BAKED SPARERIBS
The leaves have begun their annual change to brilliant shades of red and gold. This signal of nature let's us know that cold weather will soon be on it's way. With cold weather approaching we know that hog-killing season is almost here. There aren't many meals that can surpass fresh pork, collard greens, and cornbread. For a new taste to an old idea, keep our recipe for baked spareribs in mind.
Send you recipes, along with your name and address to The Carolina Indian Voice.

Fairgrove School plans Book Fair

In observance of National Children's Book Week, the Fairgrove School Library Club will sponsor a student book fair and learning festival beginning Tuesday, Nov. 9th through Thursday, Nov. 12th in the High School Media Center. Students will be able to browse and purchase books. Books and learning games and toys will be on display in the high school media center and all classes will be scheduled for visitation.
Students, parents and visitors are invited to attend the book fair. The book fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to special activities and programs of the Fairgrove School Library Club.
The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges: wonderful books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interests will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books. Also on display will be educational learning toys and games for purchase to add new dimensions to learning experiences for students.
The book fair committee is comprised of student library assistants under the supervision of Ms. Ruth Dial Woods, School Media Specialist and Ms. Vivian C. Oxendine, School Media Aide. Club members include Shawanda Oxendine, Cynthia Hill, Stacy Lewis, Edith Hunt, Mable Jones, Ronnie Hunt, Michael Sampson, Geardline Maiden, Carolyn Lowry, Debbie Hunt, Esther Oxendine, and Diane Simpson.

Student hand-outs publicize the book fair-learning festival have been distributed for parents to learn about the book fair, and in promotion of National Children's Book Week, the Fairgrove School Library Club made NCWV badges for the faculty.
Proceeds from the project will be utilized to finance the club's attendance at the South eastern District Meeting of the North Carolina High School Library Association in Fayetteville on Nov. 18th at E. E. Smith High School where Michael Sampson, a member of the Fairgrove School Library Club, will preside as President of the Southeastern District. The Southeastern District is comprised of ten counties including: Hoke, Scotland, Cumberland, Sampson, Pender, New Hanover, Robeson, Brunswick, Columbus and Bladen Counties.

Fund Raising Planned at Fairgrove School

The annual fall fund-raising program will be held at Fairgrove School on Friday, November 19th. Special events will include a chicken plate sale beginning at 4:00 P. M. and continuing until 8:00 P. M. followed by a Variety Show featuring both elementary and high school talent performers. The highlight of the festivities will be the crowning of kings and queens for grades K-3; 4-8 and 9-12.
Special sales are being conducted daily as class kings and queens raise monies for the run-off to be held early in the week of November 15th.
Chicken plates will be on sale for $2.00 and tickets may be purchased in advance or plates may be purchased at the door.
The Variety Show is being coordinated by Ms. Maggie L. Mercer and Ms. Sandra Strickland of the Music Department.
The parents and visitors are cordially invited to participate in the events as scheduled.

33 PSU students named to Who's Who

Thirty-three PSU students have been named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."
Twenty-two of the students chosen are seniors and 11 are juniors.
"Who's Who" annually honors outstanding campus leaders for their scholastic and community achievements.
The selectees are recommended by the university administration, faculty and student body. "Who's Who" seeks to advance the cause of higher education by rewarding and recognizing individual academic excellence on a national level.
Personalized certificates will be sent to the selectees for presentation at graduation or another appropriate occasion during the year.
The students' names will also be presented in the 1976-77 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."
The 33 PSU students honored came from 18 different cities and towns with the Town of Pembroke leading the list with seven. Next are Fayetteville 4, Maxton 3, Lumberton 2, Laurinburg 2, Red Springs 2, and Rockingham 2. All but two of the students are natives of North Carolina.

CETA Enrollee receives permanent placement

Rose Jones, one of the many enrollees, has benefited from the work experience and training she received through the CETA program sponsored by Lumbee Regional Development Association, Inc.
Ms. Jones stated that she is very proud of the training and the opportunity to help supplement her family income, which seemed impossible before she was enrolled as a trainee.
After two years with the CETA program Ms. Jones has been permanently employed by Pembroke Elementary School. They feel that she will be asset to the school because of her willingness and ability to work with other people.
