CHEROKEE CHATTER

By OPHE MCKEEVER

The magazines are full of diet plans—3 days—8 days—14 days of pure torture. The column this week with favorite recipes of some of Murphy's finest cooks is designed to lure you into instead of out of the kitchen.

MISS CLARA McCOMBS' recipe for Sweet Potato Balls is full of everything good—not on the low calorie list. She says it's a pretty dish for parties and also one the whole family will enjoy.

Take one cup of mashed sweet potatoes and combine with 1/4 teaspoons of salt, 1/3 teaspoon of nutmeg, 1/2 cup of black walnuts, and 1/4 cup of brown sugar. Shape into balls and roll in 1 cup of crushed cornflakes. Place 8 slices of canned pineapple in a buttered baking dish and over that pour 1/4 cup of pineapple juice and sprinkle with 1/2 cup of brown sugar. Place a potato ball in the center of the pineapple slices. Pour melted butter over the balls and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in a moderate oven until the mixture is well-browned.

MRS. W. F. ELLIOTT, who has a special place in every Lion's heart for her culinary talents, chose this recipe for Liver Pudding because pork at this season is abundant and cheap.

Season two pounds of fresh pork liver and 1/2 pound of fresh pork shoulder with salt and pepper. Boil until tender. Reserve broth and grind pork and liver. Boil into a container to cool. Serve the pudding cold in slices or fry.

MRS. RUTH FORSYTH has a special Cheese Ball recipe that has never failed to draw favorable comment not only for its delicious taste but also because the ball is so attractive when served.

Most people in Georgia don't believe in heaven; they think they die and go to ATLANTA.

Cherokee County Farm & Home News

MISS THELMA WHEELER
Home Agent

January 29 found County Council members with schedules so full that they would not want to face such a schedule too often.

The first meeting was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. at the Power Board Building and it was called for the express purpose of planning the District Federation meeting which will be held at Robbinsville on April 30.

District Federation I is comprised of Clay, Cherokee and Graham Counties and each county was well represented.

Mrs. David Riddle, president, presided over the meeting with Mrs. Blaine Carver serving as secretary.

A coffee hour preceded the meeting allowing each one to get acquainted, the meeting getting underway promptly at 10 a.m.

The speaker this year will be Mrs. Mena Hogan Woodle, Home Economics Agent, Clay County. The group was quick to realize that it is a rare privilege to have one in its midst who has such a vast of wealth of experience to draw upon. Mrs. Woodle who is better known as Miss Mena Hogan, Extension Service, Washington, D. C., is known personally by most Home Economics Agents throughout the county for her leadership ability and all of the other characteristics that makes her an outstanding person.

How she happened to come our way we can only hazard a guess but our section of the State is extremely fortunate to have such a person in our midst.

Out tri-county delegates planned a very ambitious program but one entirely within realization provided we get busy. Twentynine members attended the planning meeting.

The County President, Mrs. Patschal Hughes called the first council meeting for the new year for 1:30 p. m. same day, same place. Council meetings are held quarterly and with much business to transact in order to get the new year off to a good start the meeting moved rapidly and cleared the agenda.

Mrs. W. R. Thompson was elected to succeed Mrs. Arthur Jones as county council secretary. Mrs. Jones asked to be relieved due to other commitments.

Three county project leaders were appointed to fill out unexpired terms.

Considerable time was devoted to the citizenship program for the ensuing year with the theme "Better Informed Citizens."

Our objectives are: (1) to help all people understand that all homemakers need citizenship education; (2) to help county and district citizenship leaders to develop a program that will inform and encourage women to understand their responsibilities as citizens.

In order to accomplish our objectives four definite goals were set up.

The group suggested a more effective reporting system in order to have accurate records of individual member accomplishments.

The suggestion was so good that the president asked to have it put in the form of a motion. The following members were asked to serve on a committee which will meet Friday, February 6, 1:30 p.m. at the Home Economics Agents home: Mrs. Olen McDonald, Mrs. A. B. Chandler Sr., Mrs. Wesley Baker, Mrs. Bill Hatchett, Mrs. Howard Martin.

With seventeen members representing eight Home Demonstration clubs in the county much planning was accomplished. Cherokee County Home Demonstration Clubs have manifested their leadership abilities in years past and the year 1959 promises to be equally as good or better than previous years achievements.

A NEW PUBLICATION FOR HOME DEMONSTRATION MEMBERS

"Green 'n' Growin'" is the intriguing name given to the new magazine for Home Demonstration Club members in North Carolina.

The first issue is just off the press and it's checked full of information of particular interest of members but other members of the family will find it good reading too.

It is a magazine dedicated to women who believe that "today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." Need more be said?

It is available to any interested person. Make inquiries at Home Economics Agent's office.
