U. S. Soil Bank
Is Explained

Cherokee County Agent Paul Nave this week called attention to the importance of Cherokee County farmers getting acquainted with the feature of the 1956 Soil Bank Program.

This program offers farmers in Cherokee County an opportunity to help reduce agricultural surpluses and at the same time receive some financial benefits by cooperating in this effort, Mr.
Nave said.

Mr. Nave said, "It is important, I think, that farmers in Cherokee County get acquainted with provisions of this Soil Bank Program as soon as possible."

He further said that there are numerous opportunities to participate in 1956 in spite of the fact that it was passed by Congress rather late in the season.

Mr. Nave pointed out that his office of the ASC in the Courthouse, are always available for persons wishing to know more about the soil bank program.

Mr. Nave gave the following informative questions and answers on the program:

1. What is the Soil Bank Program?

The Soil Bank Program (Public Law 540) is an act passed by the 84th Congress, approved May 28, 1956, authorizing payments to farmers for diverting acreage from production of allotment crops (acreage reserve program), and for diverting acreage of land on the farm regularly used in the production of crops — including crops such as tame hay, alfalfa, and clovers which do not require annual tillage — (Conservation Reserve Program).

2. Why was the program authorized?

(1) The program was authorized by the Congress as an effort on their part toward assisting farmers to reduce surpluses of the basic commodities — tobacco, peanuts, cotton, wheat, and corn in commercial corn counties.

(2) The program was authorized by the Congress in recognition of the great need for conservation of our natural resources.

(3) The Congress, recognizing the fact that farm income is very low compared with other segments of the national economy, authorized the program with the hope that it would improve the economic condition of the nation's farmers.

3. When will the Soil Bank Program be placed in operation?

The bill required that the secretary of agriculture make the soil bank effective immediately after approval of the bill by the presdent. There were many administrative determinations to be made by the secretary of agriculture before the soil bank program could be presented to farmers. In addition, there were forms to be designed, reproduced, and delivered to ASC County offices. Considering this, the secretary set the third week in June as the time when the soil bank program would be taken to the field.

A meeting or meetings will be held in every county at which farmers will be given details on the program and told when and where they may sign up. In most counties, these meetings will begin the last week in June.

4. A farmer has already planted his full allotment of tobacco, but a good part of the tobacco has been destroyed by hail. Can the farmer put some of that acreage in the acreage reserve program?

If the farmer has complied with all of his acreage allotments and his soil bank corn base, he may place acreage of tobacco that will not be harvested because of destruction by natural causes in the soil bank.

5. Can a farmer who, in anticipation of the soil bank act under-planted his soil bank corn base or his allotment for cotton, tobacco, or wheat, be eligible for acreage reserve payments?

Yes, provided he signs a certification that he underplanted the allotment crop in anticipation of complying with the 1956 acreage reserve.

6. Suppose a farmer failed to plant his allotment or base acreage or one of the applicable crops because of adverse weather conditions?

If the farmer who under planted because of adverse weather conditions signs a certification to that effect, he will be eligible for acreage reserve payments.

7. What payment will tobacco farmers receive for acreage placed in the reserve?

The payment to tobacco farmers this year will be based on a rate of 18 cents per pound for fluecured and burley. A normal yield multiplied by 18 cents. For example, a farmer, whose normal yield for tobacco is determined by ASC to be 1,200 pounds, where two acres are placed in the reserve, would receive a payment for the two acres of $432.

8. What will be the payment for other commodities under the reserve program this year?

The payment for wheat will be a minimum of $1.33 a bushel.

9. What use may be made of acreage that is placed in the reserve program this year?

Fields designed as "acreage reserve" cannot be grazed, cut for hay, or cropped during the calendar year 1956. However, approved cover crops or crop for harvest after 1956 may be planted on reserve acreage this year.

10. What will happen if there is grazing and harvesting from reserve acreage during the calendar year 1956?

Farmers who knowingly and willfully violate the terms of their agreement may forfeit all payment due under the contract for the year, and they may be required to refund any payments made for the year in which the violation occurred.

"Put Cat Out"
Before Leaving
On Your Vacation

State police in Missouri are telling their citizens not to forget to put the cat out before shoving off on a vacation.

Same deal in North Carolina where state troopers are seldom surprised at the many things that folks forget to do before leaving for a motor trip.

One of the most important things troopers say to remember is to make a list of the places you are going and the dates, along with a description of your car and its license number.

Quoting Missouri officials "There is hardly a day during the vacation season when our officers are not called on to look for vacationing motorists . . . and it is rare when the license number or description of the car they are driving is known."

The same thing prevails in Var-lety Vacationland, according to Col. James R. Smith, state highway patrol commander.

For vacation travelers, Col.
Smith recommends three other important things to do before leaving on a vacation motor trip:

Check your car to be sure it is in safe operating condition. Brak-
