OPPORTUNITIES IN MEDICINE FOR MINORITY STUDENTS AT HARVARD

Harvard is trying to attract students interested in the medical sciences. A coordinated effort is now underway to secure applications from Black Chicano, Indian Puerto Rican, other Spanish speaking students and orientals. Harvard Medical School is located in the center of the medical area of Boston. The Harvard Dental School and the School of Public Health are also in this area. They are separate from the Cambridge campus of Harvard University. Students at the medical school work closely with 7 local teaching hospitals. This provides the students with a broad base of experience in the practice and teaching of medicine as well as assisting in the advancement of medical research.

For further information, write: Alvin Poussaint, M. D., Admissions Officer, Harvard Medical School, 25 Shattuck Street, Boston, Mass. 02115.

The counselors hope to achieve these objectives by working with students on an individual basis, as well as through groups, giving them guidance and assistance in meeting their various needs and in developing their talents.

Any persons in the community interested in the Talent Search Program or needing assistance should contact the counselor in his area, or call 521-2401, or visit the main office in the LRDA Annex Building in Pembroke.

In Gloria's Kitchen

by Gloria Gates

Several weeks ago I asked for some meat recipes. I have received a few, but would like to have several more. If you have a good recipe, please send it to The Carolina Indian Voice. Your help would be greatly appreciated.

- 1 onion
- 1 egg
- ketchup
- salt and pepper
- 1 qt. tomatoes

After working all day it's hard to fix a good meal in a hurry. I have found that meatballs fixed in the oven can be prepared quickly. I serve it with rice, green beans, rolls and iced tea.

Mix hamburger, onions, egg bread, salt and pepper to taste, add enough ketchup to blend these ingredients together. Roll into large meatballs. Place in baking dish and brown in oven for ten minutes. Remove from oven and pour grease from meatballs. Pour tomatoes over meatballs and bake at 375 degrees for approximately 30 minutes. Serve while steaming hot.

FANCY MEATBALLS
1 lb. hamburger
1 slice of bread or 4 crackers

15th Anniversary of Pembroke Kiwanis Club Observed representing the Lumberton Kiwanis Club and Dr. Martin Brooks, the first President of Pembroke Kiwanis was recognized by Theodore Maynor.

The guest speaker, Judge Sam McKinnon of Lumberton, was introduced by President Bernard Lowry. Judge Sam McKinnon was born in Maxton but has resided in Lumberton for most of his life. He is a prominent lawyer in that community, Lt. Governor of Kiwanis, and presently a resident judge. His wife is the daughter of Dr. E. L. Bowman and they are parents of five children-four boys and one girl.

Judge McKinnon spoke concerning one of the Kiwanis themes for the year - "Crime Prevention." More than ever before, crime and crime prevention are of great concern to all citizens. The FBI records show a dramatic rise in crime in the last ten years. There are several causes of criminal actions-poverty, unemployment, lack of education and training necessary to job procurement, inadequate public recreational facilities, to mention a few.

At the same time, we must restudy and update our criminal laws and make them more enforceable; we must restudy and update our criminal laws provide adequate training and pay for our police; we must show improvement in our education, rehabilitation, probation, and parole systems which are so very important in helping those who will be returning to society. The great majority of people in violation of the law are under 25 years of age, and many of these reflect a breakdown of the family unit and a lack of acceptance of responsibility for their own conduct.

Following the program, Eddie Mac Locklear announced the recipient of the "Kiwanian of the Year Award"-Adolph Dial. Due to the delay in receiving packages these days, the Award did not arrive in time for the presentation but the applause and congratulations for Dial and the work he has done for Kiwanis and in the community and county with the outdoor drama "Strike at the Wind" more than made up for the absence of the Award Plaque.

Tracy Ballou also announced that the Pembroke Kiwanis Club had won the Achievement Award for its work with children and young people.

Key Club members from Pembroke Senior High School attending the program were Jeff Maynor and Donna Sue Oxendine.

Charter members of the Pembroke Kiwanis were recognized-Dr. Martin Brooks, Theodore Maynor, Jim Paul, William X Oxendine and Albert Hunt.

Enrollment Certificate

All Indian children enrolled in the Robeson County School System in grades K-12 will receive from their teacher an Indian student enrollment certificate form (one for each child). This form must be filled out by the child's parent or guardian, or by the student himself if age 18. These forms will be returned to the school in which the child is presently enrolled. It is very important that these forms be completely filled out, signed and returned immediately.

This is very necessary if the schools are to qualify for funds under the Title IV, Indian Education Act for the school year 1977-78.

Parent Night Successful

A parents night Open House Monday at Pembroke Elementary School attended by over 800 parents and patrons, was one of the most successful ever held, according to Principal James C. Dial.

The Open House was from 7:00 -9:30 p.m. with parents free to go into individual class rooms to discuss the school's curriculum with teachers. Students from Grade 7 served as guides and assisted in serving refreshments in the lobby.

Parents had an opportunity to learn more about the school. Pembroke Elementary School is the largest Elementary School in Robeson County. It has a current enrollment of nearly 1,100 students in grades K-7. It also has four classes for exceptional children, with one of these for the gifted and talented. The school has a full time school nurse and a faculty of fifty professional teachers. The school has a full time music teacher and one of the best bands in this area of the state. There are some fifty para professional and support personnel serving the school.

Because of its proximity to Pembroke State University, a cooperative program has been worked out which benefits both the university and the school. Under this program college students served as interns in the instructional program in the school. In this program college students serve as instructors in reading, music, health, physical education, special education and other areas under the supervision of their college professor. This method provides the prospective teacher with less education theory and more real life-school experience.

Plans are underway for the construction of a new elementary school. A site has already been purchased and committees organized to assist the architect in forming educational specifications for the new school.

The Pembroke Kiwanis Club sponsored in 1961 by the Lumberton Kiwanis Club, observed the 15th anniversary of its Chartering at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening.

President Bernard Lowry opened the meeting by introducing Tracy Ballou, Howard Coyle, and Sam McKinnon.
