Five Generations Gather

Mrs. Emma Collins of Route 3, Maxton recently had as her guests her fifth generation. The fifth generation of Mrs. Collins is pictured above. They are, left to right: Mrs. Emma Collins; her daughter, Mrs. Sally Clark; Mrs. Clark's daughter, Mrs. Eggle Mae Blue; Mrs. Blue's daughter, Mrs. Veronica Jane McGill; and Mrs. McGill's daughter, Chastity McGill.

Indian Cottage Involves Many

Purnell Sweet

Now that school is out, the superintendent would like to see educators support the Indian cottage in other ways. "If teachers feel they want to make further contributions to making the cottage a reality," Sweet said, "this summer is a perfect opportunity to volunteer time and labor. We need carpenters, masonry people, unskilled labor. All they have to do is let their services be known."

The 43-year-old administrator received a B.S. degree from Pembroke State University in 1957. He earned an M.A. degree in school administration from Western Carolina University. Currently he is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Pembroke State University. He is also chairman of the state and federal relations committee of North Carolina's Educators Association (NCEA) Division of Superintendents. This committee functions as a liaison between state and federal government officials, using letters to educate NC congressmen about national bills pending that affect the NC school system.

"I think our campaign has been successful," Sweet commented. "The important thing is getting people to fully understand and see that our approach at Odum Home is different from the public concept of a children's home. For example, we keep brothers and sisters together whenever possible."

The superintendent and wife Annette have two children.
