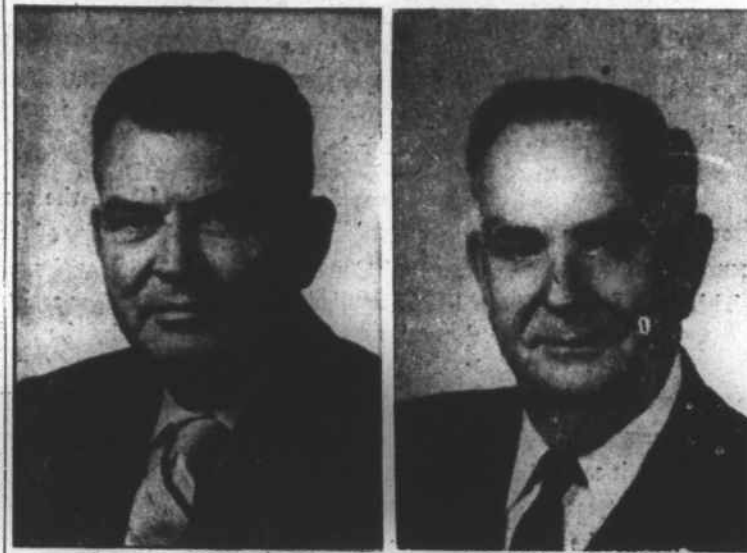

Foremost among these include the blood program providing lifesaver or injuries to individuals and giving blood at a time when disaster does strike in the way of sick families. Last year 286 pints were contributed in the county toward a goal of 300. Red Cross blood is supplied without cost in any cases of illness or injury.

Trafficking for 45 girls at Murphy High School in Red Cross home nursing service was provided. Mrs. Fuller being instructor. There are 15 women qualified to teach nursing service in the county.

Eight boys also passed the Junior Red Cross life-saving test last summer, instruction being given by Mrs. George Size; while first aid and water safety was given to David Cash.

Persons in the Murphy area are requested to send their contributions to Mrs. Moore or one of those helping with the drive.
