

Andrews Konnaheeta Club To Collect For Heart Fund

ANDREWS — The 1958 Heart Fund Campaign will reach another peak next Sunday, February 23, when members of the Konnaheeta Club will knock at every door in a mass house-to-house collection in co-operation with other communities throughout the nation.

The drive will be conducted here from 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. All volunteers in Andrews are asked to report to the Town Hall for instructions and materials at 2 p. m. Volunteers in Marble will see Mrs. Herman West and Topton volunteers will see Mrs. Wendell Ulm.

The door-to-door collection here will be directed by Mrs. Edgar Wood Jr., chairman and Mrs. Ruth S. Pullium, president of the Konnaheeta Club.

Volunteers will collect contributions to be sealed in a small envelope. Contributors need not indicate the amount of their gifts, Mrs. Wood pointed out.

Cold Wave Keeps Tight Grip On Murphy Area

The forecast is for slowly rising temperatures but don't get your hopes up, it's going to be a slow slow.

Winter's worst cold wave still held its grip on this area Wednesday morning.

The TVA forecast for Thursday and Friday was "slowly rising temperatures" but the weather man warned it will be just a few degrees, offering little or no relief.

Meanwhile, the 8-inch snow that fell here Saturday had frozen solid except on main thoroughfares where snow plows and other highway department vehicles cleared the way.

City and county school officials Wednesday morning said schools will remain closed the rest of the week. However, Andrews schools, after a two-day shut-down, were operating again Wednesday morning.

Tuesday morning's low was four below zero with a three below recorded Wednesday morning. High Thursday was expected to reach 27 degrees.

Rain is predicted for Saturday but this, the weatherman says, could very easily turn into more snow.

Rev. Alton Morris Announces Sermon Topics

Rev. Alton J. Morris has announced that his sermon topic for Sunday morning will be "Evidences of God on the Horizon". The evening service at 7:30 will be "The Power of The Cross".

The Wednesday evening service will be a continuation of the course "Studies in Hosea".

MURPHY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ADOPTS 1958 PROJECTS PROGRAM

Murphy Chamber of Commerce last week adopted its 1958 Projects Program.

Dave Townson, president, said it is hoped that each and everyone of these projects can be carried out the ensuing year.

The following projects were adopted:

1. A progressive Youth program for all age groups that will encompass both inside and outside activities.
2. Develop the fair grounds into a modern and progressive play ground for all types of outdoor sports, such as baseball for little League and higher classes, tennis, volley ball, badminton, horse shoe pitching, out door grills with tables, light the field for use at night. Name (Murphy Recreational Center.)
3. Additional up to Date Fire fighting equipment with one paid fireman on duty at all times.
4. Peruse the tax program that has been started with the utmost vigor.
5. Lend every effort within our power to bring as many industries and other types of business to our community as is humanly possible.

Patton and Mauck To Head March Egg Month

Glenn Patton of Murphy and Charles Mauck of Robbinsville have been named March Egg Month Chairmen for Cherokee and Graham counties, respectively. Their appointments were announced by Harry Bibbs of Earle-Chesterfield Mill Co. of Asheville, chairman for western North Carolina.

The March Egg Month program is being conducted on a statewide and national basis to encourage the consumption of more eggs. The program in North Carolina is being sponsored by the state Department of Agriculture, North Carolina State College and the Poultry and Egg National Board.

Mr. Gibbs states that this program is important, both to the consumers in the state and to egg producers. He added that egg consumption in North Carolina is low. The average North Carolina eats about 2 dozen eggs per year less than the average for the U. S. That means we need to eat more eggs for health's sake. Theme of the program is "Eggs are right—morning, noon and night".

Egg production is an important industry in the state. Approximately 80,000 farm families in North Carolina sell eggs.

The planning meeting which the county chairmen will attend, will be held on Thursday night, February 20th at 7:00 p. m. at Tingles Cafe on Broadway Street in Asheville. Also participating in this meeting will be the Poultry Commission of the Asheville Agricultural Development Council, which will assist with the area program. Principal speaker will be Wayne A. Corpening of Winston-Salem, N. C., state chairman for March Egg Month.

"Wood Finishing" Meeting To Be Held At Cullowhee

A woodworker's conference, dealing with the subject "Wood Finishing," will be held Thursday, Feb. 27, at Western Carolina College, Cullowhee.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 a. m. in the woodworking shop located in the Stillwell Building. All woodworkers and others interested in this subject are cordially invited to attend.

The one-day meeting will feature discussions and demonstrations of finishing techniques, new developments in finishing material and their use, and everyday problems of wood finishing.

Center Parking Prohibited On Murphy Streets

City Clerk Charlie Johnson this week gave instructions to Officer Blaine Stalcup that center parking the streets of Murphy is prohibited.

This, Officer Stalcup said, does not apply to trucks loading and unloading.

Any parked car in the center of the street will be tagged for illegal parking and it's driver fined $1.00.

Murphy Boy and Girl Scouts To March Sunday In Heart Fund Drive

The 1958 Heart Fund campaign will reach a peak this Sunday, when volunteers will spread through every section of Murphy in a door-to-door collection for contributions between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m.

These volunteers will be Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts from all of the Troops in Murphy. They will meet at the Cherokee Cafe at 1:30, said Mrs. Kathleen Haggard, Chairman of the Murphy Campaign, for instructions and will meet back at Cherokee Cafe after 5 to turn in their collections.

Heart Sunday comes only once a year, giving each of us an opportunity to contribute personally to the fight against the heart diseases" Mrs. Haggard, said.

So, as we approach Heart Sunday, the chairman continued, "each of us has the individual responsibility of supporting this effort to safeguard our hearts, and the hearts of those we love. By the size of our gifts we determine the amount of research that can be carried on in the quest of new heart knowledge, and the extent to which this new knowledge can be passed to our physicians for our benefit and for the benefit of our families and our neighbors.

"When the Heart Sunday volunteer arrives, please be ready with a friendly welcome, and remember that he or she is giving us an opportunity to invest in the welfare of our own hearts," Mrs. Haggard added.

Most of the money contributed will remain here in our own locality for the use and benefit of those suffering from heart diseases.

Each volunteer will wear a circular identification tag carrying a supply of contribution envelopes. The householder seals his contribution in the envelope. He need not divulge the amount of his gift. The volunteers will also carry self-addressed mail-in envelopes which they will leave for families that are not at home during collection hours.

TRAFFIC LIGHT — Taken from the third floor of New Regal Hotel, this photo shows limited activities in the town square as an 8-inch snow gripped this area Saturday morning.

HAVE FUN, NO SCHOOL — With school out because of snow, the younger set came to town Saturday to make a playground of the winter wonderland here. Tired of snow battles, the group turned to making a snowman in the town square.

BATTLE ROYAL — This group of teen-age boys was tossing snow balls fast and accurately Saturday morning in one battle after another. Several grown-ups got into the act.

SHOULD I DO IT? — City Policeman Blaine Stalcup scratches his head in a dubious manner over this parking violation. A snow-covered car and a snow-covered parking meter aren't "covered" in the rule book. With no place to put the ticket, the officer decided to put his book away.

OPERATION CHAINS — This was the scene at most area service stations Saturday morning as autos slid into their favorite stations to have tire chains installed.
