PEMBROKE TOWN

COUNCIL MEETS

The Pembroke Town Council met briefly in open session then retired to executive session for more than an hour. No action was taken in executive session although an sl unidentified source intimated that the ctioning the demolition of the buildings without proof "in writing" as Councilman Sam Dial put it.

The matter was tabled and Town Manager McDuffie Cummings, the town attorneys, Dexter Brooks and Arnold Locklear, and building inspector Ray Hunt were instructed to confer, confirm that the owners had in 'deed been notified, recheck the legal mandates and report back to the board before taking any further action.

unidentified source intimated that the private session was taken up with rehashing "the missing funds' problem that has taken up a considerable amount of the council's time in the last few months. The meeting was held on Monday night To date, more than $20,000 has been labeled "unaccounted for" by auditors of the town's books. Former town clerk, Mrs. Maybelle Elk, has been indicted in the matter and is awaiting criminal action in superior court and a crivil suit that is in the works by the town's attorneys. Trial dates have not been set in either action. Town Manager McDuffie Cummings reported on the progress of the extensive work going on at Pine Street (including paving and curbing and guttering) and the renovation of the district court house recently approved by the general assembly. Cummings reported satisfactory progress on both matters. The board also talked forcefully about condemning buildings and possibly demolishing them and billing the owners. The board and Mayor Reggle Strickland heard a report from Inspector Ray Hunt concerning two buildings adjoining Pates Supply Men's Store on Railroad St. and another building site in the front yard of Mrs. Beatrice Bethea on Jones St. Ownership of the building adjoining Pates Supply was not confirmed.

Town Clerk Mrs. Ruby Smith gave the board a working copy of the financial report of the town and discussed tentative work sessions for the upcoming fiscal budget for 1977-78. Councilman Milton Hunt said, "we will need at least two work sessions to keep the time table of June 1 when the budget is supposed to be completed." The Pembroke Jaycees held their twelfth annual Installation Banquet on Saturday night, April 30 at the Jaycee Clubhouse. Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. Gerald Maynor, Director of Development and Public Affairs at Pembroke State University. Dr. Maynor was a charter member of the Pembroke Jaycees and reminisced for a few minutes on his days in the Jaycees and what it had meant to him. Before touching on it had meant to him. Before touching on the many projects hat the Jaycces work on each year and their importance to the community. Dr. Maynor also emphasized the importance of one's attitude and how it influences one's behavior and plays a very important role in the development of a person's character. An expected appearance by Bob Brewington in reference to the Pembroke Housing Authority did not take place although the matter was on the agenda. Brewington did not show up at the meeting.

Strike at the Wind cast announced

The cast for the outdoor drama, "Strike At The Wind!" has been chosen for the 1977 season according to General Manager Rock Kershaw and Director Arthur McDonald. "Strike At The Wind!" the story of the Lumbee Indians and their folk hero, Henry Berry Lowrie, is a permanent outdoor drama for this area. Cast in the show for the first time in the leading role as Henry Berry Lowrie is Melton Lowry, a 26-year-old descendent of the famous Indian leader. Lowrie's wife, Rhoda, will be played by 26 year-old Hope St. Pierre, a veteran performer from last year's show.

"Strike At The Wind!" premiered last year and was seen by over 18,000 persons in seven weeks. In a comparison f statistics released by the Institue of Outdoor Drama in Chapel Hill, the local production was themost successful new outdoor drama in the entire nation. According to Kershaw, over 400 ticket have already been sold for June 29th opening night this year, with over 25,000 persons expected this summer.

"Although last year's show was so successful, this year's show will be even better, " said Kershaw. "There will be better lighting and sound, more authentic costuming and the show will be tighter and faster moving, and of course, more experienced actors."

Returning actors from last year include Julian Ransom, Carnell Locklear; Lee Wiggins, Steve Pare; Justin Ransom; Isaiah Cummings; Dosey Chavis; Bruce Procter; Tom Cope; Robert Bryan; David Miller; Magdalene Lowry, Q.B. Cummings; Jeanette Oxendine; Adore Clark, Dora Chavis; and Steve Lowry.

Newcomers for this year's show are Vermie Dial; Wade Deese; Jean Bullard; Victor Lane; Thomas Edward; David Butler; Lizia Talyor; Lennar Lawson; Brenda Jacob; David Oxendine; Larry Oxendine; James Locklear; John Oxendine; Harvey Godwin; William Hayes; Rick Lomax; Patsy Cummings; Jean Bullard; Mildred Oxendine; Comie Mayon; Essie Locklear; Robin Sampson; Losia Sampson; Ann Marie Sampson; Kathryn Ransom; Barbara Ransom; Ramona Penia; Zenetta Brewington; Cochise Clark; David Malcoln; Robert Commings; Roderick Brewer; Pellon Clark; Frank Carter; Vinita Maynor; Frank Peni; Ursual Peni; Beverly Godfrey; Anna Godfrey; Madeline King; Kay Blue; Frieda Wiggins: Cassandra Stone; and Jerrie Clemons.

"We have a relatively short season confipared to most other shows," said Kers "but because our season is short, only seven weeks, the actors don't get tired of d the show so every night is filled with freshness and anticipation giving the audient exciting production."

"Strike At The Wind!" will play every Wednesday through Saturday, June 9 until August 13, at the Lakeside Amphitheatre at the Riverside Country Club three miles of Pembroke on Hwy 74. Showtimes will be at 8:30 p.m. and tickets are 33.50 for general seating and 54.00 for reserved, reservations can be made by calling 521-2401.

BRAVES CLOSE OUT SEASON ON LOSING NOTE

The Pembroke Braves began play in the ninth annual District 29 playoffs as if they might have found the magic formula that had cludd them all season last. Thursday, In first round action, the Braves toppled Campbell 7-3 for the third time this season. Steady Kenny Hedgpeth led them to victory with yeoman like work. The Braves were led at the noise by centerfielder. Tommy with yeoman like work. The Braves were led at the plate by centerfielder Tommy Lowry with two hits. Burlie Locklear, the Braves potent first baseman, delivered an RBA producing double.

But then Norfolk struck down the Braves..

Braves.. In spite of two run homer Burlie Locklear and another homer by Ted Craig, the Braves third baseman, Norfolk State shocked the Braves by winning 10-8 Friday night. With the Braves leading 8-4 in the bottom of the ninth, Norfolk State struck unexpectedly for six runs, including a grand slammer by Norfolk's fine catcher, Steve Graeff. Friday night, Atlantic Christian added the final crushing blow to the Braves by beating them convincingly 8-1 to eliminate the Braves from the playoffs, Atlantic Christian eventually won the District 29 playoffs by sweeping a double header from Norfolk State 9-4 and 12-10.

The Braves had an opportunity to regain some of their tarnished glory Sunday when they encountered High Point in play off games in the Carolinas Conference. But the season ended dismally as High Point triumped in both games 10-4 and 6-1. The Braves got homers from Burlie Locklear and Ted Craig in the first game but it was not enough. Locklear's homer was his 7th of the season. Craig's blast was his 4th homer of the season.

The two defeats erased any hopes PSU had to qualify for the Carolinas Conference tournament which opens Thursday at Salisbury- and ended the Braves baseball season. PSU winds up with a 16-21 record and a 3-8-1 mark in its first campaign in the Carolinas Conference.
