Native American Studies program in local schools

Being an instructor for a native American Studies program (NAS) is one thing but finding people to co-operate with you to begin such a program is something different. That is exactly what the Community Services Program of Indian Education at LRDA is doing.

We have selected 5 schools to receive the services of one Native American Studies Coordinator for one day each week. He will provide instruction in Native American History and Culture. Each principal in his school will select, with the approval of the IEA Committee, a Trio Team.

The Trio Team will be composed of a teacher and student that will be receiving the services of the program and a parent. These people will be responsible for the overall outline of the NAS program. They will make a schedule of classes and will poll students, parents, and teachers as to which classes they prefer. (We have class outlines for 21 classes).

The five schools that have been chosen are Pembroke Elementary, Pembroke Junior High, Fairgrove, Prospect, and Oxendine Schools. Some schools have already begun class instruction and hopefully they will all begin within the next two or three weeks. The schools that have begun class instruction are Pembroke Junior High and Oxendine.

If you are interested in the program please contact the principal of your school, or your child's school to see what is being done.

For further information contact Ed Chavis or Henry W. Oxendine at 521-2401.

In Memory of Charles Oxendine

Darling, you left us four years ago, but we have never forgotten you. Your love still grows stronger in our home. You were a beautiful red rose in our home and life. No one can fill your place, no one can complete your dream. We loved you so dear, but God loved you most. So he took you on to heaven, and we will meet again just inside the Eastern Gate. We will reunite with a heart and arm full of love. We then will never have to part again. The children and I are looking forward to that day. We love you so, Dear.

Charles Oxendine departs this life November 8, 1972. Your wife, Fannie C. Oxendine Children: Linda, Ginger, Charles Nelson, Jimmy Ray Belinda Oxendine

Density Decreases
Atmospheric density decreases with height. For the first 50 miles outward, our atmosphere is pretty much constant. At 10 miles, it is only one-tenth as dense as at 10 miles, and so on.

Ms. Grace S. (Elmer Hunt Photo)

At the November meeting of the Pembroke Business and Professional Women's Club in Pembroke, members had an opportunity to hear Ms. Louise Sanderson, Probation-Parole Officer II for Robeson County discuss criminal offenses of women offenders as compared with men offenders.

Ms. Sanderson gave comparative statistics on men and women offenders, noting that often people do not realize that women offenders rate high in the same area as do men offenders. Women offenders are prevalent in the rank and field of offenses in the areas of drunken driving, assault, drugs, theft, shoplifting and murder. Ms. Sanderson also explained the type of in-depth and follow-up counseling necessary to assist women offenders including both individual and family counseling, and her work in serving as court counselor in the behalf of women offenders.

Other business at the Nov. meeting included an announcement by Ms. Dorothy L. Blue, Special Projects Chair person, of the statewide rally for Equal Rights Amendment to be held in Raleigh at Kerr Scott Pavilion at State Fair grounds on Saturday, Nov.

13th. Invitations have been extended to Senator Luther J. Britt, Jr. and Representatives Joy J. Johnson, Horace Locklear and David Parnell as guests of the Pembroke BPW Club at the statewide rally. The rally is being sponsored by the Women's Equity Action League (WEAL) and the North Carolinians United for ERA (NCUEERA). The Pembroke BPW Club has reserved a table for members and guests.

Ms. Mollye Britley was nominated and elected Secretary of the Club to replace Ms. Bertha M. Chavis who recently resigned as Club Secretary.

The Pembroke BPW Club will conduct a Christmas Service Project for the community which will be completed under the guidance of the Community Services Project Committee of which Ms. Elvira Locklear is Chairperson together with Ms. Ruth Tidwell and Ms. Sandy Baker.

Ricky Locklear honored as 'Player of the Week'

Ricky Locklear, formerly of Fairmont, was named the South Atlantic Conference defensive player of the week last week. Locklear was selected for the honor because of his performance in the Elon College vs. Gardner-Webb football game, when he recovered a fumble for a touchdown in Elon's 17-10 triumph. The Fighting Christians say that Locklear, who is 6'1" and 235 pounds, is their leading candidate on the defensive squad of All-American honors. Locklear is a senior at Elon and his brother Clint also plays on the defensive unit there. (C.E. McLaurin Photo)
