MRS. LOTTIE BELL

And now Mrs. Lottie Bell is gone! After her husband died, I planned to go by to see her. "I'll wait a little while," I said, "until other people stop coming." Years ago my mother had reminded me that a person going through a period of grief has more need of friends after the crowds are gone.

So I waited. And then kept waiting—to get caught up—after the car had stopped working—with the nine or ten families I had started tutoring. (I often work with two or more members of the same family when there seems to be an interest in and need for special help with reading or writing. Since I have a certificate in Early Childhood, I am more interested than many of the tutors in working with children.)

But I never really got caught up. After taking the Writing Workshop offered at PSU this summer, I agreed to write not mean that you had to take a student. Neither would taking the Workshop. We do not want to high-pressure anyone. What we do want is for persons of all ages to have a chance to learn reading and writing in a happy atmosphere.

BACK TO MRS. BELL

Though I thought about "Miss Lottie" many times during the summer months, I never took time out to go by to see her. A few weeks ago I was talking with some of my Pine Street friends—from the nearly nine years we lived in an apartment on that street. They told me "Miss Lottie" was in the hospital—in Intensive Care Unit. "Surely she'll get better," I thought. "I'll go to see her this time."

But she didn't. And I can't.

Why did I single out "Miss Lottie"—when there are so many other lonely shut-ins who need a few minutes of friendly fellowship to brighten up a dreary day?

Because she was my baby-sitter back in '67 and '68 when I started working with the Trainable Class at Magnolia. Donny was already in school.

But, during the day, Mrs. Bell had her hands full with 3-year-old Gordon and 5-year-old Wanda. "Miss Lottie" also helped with the cooking and housework—even though her health that time was not at all good.

In fact, "Miss Lottie" was much more than a baby-sitter. To me she was a dear Christian friend. To our two younger children she was almost like another grandma, as good to them as they had been to her own grandchildren. They still remember how she often gave them fruit or cake when they stayed with her while she did her own house work.

Gordon's memory of Mrs. Bell that year is much like his memory of staying with "Grandma Oxendine" the following year, when his sister was in first grade.

After "Granddaddy Oxendine" retired from teaching and Mama was back in school taking Early Childhood courses, Gordon had the privilege of staying with both grand parents—even going with them on several short trips.

Our children have been fortunate to have so many "older adults"—including another Pine Street neighbor, "Miss Lillie" Jacobs—who cared about their welfare and helped with their training.

After writing the above, I read it to Wanda Kay, now 14, for her suggestions. "Mama," she said, "you need to say something else about Mrs. Bell."

"What?" I asked her.

"Just say that Wanda and Gordon will have a lasting memory of Mrs. Bell and her loving ways," she said, pausing a moment to reflect on one of her special friends.

I am thankful that my mother-in-law is improving and may soon be leaving the hospital.

Pembroke Kiwanians hold installation ceremony

President Jerry Juren of the Pembroke Kiwanis Club opened the final meeting of his tenure as Club President, Tuesday evening, October 5th. Ira Pate Lowry led the Club members and guests in singing and James A. Sampson gave the invocation.

As is customary, Installation Night is also Ladies Night at the Kiwanis meeting and each member introduced his guest to the Club members. President Juren announced that Tuesday, October 12 is the annual President's night steak dinner which will be held at Carl Stubbs' Camp beginning at 7 p.m. It will also be "ladies night." Members and guests were reminded to bring silverware—everything else will be furnished. On October 19 the annual observance of Charter Night will take place. This meeting will be held at Sim's Restaurant and will also be a "ladies night" meeting.

Following these announcements, President Juren acknowledged the tremendous help given him during his year as Club President, by the entire membership and attributed the success of Pembroke Kiwanis to this loyal support.

The speaker and installation officer, Lt. Governor Jim Holt of Kiwanis District 4, was introduced by President Juren. Mr. Holt is a resident of Sanford and a former President of the Sanford Kiwanis Club. In his remarks, Lt. Governor Holt spoke of the "successful" Kiwanis Club as one which exhibits outstanding leadership, good management of its affairs, a membership which is willing and efficient in its work, and one which renders service to the community of which it is a part. He also reminded everyone that Kiwanis is not a profit-making organization; that the many fund-raising projects in which a Club engages are for but one purpose—to return the monies raised to the community in the form of a service project which otherwise might not be provided to the residents of the county. Moreover it is a Kiwanian responsibility to work with the people of the community in which it is located in keeping the moral, religious, and civic standards at the highest possible level. Kiwanians should be "concerned citizens" above all else—concerned about reducing crime in a community, concerned about helping people, young and old. We should remember what we have inherited from previous generations these past 200 years and should strive to keep democracy and the freedom of the individual citizen safe for generations to come. As Americans we enjoy the highest standard of living, the most freedom, the most opportunities of any nation in the world and we must insure that these things not only survive but also increase in the years to come. Kiwanis must remain strong and one way to accomplish this is to increase its membership so that more people may become involved in services to the community.

Following his remarks, Lt. Governor Holt presented the past-president's pin to Jerry Juren and installed the following officers and Board of Directors for 1976-1977: President—Bernard Lowry; Vice-President—James A. Sampson; Secretary—Eddie Mac Locklear; Treasurer—Albert Hunt. Board of Directors membership: Marshall Locklear, John Rimbreg, Ken Johnson, Theodore Maynor, and William X. Oxendine.

Past-President Jerry Juren then presented the gavel to incoming President Bernard Lowry who expressed his appreciation to the Club members for bestowing upon him the highest honor any Kiwanis Club can bestow upon one of its members, and announced his appointments of Committee Chairmen for the coming year: Agriculture—Ira Pate Lowry; Program—Gibson Gray; Key Club—Marshall Locklear; Boys and Girls programs—Charlie Walters and William X. Oxendine; Vocational Guidance—Ed Teets; Church and spiritual aims—James A. Sampson; Rules and Regulations—John L. Carter; Publicity—Ken Johnson. House - Theodore Maynor.

Closing announcements included the reading of a letter from Stacy Wells (Lumberton) of the County Park and Recreation Committee commending the Pembroke Kiwanis Club for its accomplishments in behalf of Little League baseball in Pembroke through the provision of $300 for the Little League field and $300 for a pitching machine.

President and Mrs. Bernard Lowry were congratulated upon the honor to be bestowed upon their son, Commander Bernard F. Lowry, Jr., USN. The announcement of an invitation concerning this honor officer "The Commanding Officer of the Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron 113 invites you to be present at the Change of Command Ceremony at which Commander William H. Reed, Jr., USN will be relieved by Commander Bernard F. Lowry, Jr., USN at sea on board the USS Enterprise CVN-65 at 10 o'clock Tuesday, October 26."
