She has been involved in public education for approximately 37 years and has been president of the PSU Alumin Association. The plague to MacLean read: "We present this award as a token of our appreciation and gratitude for your outstanding service in the areas of business, education, the general welfare

Alumni Association recognizes your outstanding accomplishments as well as your being a good-will ambassadora-ti-arge. You represent the university well. We are extremely grateful for the contributions you are making and will continue to make to this great society in which we live. It is with pleasure that we honor you as our Distinguished Alumnus." MacLean, a '41 graduate of Davidson College and a '48 graduate of the University of North Carolina Law School, was mayor of Lumberton from 1949-53 and state senator from 1949-53 and state senator from 1949-53 and state senator from 1949-73 and state senator from 1949-73. The English E. Jones, chancellor of PSU, in making the presentation, told what a great friend macLean was to him while MacLean served in the Senate. "I had to go to Raleigh very often in those days, but I very seldom had to go to the Senate side of the Chamber or even worry about any particular appropriation. I knew what was going to happen to it as far as Pembroke State University," said Jones, referring to MacLean's dependability and faithfulness to PSU.

In his acceptance remarks, MacLean said it "was a privilege to introduce the bill that made PSU a university. But I really didn't think it was going to be what it is now—not that fast. This is now—in this short of time—a great university... and one that is recognized. It has a reputation of competence. I'm happy to have had a small part in trying to do something to add to that stature."

Mrs. Epps described the award "as the most significant mars. Epps described the award "as the most significant recognition I've ever received for two reasons: (1) the people who made the decision are part of this county and are associated with this community (her own people); and (2) because of my love for this Institution because of what it has meant to me in the past." She told of the days when Old Main housed both the high school and the Normal School. In the latter, students obtained a two-year diploma and thus a "B" teaching certificate. She carned her own 4-year degree and an "A" certificate in 1942 after returning to Pembroke

State.

"Had it not been for this institution, I'm sure that neither I nor any of my brothers and sisters would probably had anything beyond a high school education. Not because our parents were not interested, but because of money or lack of money. If we could have gotten the money, I don't know where we would have gone at that time — out of the state most likely because of the ethnic group which I'm a part of. So I have a tender spot in my beart for this institution. Most of us have had doors opened to us because of this institution and what it offered to us in preparation."

Also presented a plaque in recognition of his services to PSU was Bob Maxwell, Cafeterla manager at PSU who is being moved to a new area in a promotion by Saga Food Services. Wayne Bailey, alumni director, made the presentation.

Exodus 14:13 "And Moses said unto the people, fear not, stand still and see the salvation of the Lord which he will show you today."

DELIVERANCE THROUGH JESUS CHRIST

When Pharaoh drew near the children of Israel lifted up their eyes and saw "pharaoh coming and they began to cry unto Moses and said they wished they had stayed in the land of bondage and died. But God had afterady told Moses where to put the children of Israel that was between Migdol and the sea over against Ba'al-ze'phon. When Pharaoh saw the people he thought they were entangled in the land and the wilderness had them shut in. Pharaoh saw the people and again he went forth to capture them so God took the angel which was leading the Israel people. He put him behind so that the light of darkness would blind Pharaoh and his people. And they would cease to follow Moses and his people. This is where Moses ad also people. This is where Moses as ald so his people, its fixed still just your battle and ye may keep your peace. "Verse 14.

So many for today are like the children of Israel. We are on the run from one doctor to another, from one hospital to another If it is not one sickness, it is another. When we ask man to help all he can say is, "learn to live with it " 'If it were his sickness, he too would run to and fro. Praches today will say, "bear it. Learn to be like Paul or John." But then again, he doesn't have your pain and hurts. But I say as Moses, "Stand still and see the salvation of Jesus Christ."

The Bible tells me that God is a man of war and the Lord is his name. When the children of larael were following Moses, they came to water which was so bitter they could not drink it. And Moses cried unto God and God showed him a tree and told him to cast the tree in the water and the water became sweet. These people followed God and in his path they were led to water which was bitter.

There is no need for you to try and drink bitter water. There is no need to run to and fro. Jesus aid to ask and it shall be done. Where two or three are gathered n his name and agree and touch, to shall be given to them for Jesus in the midst of you.

men would praise the Lord.

The Bible tells of ten lepers who came to Jesus for healing. After he healed them all, only one returned to give hanks. Why don't you ask God for help then after you have asked, stand on his holy word and say, "God, I believe every word which came out of the mouth of your son Jesus and this day I claim healing in the name of Jesus," Then the gates of bronze will be broken. Doubt has been replaced by faith. Now wait for he will send his word. His word is his son Jesus and you shall be delivered from your sickness. He can do it. He is the same God that maketh the storm calm so that the waves thereof are still. Proverbs said when there was no depths, Jesus aid I was brough forth before the mountain were settled before the bills were God's son Jesus has always been. He even gave the sea its decree that the waters could not pass his commandment. Now you say you believe he can't still heal his people. God said I have loves those who love me and those who seek me early shall find me. Proverbs 8:17. Seek him and ye shall find him. The Bible tells of a season when an angel would go down to this place and trouble the water and whosoever was first to step in was made well. But there was one who was unable to get in until Jesus came by. The word tells me he was sick for 38 years. When Jesus came by and saw him lying there he knew he had been there a long time. How long have you waited for the moving of the water? Jeus has already said that he was the light of the world and as long as he is in the world he would be the light. Claim yours in the name of Chiest our Lord Jesus. Our Lord is a healer and a deliverer. Not only that he is the Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of the world. He is the fife and the life was the light of men. For this man Christ the very same was in the beginning with God and all things were made by him. So, ask and be delivered in the power of God Almighty.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: Karl Maiden claims he finds it impossible to get along with Richard Harch, his new Streets of San Francisco co-star, so he's considering quitting the series if ABC renews. "Richard and I have tried, really tried, but so far we haven't managed to get a good relationship going." reveals Maiden. "It's like a basketball team, I guess." he explains "You have a team working together for five years, and when suddenly-there's a new man, naturally it means a disruption. It's been difficult for him and difficult for me-1 don't know whether it shows on screen." It might. Ratings have plummeted since Hatch replaced Michael Douglis on the series. CHANGING CHANNELS: Dani Jansen has done it again. Lost David, that is, to Angie Dickinson, And, this time, there clearly is no chance for them to patch up their martial troubles. David, whose career is skyrocketing with a CBS-TV contract for several movies, a guarantee for a 1978 TV series, the promise of doing some directing and new exposure because the Fugitive just entered antional syndication, has escorted Angie to many Hollywood functions lately. Neither will talk about the relationship, but Jansen obviously has no thoughts of his wife on these ceasions. It's not from lack of trying on Dani's part, either. She did everything to make her short marriage to the tactitum David work. Yet, in less than 18 months, since they were wed in October 1975. Dani has twice seen David stomp out of their luxurious Century City apartment. Dani has lost the valiant battle she waged for months to keep her husband. From the start of their relationship more than five years ago, Dani has announced, "David is everything to me. He is the most marvelous, attractive man I've ever known. I love him completely, and all I want out of itie is to spend the rest of it with him."...When those flamboyant TV stars get together for their big bashes, the status symbol thee is a bottle of hard-to-get Izmira Imported Turkish Vodka with the "mysterious" flavor.... TV BACKSTAGE: Rumors around TV-land is that Erica Jong, whose hot novels are "How to Save Your Own Life," and "Fear of Flying" is being considered for a talk show spot with one of the major networks. My source told me: "she's open and quite outspoken about living with her lover and then she can shift into domestic chatter about her recipes or how her blends works with equal case." Now, here's a perfect combo for a talk-show ady!"....Imur Bacharach told us at his Each Norwick Inn, Long Island that the TV concert he did in Canada with the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra will be a network special in the U.S. in the early fall after it debuts on The Canadian Network...Ed McMann has switched to Hennessy VSOP...Fame has come to Abe Vigoda, an actor with the looks of a basset hound. Vigoda created the role of Detective Fish on the Barney Miller TV series and moved into the starring role in a Fish spon off. And the sad face Vigoda wears before the cameras is nowhere in evidence now as he talks about the delights of being an instant celebrity. "Take money to start with, he told me." I'went out and bought a 1977 Cadillac with cash. A Coupe de Ville! I couldn't ever do that before, pay cash for a new car. Character actors, which is what I've always been, even on Broadway, can't shell out a bundle for new cars. But now I can afford to be good to myself, and that's what I intend to be. Look," grinned Vigoda, ""Ill say it. I'm now a national figure. People recognize me everywhere, not just the people who knew me from doing Tessio in the Godfather, which was a real triumph because thousands of actors were tested for that film. Even Brando had to take a screen efest. Playing Fish on Barney Miller, that's what did it for me."... One of Dean Martin's stars, Foster Brooks, who's made a career of being inebriated athough he doesn't drink (then how come he knows how to do the character so well) has informed Cassar's Palace in Las Vegas that he'll defend his championship in Sciarada, the new Italian Li

INSIDE THE TUBE: Happy Days is driving Ron Howard and wife Cheryl apart, and he may have to quit the top-rated show for his marriage to survive. "My wife wants me to quit Happy Days sometimes," admits Ron. "She thinks I'm too young to be wrapped up in one thing. That's why I've canceled other projects. I take time to be with Cheryl, to reassure her. But I have been thinking about letting my contract expire when it runs out. Then Henry (Winkler) can take over the show. I'm stirche could do it. Maybe by then I could turn to directing and reture to behind the camera. I've been in front of it all my life, and now I'd like a new perspective. My wife would prefer that, too. Hollywood is a very corrupting town," sighs Howard. "There are lots of actors who seem to be happily married but are secretly running around. I'm not one of them. My wife keeps me completely happy, and I look on marriage as something to respect. Still, the show has been coming between us lately."...
